Many ambitious men and women live only half a life—and don't know it

No person whose nerves are continually irritated, whose appetite and digestion are disturbed, or who doesn't sleep well has more than half his normal chance for success in life. For weakness, debility, anemia and general lack of tone are a serious handicap to anybody.

Those who drink tea or coffee are often sufferers from these conditions. Tea and coffee contain caffeine, a substance which has a decided stimulant action on the nerves.

Each cup of strong coffee contains about as large a dose of caffeine as your doctor would ordinarily give to a very sick person.

You can readily see that the effect of giving this stimulant regularly to a well person might finally have a tendency to make him sick.

If you want to avoid a very common cause of irritation and enjoy restful sleep, good digestion, and the feeling of vigor and robust endurance that comes to healthy, normal people, quit tea and coffee, and drink Postum, instead. It is a rich, coffee-like cereal beverage—perfectly delicious!

Order Postum from your grocer today. Drink this fragrant, aromatic beverage and see how much better you'll feel—able to do more without becoming fatigued—as thousands have discovered for themselves.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the toast is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes. Sold everywhere!

$100 PER CAPITA INVESTED IN ROADS

KINSTON, N. C., Jan 5.—(United Press.)—A per capita investment of $100 in good roads is the boast of Lenoin county, of which this town is the county seat. With a population of 3,000, the county's total investment in paved highways when its present program is completed will be approximately $3,500,000. This, it is believed, establishes a record.

Every principal street in Kinston and every main road in the county will be hard-surfaced when the program is completed a few months from now. The concrete-asphalt roads lead to the boundaries of six adjourning counties.

A stretch of the Central highway which is 520 miles long and extending from the mountains of western North Carolina to the ocean, passes through the county, and this for a distance has been converted into a memorial avenue for local war dead. The avenue begins at the Kinston municipal limit and terminates at the grave of Richard Caswell, first governor of the state after the revolution.

Here is a difference. Have your clothes cleaned and pressed properly by expert tailor. Harth's Toggery.

Congress Expects to Aid Veterans

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—Back from the Christmas holidays, congress is expected to enact with little delay a bill for adjusted compensation to veterans of the world war.

As matters now stand, the Fordney and McCumber compensation measures, both of which have the support of the American Legion, are before the house and senate committees. No date has been fixed for a vote in either branch of congress.

Payment of compensation will, however, officials here declare, be one of the first issues taken up by the lower house upon resuming its session. The senate is expected to begin consideration of the bill after disposing of legislation dealing with refunding of foreign loans.

Several plans suggested for raising money to pay compensation are provoking the most discussion in congressional circles at present. The Legion has made it plain that it would not enter into the discussion as to methods of meeting the payments.

A recent "bonus" bill introduced into the house by Rep. Volk would provide payments for adjusted compensation by means of a sales tax estimated to yield $1,500,000 annually. The measure is patterned after the Canadian bonus law.

Another suggestion for raising money has come from Secretary Mellon of the treasury department, who proposes the sale of light wines and beer with a tax on the sale of beverages. President Harding is understood to disapprove such a scheme, but the house ways and means committee has given notice that it will consider the plan.

Charming Afternoon Model of Velvet and Georgette Can Be Made At Low Cost as Designed Below

Dress For Afternoon Wear as Designed by Marion Davies

By MARION DAVIES,

Screen Star of "The Restless Sex," "Buried Treasure," "Enchantment," etc.

This afternoon frock of velvet and georgette is one of the prettiest in my winter's wardrobe. To me it has a distinctive individuality which sets it apart from the ordinary dress, while still following the favored lines of the season.

The drapes of the georgette which constitute the main part of the sleeves and the side panels of the dress are caught at the waistline. The center front, back and shoulder panels are of velvet as indicated in the drafted pattern accompanying the sketch. The girdle is of beading which can be made or bought. The fringe effect on the side fronts of the blouse is secured with the same beading or a contrasting motif, or may, of course, be eliminated altogether.

The front and back sections of the entire gown are cut on the fold of the material. The velvet panels of the sleeves are marked No. 1 while the georgette sections are indicated by No. 2, both being cut on the straight of the material. Cut two pieces of No. 1 and four pieces of No. 2, forming front and back sections of the sleeves. Sew the side pieces together by matching the notches. Gather the georgette section of the drape sleeves between the crosses to give draped effect at waistline as shown on the illustration.

For the side plaiting cut two pieces of material 38 inches long and 54 inches wide and turn up a two-inch hem at the bottom and a small hem at top. Have them plaited and fasten at waistline, allowing a little to come above the waist as shown in the illustration.

The material required for this model is 2 yards of the velvet, 36 inches wide, and 3¾ yards of the georgette for sleeves.

If you have any difficulties in following the pattern, sketch or directions I shall be glad to put you right. Address me at Cosmopolitan Productions, 127th street, New York City.

Hard to Refuse Suffering Children

LUBIMOVKA, Tartar Republic, Dec. 6.—(The Associated Press.)—American workers who are administering relief to children in Russian famine areas find it extremely trying to live up to selective plan of feeding where practically all the inhabitants are in dire need of food.

By requiring the children to eat their meals in relief kitchens, the workers insure against the delivery of food to persons who have not been passed upon by examining physicians. But the children make many pathetic attempts to dodge the regulations.

One little girl in the kitchen here ate only part of her bowl of rice milk and sugar and asked permission to take the remainder of her rice and her white roll home to her father who was ill with the typhus.

