OREGON CEREALS LOOK GOOD; FRUIT NEEDS SUNSHINE

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

PORTLAND, Ore., May 21.—The summary of weather and crop conditions in Oregon for the week ending May 20 was issued by the United States department of agriculture, weather bureau, today and indicated that temperature was generally subnormal.

Showers occurred in most sections of the state and drying winds aided a limited area over the high plateau.

The detailed crop report follows:

Cereals: Conditions were generally favorable for small grains; winter wheat, barley and rye are heading in places; there is a small acreage of spring wheat and oats yet to be sown, and this work was delayed by wet soil. The weather has been too cool for corn.

Fruits: Most fruits need warmer weather and more sunshine. Ripening of strawberries is extending into northern counties. Dropping of cherries and prunes continues in many western localities, and Douglas county reports some dropping of pears; dropping of cherries and pears is reported from Union county.

Meadows, pastures and ranges: Alfalfa and clover need more warmth and sunshine but are doing well; the first cutting of alfalfa is in progress in Jackson and Josephine counties, and will be begun in Douglas county in a short time. Pastures and ranges are generally excellent, some correspondents report the best feed in years.

Livestock: Shearing was delayed by rain in places. Stock continues to move to summer range, and is everywhere making satisfactory gains.

Miscellaneous: Potatoes are doing well. Some peas are in market, the weather has been too cool for cantaloupes. Wet weather is making it difficult to keep gardens and potatoes clean. Flax is making good growth.
