HARDING ADMIRES APT IMPOSTOR

President Admits That He Admires Clever Manner in Which He Was Fleeced by Professional Crook.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—(A. P.)—President Harding has confessed to a characteristic often ascribed to Americans by foreigners—a fondness for being hoaxed when it is done painlessly.

The confession was made in a letter written to Colonel George B. Christian, father of the secretary to the president, and has a background extending into the days when Warren G. Harding was editing the Marion Star. It was then that a stranger dropped into Marion one day, called on editor Harding and, introducing himself as a member of the Virginia branch of the Harding family, mentioned that his cash in hand had unexpectedly run low and that a small loan would be useful. The president then as now was proud of the name of "Harding," and he extended the loan.

A few days later Mr. Harding met Judge Scofield, a leading citizen of Marion and a close friend, and told the story of the stranger's call. When he had finished Judge Scofield announced that he had been visited on the same day by the same gentleman who described himself as a distant cousin named "Scofield" and a member of the Scofield family in Virginia. The judge like the editor extended financial aid.

Mr. Harding and Judge Scofield had many a hearty laugh over the incident, and they laughed even more heartily on learning several weeks later that Myron T. Herrick, then a Cleveland business man but since governor of Ohio and ambassador to France, also had helped out in the hour of need "a cousin by the name of Herrick from Virginia who needed carfare home."

But gradually Mr. Harding ceased to think of it, until the other day he received a letter from Colonel Christian, recalling the visit of the "Virginia cousin" and saying that he himself had been recently victimized in a similar way.

"I am in receipt of your letter," President Harding wrote in reply, "in which you tell me of the call upon you of the brazen and companionable chap who, after the fashion of the gentleman who was named Harding one day Scofield another day, and Herrick another day, took you in for a small loan which would accomodate him on his virtuous way. I can only sympathize with you. You remember the chap who represented himself to me as a Harding from 'Old Virginia' and I recall that I presented him to you and that he took you in as well as me, and that you and he fought over some of the battlefields of the Civil War without your detecting any fraud in him, but you did extend helping touches as I was for a small draft upon my cash account.

"Somehow, I have always enjoyed being hoaxed by that fellow. He was so clever about it that he skinned me without wounding me. One encounters so many confidence men in the activities of our present day life that it is a pleasure to meet one with an artist who can skin you without your having felt it. The thing that gets on my nerves most is the crude and bolder confidence man who tries to put something over on me, and I know that he is trying it, and yet he thinks me susceptible enough to be wholly innocent of his plans.

"In other words, when you are taken in it is a joy to be taken in so beautifully that you haven't the slightest knowledge of it until you come to the later realization that a promised loan is not returned. I do not know but that it is a good thing that we have some of them in our midst at all times. It serves to remind us that one needs to be cautious without being suspicious and also that the world is full of wonderful talent which, if only applied in wholesome way, might result in notable accomplishment. Moreover, I think it behoves us as a helpful decree of humility to be reminded that there are smart chaps who can take us in without our even suspecting it."

DILLARD TO HOLD DISTRICT MEETING

Dillard community is arranging for an all day picnic catherine for next Sunday which will include all the sections in close of that place in a big American Tuber Group gathering. The meeting is to be the second of the American Sunday school unions for that district. This union is a sort of local missionary society which makes the chief work the establishing of Sunday schools in communities where a denominational organization would be impossible.

The meeting will be held in the grove about one mile north of the Dillard bridge on the Pacific Highway. A complete program for the whole day has been arranged and at least six hundred people are expected to attend.

In the morning the regular Sunday school lesson will be held and will be followed by a big noon spread. A basket dinner at noon will be supplemented by refreshments served by the Dillard people to all the visitors.

The speaker for the afternoon is Rev. McCrosen, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church of Albany. He before made with the organization of union Sunday schools and he is declared to be an interesting and forceful speaker. The Christian church members of Roseburg, under the leadership of T. H. Olson, will be present in the afternoon and will give a musical concert.

Other speakers for the afternoon and evening have not been announced but a very interesting program is anticipated and the Dillard community is looking for a very social meeting next Sunday.

TRUCK SALES ON INCREASE

GRAHAM BROTHERS REPORT MANY RECENT ADDITIONS TO LARGE FLEETS

Local Dealer Interprets Such Sales as Best Possible Indication of Satisfaction

A noticeable increase in the number of Graham Brothers trucks is noticed in the large number of sales recently completed by Dodge Brothers dealers, by whom these trucks are sold and serviced in all parts of the world. Sales of additional trucks to others already operating fleets are also continuing with constantly increasing volume, not only indicating excellent business conditions generally, but proving that the average Graham Brothers truck owner is highly satisfied with the truck's performance. Otherwise, of course, he would not choose it again when in need of additional equipment.

"While it is not generally known, chiefly because the truck was never nationally advertised until a few months ago Graham Brothers are well up in the front among the first ten truck manufacturers in the United States," said J. O. Newland, local Dodge Brothers dealer. "In view of the fact that there are fully 150 truck manufacturers, and that Graham Brothers have been in business only about five years, their present important place in the industry is of real significance. The truck has been making a really remarkable record and the business world is not slow to recognize its merit.

"Only a few weeks ago the Wood Baking company of New York bought 25 more Graham Brothers trucks, bringing their total up to 112. They started with one a few years ago as an experiment and the truck quickly convinced them that it should be made standard equipment, not only in the New York headquarters, but in the various branches throughout the country. The United Fruit company bought 10 of the trucks a few weeks ago for the use of its branch in Kingston, Jamaica. Among the others who have increased their Graham Brothers fleets recently, thus manifesting in the most emphatic way their complete approval of this truck, are:

"Jamestown Street Railway Co., Jamestown, N. Y., (fourth); Atlas Big Bill Pile Co., Washington, D. C., 13; Jones Store Co., Kansas City, Mo., 5; Famous Barr Co., St. Louis, Mo., 9; Mutual Creamery Co., Los Angeles, Calif., 8; Asheville Coca Cola Bottling Co., Asheville, N. C., 10; Empire Oil Co., Bartlesville, Okla., 12.

"Graham Brothers Trucks are equipped with Dodge Brothers power plant, but the truck motor, including 23 standard body types, is manufactured in their factories in Detroit and Stamping, Ind. The trucks are of 1 ton and 1½ ton capacity. With Dodge Brothers great dealer distribution handling sales, it is easy to see that quantity production is an absolute necessity if the thousands of dealers are to be kept supplied with enough trucks to meet the demand. Large production, of course, tends to increase quality and reduce costs, with the result that buyers are getting more and more for their money when they install Graham Brothers Trucks."

PORTLAND BALL GAME NEAR RIOT

PORTLAND, July 9.—There were two ball games at the Vaughn street park yesterday but there were more incidents of an exciting character as some fans who went out to see the doubleheader between Vernon and Portland were very disappointed or will argue to most point.

For in addition to baseball the crowd saw vaudeville, burlesque and circus acts, a most spirited pushing and hauling debate, a spectacular bombardment, police cooling it on a flat roll and a ball fight.

The bombardment took place when Umpire Finney gave Dan Baker, Vernon second baseman, his base on ground balls ruling of home plate being illegally covered in the opinion of a few citizens with empty beer bottles and lemon and orange skins and the air resounded of a score from some wandering moron.

Throughout the attack, which was launched by grand stand fans against their objective, the umpire stood valiantly with his back to the wall of missiles and with lots of class dodged all around him. Strangely enough Finney escaped without a scratch, but the misguided marksmen were active the entire game and it is certain he doubted if he would have come through without injury at least as would injured some Cain Kanyon cowpuncher relatives of the Finneys with even a suspicion of mind around a firearm.

Strange to tell out of the disorder and into the game rushing on the free lance and there got in an indignant who some of the attacking crowd might be. There was a fast in the game. There was a brief bloody nose a corpse on the field complaints with him in a most brutal manner, a crowd of cops and all the world, quick and remarkable as usual to will all the bombardment of a Charlie Pressley. This moderator stopped the unofficial exhibition immediately and the fans were kept out of a repetition of other scenes during the game.

A statement of the Times before gave credit to one of the rod throwers from the Vernon bench. Earlier added this and, rushing to meet the bitterness he waved it in their faces, shouting "The bottle" at the same time assuring the well-known member of the inmates in "Vernon." The battle was over.

This is the first time in the memory of the oldest baseball fan that such a serious disturbance has been reported at a Portland diamond contest. It all started when Manager Middleton threw a ball back to the plate to have it examined by the umpire. Middleton was not standing on the rubber at the time and his location was plain to all the stands.

Umpire called the pitch a ball, thus giving the batsman a free pass to first base. Middleton began a hot and vociferous debate with Finney and the umpire ordered him out of the game. Both Finney and his comrade, Brandon, had been making disturbances all afternoon that greatly disturbed the spectators, and this last one was the straw that coupled the camel.

BLOOMER GIRLS PLAY LOCAL TEAM TONIGHT

The Bloomer Girls baseball club of Chicago arrived here at noon today preparatory to crossing bats with the local baseball team on a fast and furious game this afternoon at the Laurelwood field.

The alleged men on the club arrived early this morning and have announced that the entire team which surrounds the diamond and have all gone prepared to make the acquaintance. The club now championed Cole crack in which they formerly appeared and are now considering Cole back for more.

In a few words nothing with the crowd. Very soon the girls were known for a score of a to 1.
