Reasons why U. S. war plants are being asked to step up production are shown in the above charts. The figures on the rate the U. S. armies in the European theater are using ammunition and materiel were given by Gen. Brehon B. Somervell, commander of the Army Service Forces. Figures on losses are from all causes.

THIS IS TOPS IN NAZI NERVE

Bert Brandt, famous Acme Newspictures-NEA Service frontline photographer, poses, above, wearing one of the souvenirs he brought back from the German front. One of a large stock found in Gestapo headquarters in Aachen, it is a Nazi "Victory Cap." Brandt says that he was told in Aachen that the Germans were so sure of crushing the Allies that they had not only designed, but had actually produced this gaudy headgear, to be worn by German officers in the victory parades in Paris, London, Moscow and, likely enough to the Nazi mind, Washington. It is flashy and cocky-looking, but like so many things Nazi, its phony quality becomes apparent on close examination.
