ANSWER IN EJECTMENT ACTION FILED TODAY; COMPLAINT IS DENIED

Attorney Carl E. Wimberly, of the firm of Attorneys Neuner & Wimberly, late this afternoon filed an answer to the plaintiffs cross complaint in the case of Thomas and William Hodgson vs. James Curtain.

The action originated several weeks ago, when Mr. Curtain instituted proceedings in the justice court at Myrtle Creek to have the Hodgson brothers ejected from a small tract of land situated in the vicinity of Dark Fork. An answer to this complaint was filed by Attorney Albert Abraham, of counsel for the defense, in which it was set out that the Hodgson brothers had an agreement with Mr. Curtain whereby they were to have the land in exchange for the latter's keeping.

Before the proceedings came to an issue, the Hodgson brothers filed a cross-complaint in the Circuit Court in which they attempted to bar prosecution of the previous action. Attorney Wimberly filed an answer to this complaint this afternoon. In his answer, Mr. Curtain stated that during the year 1912, he entered into negotiations for leasing his land to Thomas Hodgson, but that the deal was never closed. In lieu of this proceeding, Mr. Curtain said he prepared a will in which he bequeathed his property to Mr. Hodgson at the time of his death. This will, he said, he understood was revokable at any time. Soon after the will was prepared, Mr. Curtain claims Thomas Hodgson was joined by his brother, William Hodgson, wife and three children. Mr. Curtain said he remained at the home of the defendants until conditions became unbearable. When he complained of his treatment, he said Hodgson remarked: "If you don't like it, get the h— out of here." Mr. Curtain alleges that Hodgson's family are filthy, that the food prepared for him was unwholesome, and that other conditions there were not to his liking. When he could stand it no longer he said he left the premises and has since remained away.

Mr. Curtain asks that the plaintiff's complaint be dismissed and that he be awarded the costs of the prosecution.

ARMY OFFICER ARRIVES TODAY FOR ANNUAL INSPECTION HERE TONIGHT

Lieut. Col. P. H. Kessler, of the United States Army, stationed at Seattle, arrived here this afternoon from Southern Oregon and will this evening conduct the annual inspection of the local hospital detachment and the Fourth Company, Coast Artillery.

According to the officers, tonight's inspection will be the first annual affair of the kind here since the enactment of the new Federal law increasing the efficiency of the army. In addition to inspecting the men and the drill work, the visiting officer will go over the equipment at the armory and look after the general efficiency of the local troops based upon their readiness to undertake actual service. The inspection will be strict in every way and will thoroughly test the strength of the troops, as is intended by the new laws.

After inspecting both detachments Col. Kessler will probably leave tonight for Cottage Grove. He has charge of all the inspection in Oregon.

BONDS ARE AUTHORIZED.

The members of the city council today authorized City Recorder R. J. Whipple to issue bonds in the sum of $1621 to cover the cost of the improvement of Spring street. The bonds were issued today, according to the officers.

POTATOES ARE HIGH.

C. R. Johns sold 200 sacks of potatoes last week for $2.75 per hundred, says the Glendale News. A few other Cow Creekers also sold their "spuds" at that price, but some are holding out for $3 a hundred.

VISIT AT GLENDALE.

W. H. Redfield and son, Martin, came down from their ranch last Monday in their new Ford, says the Glendale News. They met Mr. and Mrs. Jas Overton, of Portland, and wife arrived on the 1 o'clock train, and took them up to the ranch. Mrs. Overton is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Redfield.

BOY WAS INJURED.

While playing with an axe last Tuesday one of the small sons of John Hemmell struck his brother on the head and inflicted a severe but not dangerous scalp wound, which required the services of a doctor to mend, says the Myrtle Creek Mail.

POPULAR LINEMAN WAS NEARLY ELECTROCUTED REPAIRING WIRES TODAY

Sam Black, lineman for the local water and light company, and one of the most popular men of this city, today experienced probably his closest call to electrocution, when he accidentally stepped from the "mat" on which he was working while repairing fallen lines about the city, caused by the heavy fall of snow. But for the presence of persons near at hand at the time of the accident, the lineman would probably have been seriously burned. It is not believed, however, that the current was strong enough to have caused death, although the pavement was wet and the consequences are therefore uncertain. Black was working with a loose end of a fallen wire and when he stepped to the pavement the wire immediately wrapped itself around him. He was in extreme difficulty until his plight was discovered by other persons on the street, and several men running to his assistance finally managed to secure his release.

