FOURTH COMPANY WANTS THREE MEN

If You Want to Serve Your Country Here Is a Good Chance.

GOOD BUNCH OF BOYS

Now Compose the Company and They Are Anxious to Fill Vacancies With Douglas County "Stock."

(By Chas. Stanton.)

Are there three, healtny, patriotic, unmarried young men in Douglas county? If so they are needed in the 4th company, Oregon coast artillery, the leading company of the corps, an organization in which a young man may become benefitted in health and at the same time receive a course of training which will be a valuable asset throughout a life time. There are many branches of the army and navy in which a young man may enlist for the service of his country, but none which will be of greater value to himself or to his government than in the coast artillery. The Oregon coast artillery, especially, is one of the finest organizations with which to be associated as it is recruited from the finest homes in the state. The young men who wear the Oregon collar ornaments have left the colleges, the professional pursuits, the farms and have combined for the one purpose of aiding in the war against autocracy.

What is true of the corps in aggregate is true of each company individually and there is no finer place in which to enlist than in one of them. The 4th company is composed of 107 physically perfect, healthy minded young men all from Douglas county. Because several of them had particular training better fitting them for more specific branches of service, they have been taken from the company and have been put into the lines of work for which they are the better fitted. This leaves the company with three vacancies which it is desired to fill at once. It would be a very simple matter to fill these places with volunteers from other places or from the drafted army, but it is more desired to have men from Douglas county. Men from the same communities, with the same high standards and ability as those who are already in the field and for this reason an appeal is now being made for these men to offer themselves.

The advantages of the coast artillery are many. The organizations are nearly always stationed at some healthful coast station, in comfortable quarters, with many items of equipment which are impracticable to the men in the field and which add greatly to the comforts of army life. Being situated in permanent barracks usually near some important city or town with railroad or at least good highway connections, it is possible to obtain food almost as good as that furnished at home, while it is always possible when tired of camp monotony to go to the city for a few hours for recreation. In fact being in permanent quarters is a wonderful advantage as it gives an opportunity to provide suitable places to carry on athletic contests, such as football fields and baseball diamonds as wel las the erection of buildings for the purpose of installing gymnasium apparatus, etc., as well as the many other comforts such as may be imagined when it comes to a comparison between buildings erected in a substantial manner and being moved about and forced to quarter in open field tents.

Another great advantage that the coast artillery has is the training which is received in carrying out its duties. The men receive a general knowledge of mechanics, through handling the guns and in studying the other mechanisms necessary to carry on the work of a coast defense station. Signalling, first aid and many other such lines are taught so that the knowledge so derived will be of untold benefit throughout the entire life of the soldier.

If there are any young men in Douglas county who desire to enlist in the 4th company, Oregon coast artillery, they can receive all the information they desire by writing to Capt. J. A. Buchanan, 4th Co. O. C. A., Fort Stevens, Oregon.

431,000 MEN ARE IN NATIONAL ARMY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—More than 431,000 of the new national army either are under training or have been ordered to the cantonments.

In making public these figures today Secretary Baker said that the shipments of clothing to the camps is keeping pace with the arrival of the new troops. Up to October 2, the day before the second increment of drafted men was ordered out, nearly 13,000,000,000 articles of wearing apparel and sleeping equipment had been sent to the cantonments and shipments are being made daily.

Camp Funston in Kansas has the greatest quota of men of any of the camps, its number being 39,533. Camp Lewis, in Washington state, is second with 39,171, and Camp Devens, Massachusetts, third with 33,098. Camp Custer, Mich., has the smallest number, 16,193.

Articles sent to cantonments for the new men include 1,102,390 blankets, 422,346 bed sacks, 436,749 cotton breeches, 259,805 woolen breeches, 267,579 cotton coats, 264,728 woolen coats, 289,713 overcoats, 4,002,856 pieces of underclothing and 397,734 pairs of shoes.

All this material was made in this country and the quartermaster department of the army announces that deliveries have been made that seemed impossible. The industries have been completely mobilized for the big task of supplying the regular and national armies and the national guard.

Miss Pearl Rover returned last night to Dillard after a day in Roseburg shopping.

Glass of Hot Water Before Breakfast a Splendid Habit

Open sluices of the system each morning and wash away the poisonous, stagnant matter.

Those of us who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when we arise; splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, lame back, can, instead, both look and feel as fresh as a daisy always by washing the poisons and toxins from the body with phosphated hot water each morning.

We should drink, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to flush from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract before putting more food into the stomach.

The action of limestone phosphate and hot water on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast and it is said to be but a little while until the roses begin to appear in the cheeks. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will cost very little at the drug store, but is sufficient to make anyone who is bothered with biliousness, constipation, stomach trouble or rheumatism a real enthusiast on the subject of internal sanitation. Try it and you are assured that you will look better and feel better in every way shortly.

WHAT IS YOUR INCOME? FIGURE YOUR WAR TAX

What is your income? Are you married or single? These questions figure in the amount of income war tax you have to pay under the new law just passed by congress.

The new income taxes passed in the war revenue bill, joined with the existing income taxes, are shown by a treasury expert to apply as follows, the taxes in each case being for incomes over the amount specified in the first column:

Annual Income.	Married Man's Tax	Single Man's Tax
$ 1,000	$ —	$ —
2,000	—	20
3,000	20	40
4,000	40	80
5,000	80	120
6,000	120	170
7,000	180	220
8,000	235	275
9,000	295	335
10,000	355	395
11,000	425	465
12,000	495	535
13,000	570	610
14,000	650	690
15,000	730	770
16,000	810	870
17,000	930	970
18,000	1030	1070
19,000	1130	1170
20,000	1230	1270

The table goes on up to incomes of $10,000,000. The tax on that sum for married men would be $6,490,430 and for single men, $6,490,170.

TO HIM WHO LIVED BELOW.

Since coming from the other place,
And living here in spite of man,
Your one desire has been for war
And to prepare has been your plan.

Your spies you sent to other lands,
Till secrets of defense were known,
And then on nations unprepared,
Great armies, you had trained, were thrown.

And now where march your countless troops,
With ruins all the land is strown,
And for the crime of starting war
Forever shall your fame be known.

Non o'er your lines avenging hosts
Are sweeping onward from afar;
Your empire shall before them fall,
And you shall answer for this war.

To conquer and possess the world
Was your ambition and design
Before you took on human form
And came to dwell beside the Rhine.

A NEWSPAPER'S DUTY TO YOU

YOUR principal sources of information concerning men and events is the daily press. Even so-called "original" articles in magazines have their origin among sources available to newspapers, and in many cases are simply dressed-up compliments culled from press reports.

Reputable newspapers long since recognized that they have an extremely responsibile duty to the public—of which you are one. It is the newspaper's duty to give you the truth without prejudice, and without sacrificing facts for the sake of sensationalism. The Evening News makes every effort to present the news accurately and without bias. It is the only afternoon newspaper in Roseburg that prints Associated press dispatches.
