BOSTON, June 15.—The Commercial Bulletin tomorrow will say:

"Business is slower in all branches of the wool textile industry. Prices have remained very firm, however, both here and abroad, for the most part, although Merino tops in Bradford are possibly a shade easier. The East India sales at Liverpool, however, have been steady and the new clip season in England is opening very strong.

"The manufacturing in this market is quiet but the advent of better weather conditions is expected to bring about improvement.

"In the west new clip operations have slowed appreciably and some wool is being taken here and there at slightly lower clean landed costs.

"Mohair is still quiet here. America is buying some hair at Constantinople at firm rates."

The Commercial Bulletin will publish the following wool quotations tomorrow:

SCOURED BASIS: Oregon—Fine and F. M. staple $1.15@1.18; fine and F. M. clothing $1.00@1.05; Valley No. 1, $1.08@1.10.

MOHAIRS: Original bag averages 12 months Oregon 70@72c.

Graded stock: First comeing 85@95c; good carding 55@60c.

Jesse H. Jones Power of Own Making

Favorite Son of Texas, Who Won Democratic Convention For Houston, Began Career as Laborer and Today, at 54, Owns Daily Newspaper and 29 Blocks in Home City—Party's Financier.

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

HOUSTON, June 15.—Jesse H. Jones, mule driver extraordinary, is recommended by Texas democrats for the job of riding the donkey in the presidential derby next November.

When democrats of the nation come to Houston June 26 to select a jockey their Texas hosts will suggest the right man can be found in this city.

It was Jesse Jones who won the national convention for Houston, and it was he who built in less than 90 days the huge new hall in which the delegates will assemble. These two things he achieved in the spirit he drove mules on his father's farm in Tennessee.

Only two mules were driven by Jones in his boyhood, and for only half a day at that. But in that time he plowed a field which the same mules with another driver had never been able to cover in less than two days.

Began in Poverty

Jesse Jones still was a boy when his father died, leaving the farm to three daughters and bequeathing $2,000 to each of two sons. The boys gave the money to their sisters to clear the morigage on the farm and set out almost penniless on their careers.

At 20 Jesse got a job as a laborer in a lumber yard at Dallas. He worked in the same spirit he drove mules and he became manager of the yard at 21. Three years later he was general manager of the company. Then he organized a lumber company of his own, making it the largest in the southwest.

The lumber business led him into building enterprises. The boy who in half a day became an extraordinary mule driver needed only a few years to become a master builder. In Houston alone he has built and now owns 29 buildings, among them the Rice hotel, the largest hostlery in the south.

She's Miss Pennsylvania!

Yes, sir, you'll have to break down and confess that the judges in the beauty contest at Philadelphia couldn't have done a better job. For here is the girl they selected from among hundreds of beauties who sought the honor of representing Pennsylvania in the International pageant of pulchritude at Galveston, Texas. She is Anna Dubin, 18-year-old high school student of Philadelphia.

ED YOUNG CHOSEN HEAD REPUUBICAN CO. COMMITTEE

The republican county central committee held an organization meeting yesterday afternoon with a large attendance of the members. A great deal of enthusiasm was shown in the party's activities and the members of the committee are preparing to put forth a great deal of effort during the coming months in the behalf of the party. Ed Young of Oakland was re-elected chairman; George Bacon, secretary; Royce Busenbark, treasurer; E. B. Stewart, state committee man; and H. O. Pargeter, congressional committeemen. These officers will appoint three other party workers to complete the executive committee. Plans were discussed for the work of the coming months and it is evident from the interest shown that there will be the most vigorous effort put forth that has marked any recent pre-election campaign.

LONG BELL FIRM WINS SUIT OVER CITY'S CREATION

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., June 15.—Activities of the Long Bell Lumber company in the development of the townsite of Longview, Wash., was upheld by Fred L. Williams, special commissioner of the Missouri Supreme court, in his report and recommendations in the ouster suit filed against the company by Attorney General N. T. Gentry in December, 1926. Williams' report recommended the attorney general's application be denied and that the Supreme court find judgment in favor of the lumber company.
