From the Statesman Extra.

Difficulty between Gen. Lane and Ex-Gov. Gaines.

DALLAS, Polk County, May 21.

EDITOR OF THE STATESMAN:—There came very near being a serious difficulty between Gen. Lane and Gaines, here this afternoon, between 4 and 5 o'clock. It arose as follows: Rolse, in addressing the people, referred to Gaines' surrender at Encarnation, and his escape in violation of his parole of honor, and read an extract from C. M. Clay's letter impliedly censuring Gaines for the manner of his escape. Gaines replied in very abusive and aggravating language. Gen. Lane then spoke; he quoted Gen. Worth's report to Major Bliss, in which Worth makes signifi cant mention of the fact that Gaines surrendered without firing a shot, and Gen. Taylor's remark that he "would have fought a little, anyhow." Gaines, in reply, said what Lane had stated was a malicious falsehood. Lane ejaculated, you are a liar, at the same time rising to his feet. Two men instantly grasped him about the arms and chest, and held him firmly, while others rushed before him. While Lane was thus held Gaines struck at him without in any manner touching him. All the Know Nothings present instantly gave the distress alarm, (the cry given when one of their members is in difficulty,) and rushing up hurried Gaines out of harms way. Gen. Lane told them to leave Gaines there and they would settle the difficulty on the spot. While Gaines was being hauled off (very willingly) from the crowd, on seeing Nesmith, he asked him if the "democracy of his damned county was going to murder him."

Gen. Lane behaved with coolness and dignity throughout the affair, and regretted its occurrence. His eyes flashed anger at the conduct of Gaines in striking at him while he was held, and he struggled hard to disengage himself and reach Gaines; and if he had succeeded in doing so, Gaines would have paid dearly for that act. Gaines was very much excited and boisterously profane. He is extremely petulant and ill natured, and daily gets more so as the canvass progresses.

There were a large number of Know nothings here from Yamhill and Marion counties. In haste, yours.

THE SACRAMENTO AND PIT RIVER COUNTRY.—Mr. W. H. Rush, returned from a prospecting trip of a month in that section of the country. The mountains in that part of the country are full of men prospecting and it is thought that a vast amount of good diggings will be found.

On the Sacramento, Mr. R. says there is an extent of some forty miles, nearly all of the bars of which, he thinks will pay at least $5 per day. Water can be got on all of these bars at a comparative small expense, either from the mouth of streams or by means of wheels from the river. Mr. R. returned on Monday with a large party prepared to go to work. An other large party left on the Saturday previous.

The commencement of the paying part of this country is at the Soda Springs about 40 miles distant from Yreka, to which place there is already a natural wagon road. From this place down the Sacramento is the country above spoken of as containing plenty of $5 diggings.

Mr. R, expresses every confidence that there will be a population of at least 500 in this district within a short time, and that there is excellent opening for trading posts, blacksmith shops, expressmen, &c.

Many of the men that are prospecting in that part of the country just look over the ground without ever sticking a pick or washing a pan of dirt.

There is too much water on the McCloud River to prospect at present.—Yreka Herald.

SHOCKING TRAGEDY IN MISSOURI—SEVEN PERSONS KILLED.—The Gazette, published at Troy, Mo., relates a shocking tragedy, said to have occurred in Monroe County, in that state recently. According to the Gazette's story—which reads as if it might not be true—a gentleman sold his farm for $20,000, deposited it in the house with his family, and left home on business. During his absence he stopped a night at a house three miles from his own, and while asleep, dreamed twice that his family were supplicating for help. He got up, dressed himself, and in company with a German, started for his own house.

The two in a short time came to the house in which a light was discovered. This unfavorable omen at that hour of the night (it being about 3 o'clock) confirmed the husband's worst surpicions. They approached the house, and looking through a window, saw five men all surrounding a table, busily engaged in counting and dividing the money which they had secured. The first impulse of the enraged husband was to give an alarm, but the German, who deserves unbounded approbation for the very successful manner in which he managed the affair, bade the man be silent. He then instructed him to go to the back door and knock, upon which the robbers would attempt to make their escape out of the one at which he (the German) was stationed.

The man accordingly made an alarm at the back door, upon which the midnight robbers endeavored to make their escape. Right manfully did the German maintain his position, while with a revolver he killed four of the robbers and wounded the fifth, who was afterwards secured. Would that this were the only bloody spectacle which presented itself at that dead hour of the night. The most heart-rending part remains untold. A wife and two or three children had been butchered, and lay weltering in pools of blood. The feelings of a husband & father can better be imagined than described, as he beheld this horrid spectacle. The wounded man having been secured, made a full confession, in which he stated that an organized band of robbers was in the county, and that the ringleader lived in Lincoln or Pike counties.

NO DOUBT.—"You look like death on a pale horse," said a gentleman to a toper who was pale and emaciated. "I don't know anything about that," said the toper, "but I'm death on pale brandy."

☞ "Sal," said one gal to another, "I am so glad I have no beau, now."

"Why so?" asked the other.

"Oh, 'cause I can eat as many onions as I please."

☞ The meetings which were called in last week's paper, at the instance of Dr. Drew, was not attended to in consequence of his inability to get here in time.

Godey's Lady's Book for 1855.

Twenty-fifth year of Publication by the same Publisher.

The only Lady's Book acknowleded by the Ladies of this county as worthy of its name.

Principal Points of Attraction for 1855.

It contains one hundred pages of reading in every month's number, not beginning with a large number of pages in January, and decreasing throughout the year.

BEAUTIFUL STEEL PLATES,

Line or Mezzotints in every number.

Godey's reliable STEEL FASHION PLATES [colored] in every number—the only fashion plates that are considered as authority.

Knitting, Netting and Embroidering printed in colors.

MUSIC—Two pages monthly.

Easy lessons in drawing are given monthly.

Godey's invaluable receipts, worth alone three dollars a year—for cooking, the toilet, sick room, nursery, and miscellaneous house-keeping receipts.

Diagrams and Plans, with full directions for Ladies to cut their own dresses.

Patterns for childerns dresses, both male and female.

Embroidery and broderie Anglaise patterns every month—in great variety.

THE NURSERY—This department is invaluable to every mother.

MODEL COTTAGES.

Great attention paid to this department.

TEFDER their thanks to their numerous customers for their past liberal patronage, and solicit a continuance of the same. They take pleasure in informing the public that the have on hand a large and desirable stock of Dry Goods and Groceries, to which they are making constant addition and are enabled to sell at low rates as any other store in Scottsburg. One of the partners residing at San Francisco, and in constant attendance on the markets, we thus have increased facilities for making purchases at the lowest rates as well as selecting the best and most suitable articles.

INDIAN RESERVATION.

NOTICE is hereby given, that I have designated as an Indian Reservation for the Coast and Willamette Tribes, and such others as may hereafter be located thereon, the following described district of country; to wit:

Beginning on the shore of the Pacific Ocean, at the mouth of a small stream about midway between the Umpqua and Siuslaw Rivers; thence easterly to the ridge dividing the waters of these streams, and along said ridge on high land to the western boundary of the eighth range of townships west of the Willamette meredian; thence north on said boundary to a point due east of Cape Lookout; thence west to the Ocean; and thence along the place of beginning.

The tract described presents few attractions to the white settler, while it is believed to be better adapted for the colonization of the Indians than any other portion of Territory west of the Cascade mountans affording so few facilities of settlement to our citizens.

The object of this notice is to inform the public that this reservation will not be subject to settlement by whites.

Sup. Indian Affairs.
