"DANCE OF THE STATES" AND "MILE OF SONG" TO BE BIG SHRINE FEATURES

By GEORGE E. DURNO,
(International News Service.)
Correspondent.)

ASHINGTON, May 28.—Two of utstanding and novel features of hrine convention to be held here en June 3 and June 8 include "Dance of the States" and the of Song."

ese features, designed as a mon- spectacular display really repre- an allegory of the United States epiction of the aims and aspira- upon which the nation was ted.

"Dance of the States," one of losing features of the gathering Shriners, will present historic sylvania avenue as a polished floor over which will glide in t harmony citizens of all the in the Union. Divided into eight sections, each section spon- by a State society, the avenue the scene on the closing night actual convention of a revelry before witnessed in the country.

Broadcast Orchestra Music.

ying alternately and continuous- the "Garden of Allah," opposite White House will be two huge orchestras. The music will be fied and broadcasted down the for the dancers, and sent out the big new Government radio to roof gardens and cabarets the entire country.

s, the people of the 48 states of nion will be dancing in step and rmony the entire length of the e, bounded on one end by the Capitol, representing the legislative branch of the Government, and on the other end by the Treasury, representing the administrative branch. As the music, broadcasted from the front of the White House, also will go to all parts of America, the entire nation literally will be "dancing in step" with the Government.

Thousands to Sing "America."

A similar allegory will be obtained in the "Mile of Song." promptly at 11:45 the dancing will stop, and the approximate 200,000 people congregated on Pennsylvania avenue will join in the singing of "America," receiving the rhythm and cadence from a swaying searchlight mounted on the top or the Post Office tower. The conclusion of this singing promptly on the stroke of midnight likewise will bring to an end the convention.

Other features of interest to the thousands of visitors expected include a four-day aerial circus, participated in by the Army, Navy, Post Office department and Weather Bureau.

Aeroplane stunts are to be staged which aviation officers declare never before have been seen in this country. Air battles, bombing exhibitions, smoke barrages and battle evolutions will go on continuously over the heads of the crowd. The Weather Bureau will demonstrate its work in "sounding" the weather from observation balloons, and the Post Office department will put on for the benefit of those who have not had the opportunity before a demonstration of aerial mail service and piloting.

MORTGAGE TO PAY REPARATION BILL

Every Square Inch of German Soil Will Be Taxed to Pay Former Foes

REPORT STRIKES ENDED

French Restrain Communists and Take Steps to Preserve Order in the Ruhr Where Uprisings Have Occurred

(By Associated Press.)

BERLIN, May 28.—Germany's new reparations program, as outlined, will literally be constructed from the "ground up" for it will rest primarily on a nationwide real estate mortgage. It will eventually encompass every square inch of German soil which will be made to pay tribute to Germany's former foes for thirty years.

Will Resume Work.

BERLIN, May 28.—General Degouette, French commander in the Ruhr, issued an order to the German railway men to resume work under the French within 48 hours. All railway men under sixty years who fail to return will be expelled from the occupied territory. Those over sixty may consider themselves dismissed.

Move to Stop Strikes.

BERLIN, May 28.—The French officials are moving to stop the spreading of strikes of the workers in the Ruhr district, according to word received. General Degouette was said to have ordered German workmen on the railways to return to their jobs within two days or be banished from the district. Thirty Communists and civilians were reported killed in revolutionary uprisings in the Ruhr during the week. The French occupational forces may intervene to restrain the Communists unless conditions are improved immediately. At Wanne, the French have already stepped in to preserve order, using patrols and barring pedestrians from the streets when the alarm is sounded.

Was Taxed Heavily.

NEW YORK, May 28.—Charles South, Portland Oregon musician, who arrived today from Germany where he studied music for two years, said that when preparing to leave he was classified as a "resident" long enough to have extracted from him a heavy tax on all of his expenditures in Germany, including a tax on the taxes he had paid as a non-resident.

German Marks Down.

NEW YORK, May 28.—German marks sold at a new low record today, $16.25 for a million. Large quantities of marks being purchased by local relatives and friends in Germany.

JUDGE ORDERS CASE DISMISSED

The case of W. L. Rigsby against W. A. Branham, was dismissed today by Judge J. W. Hamilton, and the plaintiff's attorney O. S. Brown rebuked for bringing such a case into court. The dismissal came after all evidence was in and the jury was instructed to return a verdict in favor of the defendant, which was done without leaving the jury box. Mr. Branham, deputy sheriff at Glendale, foreclosed a chattle mortgage on Rigsby, after the mortgage was due, and recovered a team of horses belonging to another resident of that city, who had loaned money to Rigsby on the team. Rigsby then brought suit against Branham and claimed that he had an understanding and agreement with the other man to cut wood to pay for the team. No time limit was fixed, however, and consequently the agreement had no standing in court.

Immediately following that case, the case of Charles C. Banfield against D. O. Cripsin, was called.

The grand jury was drawn this morning and is composed of C. L. Madley, L. F. Reisenstein, L. A. Grubbe, S. H. Knight, E. L. Kirkendall, Thomas B. Burnett, William G. Curry. The greater part of the day was taken up in the case of Harry Hill, a 20-year-old school teacher charged with a crime against one of his girl pupils.

BRYAN IS FIGHTING UNTRUTHS OF SCIENCE

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, May 28.—William Jennings Bryan, in a statement published today, declared that forty prominent Americans, including Secretaries Hoover and Davis, who signed a joint declaration here Saturday that there is no antagonism between science and religion had "put up a straw man and then assaulted him with big words."

"There is no antagonism between religion and real science," Bryan said. "Science is classified knowledge, therefore nothing is scientific unless true. No truth can hurt the Bible. No truth can harm Christianity. Our objection is to unsupported guesses put forth by scientists in the name of science. The guess which me most object to is that man is a descendant of brutes."

LOCAL NEWS

Down From Estacada—

Mr. and Mrs. U. F. Morgan of Estacada, are in Roseburg for a few days, guests at the home of Mrs. T. M. Olivant.

Big Deer Seen—

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Applewhite and Mr. and Mrs. Storey Iles, while motoring near Granis Pass yesterday, almost ran into a large buck deer on the highway. The deer came over a steep bank and was standing in the middle of the road when the car came around a sharp curve. The deer was startled by the sudden appearance of the machine and started to turn and bolt back the way he had come. The pavement was very wet and slippery and as he turned his feet slipped out from under him and he fell heavily. Mr. Applewhite, who was driving, slowed up the car very quickly or he would have run over the animal. The deer scrambled to his feet and tore off through the brush very badly frightened.

WORD OF UNKNOWN ORIGIN

Scholars Can Only Guess as to Whence Came the Name Goethe Called Satan.

From time to time there has been considerable dispute concerning the origin of the word "Mephistopheles." Some very bizarre explanations had been propounded before the time of Goethe, who was himself forced to own to the musician, Zulter, in a letter of November 20, 1829:

"I cannot give any definite answer to the question, 'Whence comes the name 'Mephistopheles?'"

According to one theory it was a hybrid Graeco-Hebraic formation of mephis and tophel (the liar); according to another its etymology was entirely Greek—very dubious Greek—mephostophilos, "he who does not love the light."

Goethe had a trick of using the abbreviated form, "Mephisto," when it suited the exigencies of his meter. It may be remembered that this particularly irritated Schopenhauer, who wrote in his pamphlet. "On the Murder of the German Language:"

"The foolish desire for brevity goes so far as to cut off even the devil's tail by writing 'Mephisto' for 'Mephistopheles.'"

Easy Way to Make Friends.

A Long Island commuter who found it somewhat difficult to make acquaintances when he first moved to his town and who has known of others in a similar plight, says he has solved the trouble.

"Take it from me," he remarked, "it is the simplest thing in the world, and the cost is not burdensome. Get a nest of light and easily-handled ladders and a good, substantial collapsible stepladder, and that's all there is to it.

"At the season when everybody is putting on storm windows, the fellow who has easily handled ladders of various lengths and is willing to lend them is bound to be the most popular chap in the neighborhood.

"The borrowing and lending breaks the ice, and the rest develops in natural course. The fellow with the ladders will be 'it' until spring and then he will share the distinction with the neighbor who is the fortunate possessor of a lawn roller."—New York Sun.
