LEPROSY AMENABLE TO TREATMENT

Leprosy is in a measure amenable to treatment, says the U. S. Public Health Service. During the last ten years a considerable percentage of the lepers segregated at the Kalihi Hospital near Honolulu and on Molokai Island have been paroled; that is, they have been released as being "not a menace to the public health," but have been required to report for examination at certain intervals which vary with the individual case. Of those paroled about 18 per cent have relapsed and have returned to segregation, but about one-fourth of these were later paroled for the second time. In all, 242 lepers were paroled; 31 relapsed and seven of these were later paroled. Ten were completely released from parole. The chance of arresting the disease decreased with the length of time that it had been allowed to go without treatment unless this period was seven years or more. Apparently patients who survive without treatment for seven years possess powers of resistance that slightly increase their chances for marked improvement under treatment. Those who desire it are treated with chaulmoogra oil and its derivatives. The parole system was begun in 1912 and has worked admirably. Those paroled appear to have told their friends that the conditions existing at the hospital were good; and the mere fact that they had been released has shown that segregation might lead to cure and not to lifelong confinement as it almost invariably did previous to 1912. As a consequence lepers, instead of concealing the disease up to the last possible moment, and thereby spreading it through the community are now surrendering of their own accord and taking treatment. This earlier surrender and earlier treatment lessens the degree of improvement that will secure parole and will later, perhaps, complete release. About 70 per cent of those who have been paroled were in segregation for less than two years.

How does the present spell of weather suit you? A little too warm. Well, let's all go over to Coos Bay the Fourth and get a whiff of salt air.

From present indications Roseburg will be well represented at Marshfield for the big celebration in large numbers.

While the kids are forming Achievement Leagues, many of them have now forming Take It Easy Clubs.

Governor Pierce has been saved from the wrath of the recall elections. Another achievement for Walter.

Dear Folks:

Many letters come before me asking this and asking that, and it often that I find myself a sitting down to chat on a subject that's perplexing, one that has a lot of sides, and a lot of them are mantlumed by some happy dreams and brides. They are solons for the future, and they want to pave the way, so the years that follow quickly will be always bright and gay.

Should a man be ever jealous? Has a married man the right to be busy at his office and to come home late at night? Should a woman who is married ever buy a little hat? If she does, will hubby's anger bring the proper benefit? Should they share alike with money? Should their tastes be just the same? When there's trouble, is there any use to try and place the blame?

These are samples of the questions that I'm asked from day to day and my answers never vary, to them all I simply say: "No two minds will ever travel in the same rut all the time, and in life the can be always full of joy and peace sublime."

"Try to mind the other fellow less a was of: fishing too, and the things you know will hurt him, are the things you should shun. Just respect each other's feelings and you can not help concerned. Soft a couple's made a failure when they allowed sad this need.

DUMBELL DORA THINKS

The Tower of Babylon is a radio broadcasting station.

Tommy: "What does L.L.D. after a man's name mean?"

Jimmy: "I guess it means that he's a lung and liver doctor."

"Two hundred dollars! That's a large fee for your treatment, doctor."

"Not at all. You save that amount, at least, in the diet I prescribed for you."

Fussy old Gentleman: "You're very young to be left in charge of a chemist's shop; have you any diploma?"

Assistant: "Er, no, sir. I'm afraid not, but we've got a little preparation of our own that's just as good."

The oculist was examining the eyes of a patient and had requested him to read the top line of a test card, the letters of which ran H P R T V Z B F H K.

When some moments slipped, the specialist said: "Do you mean to say you cannot read letters that size?"

"Oh, I can see the letters all right," replied the patient, "but I can't pronounce the blooming word."

Employer: "I need a man who has a wide knowledge of general merchandise."

Applicant: "Well, I've had ten years' experience in a drug store."

"I have prescribed alcohol—"

"Good."

"But only to rub with. It contains a poisonous substance which makes it unfit for drinking."

"Rub it in, doc; rub it in."

A certain man suffered acutely from bow legs. He was advised by a friend to repeat the Coue formula every night thirty times, "Every day in every way my legs are getting straighter and straighter."

Unfortunately, he miscalculated the number and repeated the magic words thirty times every night. As a result he is now knockkneed.

Socrates lifted his cup—"What's this stuff?" he asked.

"Hemlock!" replied the cupbearer.

"Oho!" said Socrates, "that's all right—I thought it was one of those d——d substitutes for beer."

Teacher: "Name two of the world's greatest deserts."

Pupil: "Sahara and the United States." (Rights, but Oasis are plentiful in little old Chicago.)—Ed.

For several minutes the ailing woman had talked steadily and clearly, while the doctor stood by, listening carefully.

"Pardon me, madam, but my time is not my own. I have about a dozen patients waiting to see me. You have given me all your symptoms in full detail, and perhaps you will—er—kindly—"

He hesitated, but the patient's husband came to the rescue.

"Maybe," he said, more plainly than politely, "she doesn't want to hear your tongue any more. He wants to look at it."

"Beer smells and tastes the same as after rain."

Mrs. T. D. Parks got damaged Mrs. F. J. Newman and attended school dance Friday afternoon. Now strangers to visit with Mrs. Wilson's sister, Mrs. A. A. Burgess of Winchester and other relatives.

MASONS HOLD PICNIC TODAY

Many Visitors from Various Douglas County Chapters Visit for Afternoon Picnic

With Old Sol smiling down in his benignant manner and with all arrangements complete, things were very favorable for the picnic for the Masons and Eastern Star members this afternoon and evening. Absolutely everything is in readiness for one of the biggest picnics ever held. The committees reported this morning that nothing had been overlooked and that things were turning out splendidly.

