Use Mails When Possible, Urge of Rationing Board

An appeal to persons having business with the Roseburg War Price and Rationing board to use the mails whenever possible was made today by R. L. Preston, executive secretary. Due to the great number of people calling at the board's office in the Perkins building, waits of as long as three hours are required, Preston states, despite the fact that all members of the clerical staff endeavor to expedite cases.

"Fully 75 per cent of the people calling at the office could have more efficiently conducted their business by correspondence," Preston said. "Persons who must register or file inventories must, of course, appear personally, but the great majority of callers present matters which cannot be handled by the clerks and are using time that should be devoted to the callers whose presence is necessary.

"Any matter which requires action by the members of the board should be handled by mail. The clerks have no authority and can only assist in preparation of application forms or accept data to be submitted to board members. Whenever possible such applications, requests for information, etc., should be sent in by mail and they will be given prompt consideration. Information should be stated in full so that board members will be able to consider all pertinent factors."

Busenbark, Mrs. William Bell and Storey Iles.

Names have been submitted and approved by the county defense council to increase the board to 12 or more members. The names have been forwarded to district headquarters for final approval. As soon as the proposed new members have been approved and have accepted appointment, a final organization meeting will be held, at which time a permanent selection of a chairman will be made.

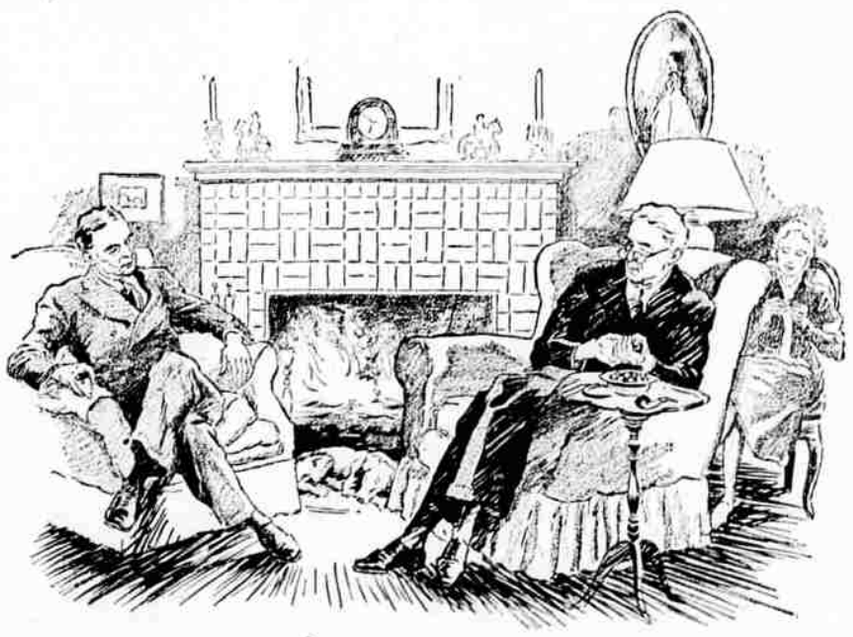
THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...


"Had any news from George and his family since they moved away, Judge?"
"Yes, I had a letter from him day before yesterday. He's in Kentucky...the family's fine and they all like it there. George says he has a fine job in a beverage distillery. He brought out an interesting point in his letter I hadn't thought of before. He said that while the beverage distillers are working 24 hours a day, 7 days a week turning out war alcohol for the government for ammunition, tires, medical supplies and chemicals, they still are able to account for nearly a billion and a half dollars in taxes each year. That's on account of the fact the beverage distillers, though working 100% for the government, are still able to supply the public with beverages from the reserve stocks made during peacetime.
"Quite an unusual case, isn't it, Jim?"
