Miles of Rabbits.

A statistical minded sportsman from Ohio figures that if all the rabbits killed during 1939 in the Buckeye state were laid end to end, they would reach from Akron to El Paso, Texas. The gentleman figures that 4,600,000 rabbits were shot and they would fill 138 fifty-ton freight cars.

On the barren islands of Aran, off the Irish coast, potatoes are grown in soil carried by the natives in baskets and dumped into the crevices between rocks.

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, the unregulated use of certain forest areas is, in my judgment, a menace to life and property on account of the huge fire hazard caused by an excessive number of snags and inflammable debris on the ground due to logging operations and old burns, and

WHEREAS, upon the showing of the State Forester, it appears to me to be necessary to close to unregulated use the following area designated as:
