CHANGES MADE IN BONUS PROVISIONS

Legislature Adopts Several Amendments to the State Bonus Law Setting Time Limit For Cash and Loan Applications.

SALEM, Feb. 23—Ex-service men who are affected by the changes in the Oregon bonus law who have not familiarized themselves with the amendments made to it by the recent session of the legislature will do well to do so. Copies of the new law, which have just been printed, will be mailed out by the bonus commission to the commission's attorneys, appraisers, Red Cross chapters and American Legion posts in a few days.

One of thet most important changes provides that the wife of a deceased veteran who is eligible to receive the bonus will be barred from its benefits if she remarries before the negotiations are fully completed.

The time limit set in which applicants for cash claims can be made is set by the law for December 31, 1923, while the final applications for loans cannot be made later than June 30, 1927.

The time to repay the loans of those who received extra compensation in excess of their grade during the war, is cut down to 10 years, while in addition they must pay interest at the rate of 6 per cent.

In addition to this the bonus commission is empowered, if it deems it accessary, to insist on the payment of liens and assessments existing on any property held for security of a loan. Provision is made for the payment of all city loans quarterly and on farm loans semi-monthly and quarterly.

Another new provision is that in case of the sale of property on which there is a loan the amount of the loan must be reduced to 40 per cent of the unpaid principal and the remaining unpaid 60 per cent must be paid in five equal annual payments with interest at the rate of 6 per cent.

The elimination of section 22 of the old law does away with providing any more building loans, while a new clause exempts bonus money from an execution or claim of any kind from creditors.

In the case of the death of a veteran who has obtained a loan the law provides that his next of kin who would be entitled to a cash bonus can carry on the loan. This is specified to be the husband, wife, child, mother, father, dependent sister or dependent brother.

The penalties fixed for any violation of the new law provide for fines or imprisonment or both at the discretion of the court.
