Colds Cause Pneumonia.

One of the most remarkable cases of a cold, deep-seated on the lungs, causing pneumonia, is that of Mrs. Gertrude E. Fenner, Marion, Ind., who was entirely cured by the use of One Minute Cough Cure. She says: "The coughing and straining so weakened me that I ran down in weight from 148 to 92 pounds. I tried a number of remedies to no avail until I used One Minute Cough Cure. Four bottles of this wonderful remedy cured me entirely of the cough, strengthened my lungs and restored me to my normal weight, health and strength." Sold by Fullerton & Richardson, Roseburg.

Monday morning Archie Archambeau rode one of J. F. Smith's horses to water at the ford near the county bridge crossing the Calapooia near the grist mill, and in some manner both horses and rider got into the current. Young Archambeau hung on to some friendly willows and was rescued by Russell Butler who came to the rescue and swam ashore with a very cold and nearly drowned young man. The horse was finally brought to shore without serious injury. Mr. Butler's act of bravery is certainly commendable.—Owl.

Since Civil War

Veteran Tells of the Suffering he Went Through.

The story related below was recently called to our attention and seems of sufficient interest to warrant speedy publication:

G. W. Bennett, of Fowler street, near the creek, a well-known veteran member of 11 Iowa Reg. Co. I, Inf., says: "If kidney complaint affects everyone as it did me there is little wonder that the sufferer is constantly complaining and continually on the outlook for something to bring him relief. I was annoyed more or less with kidney trouble ever since I left the army in 1865. I suffered everything from steady dull aching to excrutiating twinges across the small of my back. I had to move around very carefully trying to avoid pain, for a false step or awkward movement brought punishment. The secretions from the kidneys were in a terrible condition, dark in color, smelled very strong and after standing a short time possessed a heavy brick dust sediment. I was for eight months under treatment for my kidneys, but nothing gave me any permanent relief until I commenced using Doan's Kidney Pills, getting them at A. C. Marsters & Co's. drug store. The first box so greatly benefitted me that I followed up the treatment by using three boxes. They practically cured me. I am 88 years old and can hardly expect to be cured completely, but when a remedy will bring such relief to a person of my age and in a case of so long standing what will it do in ordinary cases. I might add that before I began the use of Doan's Kidney Pills I was so badly affected with dizzy spells that often when walking up town I have had to stop and lean up against something for support. I keep Doan's Kidney Pills on hand all the time and every now and again when I think my kidneys or back need a little toning up I take a few doses. I recommend this remedy strongly."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster Milburn Co. Buffalo N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name Doan's and take no substitute.

"Down By The Sea"

The Tacoma Daily News says: "Down by the Sea" was a pleasing change from the melodramas of the past week at the Lyceum, and the two large audiences by which the play was received were well deserved. The actors presenting the interesting drama are well suited to their parts, and their good work was well appreciated. Some good comedy work is introduced by Jerrie Herzell, who could not be improved upon in the role of Abe Elson. His rendition of "There Are Thirgs That Cannot Be Explained" was immense, and the audience gave him several encores. As Joel Haynes, Charles H. Sanders gave a fine bit of character work. His song of "A Hot Time" with local applications, kept the audience in laughter, and he received eight encores. Miss Fannie Curtis as Blanche Preston did very good work. "Down by the Sea" deserves good patronage. At Roseburg Opera House Monday, March 14, 1904.

More Riots.

Disturbances of strikers are not nearly as grave as an individual disorder of the system. Overwork, loss of sleep, nervous tension will be followed by utter collapse, unless a reliable remedy is immediately employed. There's nothing so efficient to cure disorders of the Liver and Kidneys as Electric Bitters. It's a wonderful tonic, an effective nervine and the greatest all around medicine for run down systems. It dispels Nervousness, Rheumatism and Neuralgia and expels Malaria germs.

Only 50c, and satisfaction guaranteed by A. C. Marsters & Co., Druggists, Roseburg, Oregon.

POINTS FOR SMOKERS.

How to Use Tobacco Without Injuring Your Health.

Smoking, according to Dr. Caze, a well known French physician, is not an injurious but a healthful habit. However, you must smoke in the proper way and according to rules. There are eight of the latter enumerated by the doctor.

The first two apply to cigars. The latter must be, in the first place, mild, and, secondly, good.

The third rule is always to throw away your cigar when half finished and your cigarette when nearing the end.

The fourth states that neither a cigar nor a cigarette, if it has gone out, must be lighted a second time.

The other rules are:

Never remain in a cloud of smoke, never chew the end of a cigar or cigarette, use a holder lined with cotton wool to absorb the nicotine, and at home smoke a pipe with a long stem or preferably a nargile.

All these rules being duly observed, you may smoke absolutely as much as you like, and Dr. Caze says that it will not only do you no harm, but may do you good.

How to Take Iron Mold Out of Linen.

Oxalic acid is universally used by manufacturers. The stained part is stretched over a bowl of hot water, into which it is allowed to dip. A few crystals of the acid are placed on the stain and rubbed with a small bone implement. The stain disappears, and the fabric must then be thoroughly washed in clean water to remove the acid.

How to Make a Campfire.

An absurd and reprehensibly destructive practice is the building of fires beneath a tree "in order to get the draft," says a writer in the Springfield Republican. The fools that do this kill great trees for nothing but a campfire. There is no sense in that wretched practice. A fire for camp cooking should be built in the open, and nothing is easier. A bare rock is the best place, and if you are to cook by it put up a barrier of loose stone just extensive enough to make a fire as large as a kitchen stove would hold, put a flat stone over these walls, and you have all you want. You can fry bacon and your corn cakes and boil your coffee on that stone. This is as good for winter as for summer. And if you want a hot old campfire clear a space of all combustibles and begin small, gradually adding a stick or two, and the heat beneath will soon grow so strong that you can keep it up for as many hours as you please. But be sure that you let it get down to the ashes before you leave. Nobody knows what may happen after you leave a blazing fire.

How to Cure Hiccoughs.

When troubled with hiccoughs take a small piece of sugar and allow it to dissolve very slowly in the mouth or drink water very slowly. Another remedy is to have some one locate the pulse. The person afflicted should then take a very deep breath, holding it as long as possible, the other to keep a steady pressure with the fingers upon the pulse.

How to Evade Grip.

"The so called epidemics of grip which usually appear every winter," said a well known physician, "are more imaginary than real. This troublesome disease shows a marked increase immediately after a fall of snow. This is entirely due to peculiar atmospheric conditions, which follow a snowfall and which affect the bronchial system in such a way as to bring about the unpleasant grip. After an unusually severe snowstorm a number of years ago I had as many as eighty calls a day, all pure cases of the grip. It is the day after the snowfall that one must take the necessary precautions to evade the disease."

How to Clean Velvet.

To raise the pile on velvet or plush hold the wrong side over steam arising from boiling water until the pile rises. Grease may be taken out of velvet by a little turpentine poured over the spot then rub briskly with a piece of dry flannel. Repeat the operation if necessary and hang the article in the air.

How to Make Horseradish Sauce.

Horseradish sauce is to be served hot with roast beef. Mix together in the order given the following ingredients: Four tablespoonfuls of grated horseradish, four tablespoonfuls of powdered crackers, one-half of a cupful of cream, one teaspoonful of powdered sugar, one teaspoonful of salt, one-half of a saltspoonful of pepper, one teaspoonful of made mustard and two teaspoonfuls of vinegar. When all the materials have been thoroughly mixed beat them very hot over boiling water.
