TIME NEGATIVE AT THE POLE

DR. COOK IN CHRONICLE MAKES STATEMENTS.

"South in Every Direction" When He Stood on the Pole.

Dr. Frederick A. Cook, who comes to La Grande Nov. 20, has gained greater notoriety than even the discovery of the pole could give him, by the fierce controversy that has arisen, as to whether he actually the first to completely conquer the frigid north, has again broughtthe question into the public arena by his lectures in Europe and America and by his handsome volume, boldly entitled, "My Attainment of the Pole," says the Cambridge Chronicle.

The story of hardship and perseverance and his scientific data offered by this intrepid explorer arouse an enthralling interest. Dr. Cook's work bears on its face the apparent imprint of truth. Among other things he says, "The attaining of this mythical spot did not then, and does not now, seem in itself to mean anything very wonderful. I did not then, and I do not now, consider it the treasure house of any great scientific secret. The big thing to be gained from reaching the pole, the triumph of it the lesson in the accomplishment, is that man by brain power and muscle energy, can subdue the most terrific forces of a blind nature, if he is determined enough, courageous enough and undauntedly persistent, despite failure."

A little further along, Dr. Cook says, "In a geographic sense, we had arrived at a point where all meridians meet. The longitude, therefore, was zero. The latitude was 90. Time was a negative problem. There being no longitude, there could be no time. The hour lines of Greenwich, of New York, of Pekin, and of all the world there run together. Figuratively, if this position is the pin point of the earth's axis, it is possible to have all the meridians under one foot, and therefore, it should be possible to step from midnight to midday, from the time of San Francisco to that of Paris, from one side of the globe to another, as time is measured. Here there is but one day and one night in each year, but the night of six months is relieved by about 100 days of continuous twilight. Geographically, there is here but one direction. It was south on every line of the dial of longitudes--north, east and west had vanished. We had reached a point where true direction became a paradox and a puzzle. It was south before us, south behind us and south on every side."

Porto Rico's New Wonder

From far away Porto Rico come reports of a wonderful new discovery that is believed to vastly benefit the people. Ramon T. Marchan, of Barcelooneta, writes "Dr. King's New Discovery is doing splendd work here It cured me about five times of terrible coughs and colds, also — brother of a severe cold in his chest and more than 20 others, who used it on my advice. We hope this great medicin will yet be sold in every drug store in Porto Rico" For throat and lung troubles there is nothing better. A trial will convince you of its merit. 50c and $1 Tral bottle free. Guaranteed by all druggists.

POLITICAL DRAMA COMING.

"The Butler's Secret" will be Shown in La Grande November 22.

The latest dramatic sensation "the Butler's Secret" will be the offering at Steward's opera house for one night Friday, Nov. 22, and is sure to be a most interesting engagement. "The Butler's Secret" deals with political life in one of the eastern cities at this time when "Regulars" and "Insurgents" are combining for national recognition and using every device legitimate and otherwise to divert public favor. The action of the play is laid in Morrisville, N. J., where a gang of political ringsters headed by one Bill Higgins are ordered by the system to "put through" the "Gang" candidate for mayor and beat at any cost, a popular and rising young lawyer, a favorite in society and the choice of the people. The only hope the machine has is to find something discreditable in the moral life of Gregory, the people's candidate, so they can ruin his political and social influence. They run onto what they consider a little irregularity in his past life, at least enough to make a sensational story, through the tales of a certain Dr. Chitwood who has fallen to almost the lowest levels through the use of cocaine. In order to give it credence they must get the whole story, and the "gang" use every effort by bribery, intimidation and "third degree" methods to obtain from him the information, but the old doctor, realizing what a friend young Gregory has been to him and already ashamed of the trouble he has caused, commits suicide in the presence of the "gang" leader, considering that the only way the secret would be safe.

The production discloses a master hand in every detail, and the cast includes some of the best known players on the stage among them, Mrs. Annie Adams mother of Miss Maude Adams and Wilford Lee whose work as the cocaine adicted doctor is receiving the critics unstinted praise.

BITULITHIC AREA STILL GROWING

Another Progressive City Falls in Line and Secures High-Grade Paving.

An increased area of bitulithic paving, or a new award where it has not been used, has come to be recognized throughout the Northwest as a sign of progress and prosperity. It indicated that the citizens and taxpayers are wide-awake and alive to their interests and to the welfare of their home city, and want a high-grade, economical paving that will stand the strain of hard traffic, and require the minimum expenditure for repairs.

The recent award at Wilkinson, Wash., has placed that city in the long line of bitulithic boosters, and general satisfaction is expressed because of the selection made by the city authorities; the award was made only after a close investigation of the merits of the various kinds of paving proposed, and at the earnest solicitation of the taxpayers interested.

Notice of Final Settlement.

Notice is hereby given that James P. Moss, executor of the last will of William D. Moss, deceased, has filed in the county court of Union county, Oregon, his final account as executor of said will and said court has set Monday, the 2nd day of December A. D. 1912, at two o'lock p. m. at the county court room in La Grande, Union couny, Oregon, as the time and place of hearing said account and all objections thereto.

Dated this November 2nd A. D. 1912

JAMES P. MOSS,
Nov 2 9 16 23 30 Executor.

WHEN THE ALARM CLOCK RINGS

Do you snuggle a little deeper in the covers and wish with all your might that you didn't have to get up in the cold to dress? Well, you're not the only one. There never was but one man in La Grande who liked to get up in the cold, and he moved away.

Here's a suggestion; get one of our

Luminous Electric Radiators

Then when the alarm br-r-r-s!, press the button, and in a very few minutes your cold bedroom will be warm enough to dress in. Try it just once.

Luminous Electric Heaters cost about as much to run as an electric iron. They furnish the ideal method for warming up bedrooms, bathrooms, cozy corners, etc. On display at our office.