About ten breaks in the lines were reported at the office of the company, but had been repaired early this afternoon. All of these were in the residence district and were not of high voltage. Other lines were reported down near the depot, these being the heavy copper wires recently installed by the Western Union Company. For several hours the local office was disconnected, but repairs were speedily made and the lines were reported in serviceable condition early this afternoon.

BASKETBALL TEAM TO PLAY ASHLAND BOYS NEXT SATURDAY NIGHT

The Roseburg High School basketball team, generally acknowledged to rank as the best high school team on the occasion of the visit of that fast Eastern team to Oregon last month, will play the Ashland armory team Saturday night of this week, and the largest crowd of the season is anticipated, says the Ashland Tidings. The soldier boys have settled down to a week of hard practice and are determined to win from the fast visitors. A fast preliminary will be arranged to start at 7:30.

The Ashland armory floor is the best basketball floor in Southern Oregon, both from the standpoint of the player and spectator. The armory can seat a crowd of a thousand with every spectator having a good view of the entire playing floor, and with the fastest game of recent years in prospect a monster turnout will probably be present.

The Roseburg boys will play Medford High School Thursday and Friday evenings before coming to Ashland.

COUSIN OF ROSEBURG MAN KEPT MARRIAGE FROM HER PARENTS

It became known here today that news of the marriage of Miss Harriet Lane, of Oregon, and Dr. Samuel D. Hicks, of Norfolk and New York, here on February 10, was not communicated to the father and mother of the bride at Washington until after the couple arrived in New York, says a Baltimore correspondent to the Associated Press. Thereupon they received the customary parental blessing, it is said, by telegraph.

Dr. Hicks and Miss Lane came to Baltimore from Washington the morning of February 10, obtained a marriage license and were married at noon the same day at the residence of Rev. C. M. Eyster, 1824 East Baltimore street. The license record shows that Dr. Hicks is 44 and divorced and that Miss Lane is 31. Her residence is given as Portland, Oregon.

"I married them," said Rev. Mr. Eyster. "The couple evidently knew what they were about and impressed me as being of the upper walk of life. They seemed to be a loving couple. I hastened the ceremony so they could catch a train for New York." (Mrs. Hicks is a cousin of Dr. F. W. Haynes, of this city).

HOUSE WAS RAIDED.

Sheriff Ralph Jennings searched a private residence in Medford and seized two suitcases and a large packing case loaded with booze last Wednesday, this being the first seizure since the new law went into effect, says the Ashland Record. The authorities claim to have evidence that the liquor was brought in after the dry law went into effect. If it is proven otherwise the charge cannot be sustained, according to lawyers.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

S. I. Shrum came in from Glide on business today.

J. H. Marsden and wife, of Looking Glass, spent the afternoon in the city.

Mrs. D. Ashes who had been visiting with her daughter, Mrs. Earl Benedick, returned home to Cottage Grove this afternoon.

The snow held this afternoon's southbound trains for about two hours behind schedule, and No. 14 was not scheduled until 4 o'clock. A stub train left here with the local passengers for the north.

MONTANA VICTIM KNOWN HERE

go to the school house and pay them a visit. The people at the school supposed they were at home on account of the storm, Mr. McConnell thinking they were at the school house comfortably situated. All four were huddled together under some sage brush. The terrible ordeal for the father and husband came when he was compelled to load the four dead ones so dear to him into his spring wagon and drive with them 30 miles to Vanada before he could reach assistance. Word was sent here to Coroner Booth, who went to Vananda Wednesday morning and viewed the remains. He returned and started a second time at noon with four coffins. Burial will be in this city later, possibly Friday. Mrs. McConnell was well and favorably known to the people of this city. She taught school here a year ago and sang at the churches several times. She was a lady whom everyone loved, a sunny disposition at all times. This tragedy has cast a gloom of sorrow over the entire city. The anguish and grief of the husband cannot be described.

Good news for thrifty-minded women

The new Wirthmor Waists in advance models for Spring are now arriving—and they are still priced at just $1.00. Quality as good as always—workmanship as fine—fit just as perfect—and styles prettier, we think than ever before.

The tremendous growth of Wirthmor sales—and the further lowering of making and overhead expense—has offect the excessive rise in material costs—which explains why these Waists can still be sold at $1.00 without in any way sacrificing the quality.