At eleven o'clock this morning several trucks left for Hunter's grove laden with eats and supplies, and a special truck from the Music store carrying a piano was also taken out. The grounds are in the best of condition for the affair, having undergone a thorough clean up for the past week.

At one o'clock this afternoon the cars started for the scene of the picnic. Visiting brothers and members from every chapter in the county joined the Roseburg pilgrims, and proceeded to the grounds. A number very close to that anticipated for the picnic were present early this afternoon, with more expected to arrive before the fruit was over.

The program which has been in preparation for some time proved very enjoyable and throughout the whole of the afternoon the picnickers enjoyed the time of their lives.

FRENCH HONOR U. S. BOYS WHO FOUGHT EARLY

July Fourth Set Aside For Tribute to Americans First in Fray

TO DEDICATE MEMORIAL

Names of Men Who Died for France Are Graven in Base of Memorial to American Heroes

By HARRY R. FLORY,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

PARIS, June 28.—All France will pay tribute on the Fourth of July to the forerunners of the American Expeditionary Forces—the American volunteers who fought from 1914 to 1918 under the French flag, in the Foreign Legion, in the Lafayette Escadrille and side by side with the French poilus in the trenches.

On the Place des Etats-Unis, a little spot of America in Paris, will be dedicated a monument to these men, "to show the United States that France's recognition of America's volunteers is just as sincere as America's recognition of Lafayette and his soldiers."

Many of the volunteers died for France. Their names will be chiseled on the base of the monument. Among others the following names will be inscribed: Alan Seeger, Norman Prince, Victor Chapman, Kenneth Weeks, Kiffin Rockwell, Russell Kelly, Richard Hall and Earle Fiske.

Slightly higher on the monument is represented the Genie of Humanity, before whom a French poilu and an American soldier are cordially grasping hands, symbolizing the perfect union of the two realized at the front.

Surmounting the whole is the statue of an American—the likeness of the soldier-poet, Allan Seeger, dressed in a French uniform and beckoning to his countrymen to join him in helping France.

The monument is the work of the noted French sculptor, Jean Boucher, who came in contact with the American volunteers when he, too, was at the front during the war.

Three years of work in gathering subscriptions to the total of 400,000 francs are represented in the monument. Only strictly French subscriptions were accepted, and several large sums given by Americans were returned to their donors.

Soldiers' sailors, school children, poor war widows, thousands of persons collaborated, giving at least one or two sous each, if they were unable to give more.

Complete lists of the subscribers will be sent to the United States government officials, chiefly President Harding, and one official list will be sealed up in a special cavity reserved for the purpose in the monument.

Such military celebrities as Foch, Joffre, Petain, Mangin and Weygand were associated actively with the committees in charge of the monument project. President Millerand, Premier Poincare, former Premier Clemenceau and Ambassador Jusserand were represented on the honorary committees.

Ambassador Myron T. Herrick will represent the United States at the dedication exercises on the Fourth of July. France will be represented by her highest government officials. Hereafter the monument will be the center of a patriotic demonstration every Fourth of July.

This is a Studebaker year.

WILBUR NEWS

The weather of this vicinity is now very pleasant and hay is being moved at a high rate of speed through the community. Help for haying is apparently scarce here.

Farmers have purchased the Reed house in Wilbur. They will move in this fall.

Lenoir Grubbe and Alice Brantner were united in marriage the first of the week. The Wilburites wish them many congratulations.

Robert trying is leaving for forest service Sunday. He will be gone for the summer.

Eldon Mosley and Elwin B... who were planning on going to City, Washington, were called to forest service Monday, so they did not leave until fall.

Mr. Hannah also is going back to forest service.

The three last named will be called within two miles of Diamond Lake, making a 200-mile trip to Roseburg.

The cherry crop is ready and Royal Annes are ready in a few days. The berries are also abundant.

There is more hay this year than for many years in this country.

Four teaps an hour and will grow. The Roseburg News-Review is considered as one of the best papers in the state. The large circulation proves it to be the most strong.

STILL A GIRL

In bloom and beauty—due to clay

By Edna Wallace Hopper

After 37 years as a stage star, I look like a girl of 19. My complexion is as soft and rosy as a debutante's. My skin is as smooth and youthful as 19 years ago.

All women marvel at my looks when they see me play young girls' parts. But my beauty methods brought like results to scores of my beautiful friends. So I am convinced that most women can, in their own way, multiply their beauty and prolong their bloom.

Now I have arranged so all who wish may employ the methods which did so much for me.

Which new-type clay

The chief essential is complexion clay. Famous beauties have for ages made it. No woman can without it look her best. The merits of facial clay stand out in any crowd.

French experts introduced clay to us some 20 years ago. But clays since then have been very much improved. The crude and sandy clays so many use today are outmoded.

Able scientists have been studying clays for 20 years and over. They have found that a certain mineral-laden clay brings maximum results. They have learned how to refine it by removing the gritty grit. The clay I prescribe—Youth Clay—is white and smooth and alkaline.

This long-tested clay makes fine skin a lasting, traditional reality. In the olden days of crude, old time clays will be amazed at this new clay.

What Youth Clay does

Youth Clay purges the skin of that clog it. This it removes a causes of sallowness, blackheads, blemishes.

It draws the blood to the skin, nourish and renew it. The results that may afterglow, that enrich the complexion. Many women, in 10 days, seem to drop ten years.