"It is really more than I care for. I am not used to having so much at once," the child pleaded.

The case was investigated and the workers arranged an allowance of food for the sick man, as the relief may also be extended to invalids.

In families where one child is recommended for feeding by the doctors while brothers and sisters are not given food cards, it is not unusual for the fortunate one to take the others along to be kitchen and carry out to them a portion of the ration. The self-sacrificing spirit of the little boys and girls makes it doubly hard for the relief workers.

Roseburg Man Represents Indians

PORTLAND, Jan. 3.—"Government machinery moves slowly and it sometimes requires several generations of time to obtain an adjustment, when it is a case of Uncle Sam pungling up," said Will R. King, former member of the Oregon supreme court, who is a guest at the Multnomah hotel. His reference to the law's delay is made to a claim of some $12,000,000, which he has in hand on behalf of a number of Oregon Indian tribes, who assert that their lands were taken from them in 1845 without formality of treaty ratification. It is claimed that the government has never made a settlement with these tribes.

Associated with Seneca Fouts and Elbert Hermann, Portland attorneys, Mr. King is attending to the Washington end of the proposed litigation before the court of claims. King believes that congress will now recognize the Indians' rights.

Mace Palouse Tipton, surviving chief of the Umpquas, has issued a call for a gathering of the tribal representatives in Portland about January 16. George W. Rapp, of Roseburg, is attorney in fact for the Indians.

Notables Wlil Meet With Legion

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 4.—General Pershing, Secretary of the Navy Denby, a personal representative of President Harding and other government officials will attend a mass meeting to discuss the work of the American Legion for the coming year, to be held here January 20 and 21.

Hanford MacNider, the Legion's commander, has called a session of the organization's executive committee for these dates. The committee is composed of one representative from each state and from fifteen foreign countries. All national officers and state commanders and adjutants have been invited to the meetings.

Commander MacNider's plans for 1922, service and rehabilitation work and routine business will be discussed. Reports of special and standing committees will be received.

Representatives of the veterans' bureau and other government agencies operating for the relief of ex-service men will attend the sessions.

GRANTS PASS WINS OUT.

GRANTS PASS, Or., Jan. 3.—Alleging a breach of contract, the city of Grants Pass today obtained a temporary injunction against the California and Oregon Coast Railroad company, the Title and Trust company, and the Twohy Brothers, preventing any of the defendants from further encumbering the railroad and from buying or selling any bonds, or issuing or executing any mortgage or lien on the property. The injunction was signed by Circuit Judge F. M. Calkins, Medford.

Complaint is made by the city that the railroad company has failed to pay any portion of the semi-annual interest of the $200,000 bonds voted by the municipality and that there has been no proportion of the railroad under construction other than the four and one-half miles already completed, from which, it is said, no benefit is received by the city. The city also declares the railroad has definitely abandoned all intentions of extension.

PIMPLY? WELL, DON'T BE

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take one or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 15c and 30c.

Says Colonel Hanged 2 Soldiers

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—Harry W. Segal, 43 Theodore street, Dorchester, Mass., told the senate investigating committee today that he saw two negroes taken from their barracks at Gievres one morning and strung up on the gallows. He gave the name of Lieutenant Colonel Hahn as the man who directed the hanging.

Segal said that someone asked one of the negroes if he had anything to say before he died, and that Hahn said:

"Never mind that sob stuff. Hang the dogs!"

American soldiers were hanged in France and their bodies sent home to the United States with the hangman's "black cap" still over their heads, the committee was told by Rufus P. Hubbard of New York.

Hubbard, formerly with the army graves registration service, said he came across the bodies of three hanged privates at the Bazoilles-Sur-Meuse cemetery in France around January 1, 1921.

"The ropes were still around their necks and the black caps still over their heads," Hubbard declared. "We sent the bodies just that way to the soldiers' homes in the United States."

Hubbard said he thought two of the soldiers were negroes and the other white.

Output of Dried Prunes Very Large

A good sized output of dried prunes for the Pacific northwest would be considered around 60,000,000 pounds. This season, however, the best available data indicates that there were but 24,000,000 pounds produced in the northwest of which 22,000,000 were Italians and 2,000,000 Petites.

A good crop was obtained in the Umpqua valley and it is estimated that 10,00,000 pounds of dried prunes came from that section. The Willamette valley produced a small crop which is placed at 9,000,000 pounds. Clarke county, Washington is credited with 3,000,000 pounds.

Quality is the outstanding feature of northwest prunes this season and almost no small ones were produced.

Though the market has been dull during the holidays, partly attributed to buyers not wishing to stock up before taking inventory at the end of the year, a considerable activity is expected early this month due to the fact that dealers will need to replenish their stocks which are low at the present time.

General satisfaction has been expressed at the way the 1921 crop has been moving in spite of the rather heavy carry over of 1920 stock. It is estimated that there are less prunes of this season's crop in Pacific coast hands at the present time than there were of the 1920 prunes last August.

The Oregon Growers Cooperative association will raise the price on its remaining holdings of prunes as soon as the demand will warrant the increase.

AGRICULTURE MUST HAVE STABILITY

Agriculture must be stabilized so that the farmer may depend on reasonable profits, President W. J. Kerr of the Oregon Agricultural college told a conference of farmers at Farmers week. Agriculture being the basic industry, the prosperity of the nation rests on it. The farmer must meet the agricultural needs of the world.

Frank Terry, of the Equitable Savings and Loan Association, is now at the Umpqua Hotel.
