The remedy is to cultivate the scalp. Attack the dandruff, soften the hard-ened oil, stimulate the hair roots, lubricate the scalp. So these French experts made for me the formula to do that.

Applied in Drops.

I call this formula my Hair Tonic. I am having it made for all who want it, just as it is made for me.

I apply Hair Youth with an eye-dropper, directly to the scalp. This method does not mass the hair. I apply it once a day, but experts say that those with dandruff should use it twice a day. In 20 years I have never missed an application, and I never shall.

I believe that Hair Youth will do for millions what it did for me and more. If so, it will be a blessing to all mankind.

COURT CLEARS WIFE COERCED TO WED BARON

British Naval Officer Denied Divorce from Woman Found German Peer's Victim

DEATH THREAT MADE

Strange Case Outdoes Anything in Fiction—Woman "Framed Up" as a Spy, Faces Firing Squad

By CHARLES A. SMITH, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

LONDON, July 12.—One of the strangest and most remarkable divorce cases ever heard in the history of the British divorce courts was drawn to a close here when Sir Henry Duke, president of the Divorce Division, dismissed the petition of a British naval officer asking for a divorce from his wife being to live with conduct with a German baron.

Prince a forced marriage with a "prussian bully" in order to escape being shot as a spy, and innumerable war incidents went toward the making of this polemic drama, the principals of which were Engineer-Commander Campbell, Marie Campbell, his wife, and the daughter of a Dutch general and Baron von Maltzhe Brandenfels, a German officer, now dead.

Reads Like Novel.

Sir Henry Duke, giving judgment, described the whole proceedings as almost incomprehensible outside the pages of fiction.

Commander Campbell sought a divorce on the ground that his wife had committed misconduct with the Baron with whom she had gone through a ceremony of marriage at Charlottenburg in 1915.

Mrs. Campbell admitted the charge but denied misconduct, and in her testimony described how she came to "marry" the Baron.

She was Married.

She was married to Commander Campbell at The Hague in 1909, she said, and four years later obtained a decree of divorce in Holland, which she afterward found was not legal owing to her being domiciled in England.

She went to Germany with her father, General Beloit, and one day when her uncle was ill, she continued and in the fall of 1917 met the Prince who apparently became attached to her. He soon drove up her house to see several times and insisted and begged her to marry him, declaring that she was the only woman in the world he could love for long time.

The old Prince about her daughter and she to Brandenfels, and they he would not bother her again.

Accused as Spy.

Some days later he forced her to accompany a few relations to tea, to which he said were invited. Immediately he then asked her to the Brandenfels for the wife of a British officer to open and secret officers files—in short, he accused her of being a spy and gave her the choice of marrying him or being shot.

Terrified she consented and went through a marriage ceremony with him, during which she sobbed, for was intoxicated. She had never lived with him, she declared and in the winter of 1918 obtained a divorce from him, although he had died the day before the divorce was pronounced.

The life had been a hell with him she contended. He had tormented and mistreated her and said that she could find the body of her first husband among Gravelotte as the Allegro Back.

The husband's attorneys tried to keep her story to shreds under a searching cross examination, but the prosecution declared that he was satisfied that Mrs. Campbell was married to him in with the German Baron and her statement that "she lived in prosecution" with him and that there was no possibility was true.

VANCOUVER, Wash., July 12.—(United Press.)—Vancouver, the Gretna Green for Portland elopers and other broken ones of this section of the northwest, has revealed some remarkable figures on matrimonial behavior in reports just disclosed at the county auditor's office.

Of the 2310 licenses issued here during the past year, approximately half included brides who had been married before, but were daring to take another chance.

The husbands were not so brave, only 837 admitted that they had tried married life before and failed. Officials reported on the number of "repeaters" under of the divorcees being under 21 years of age. At least two were not yet 17 when they appeared for their second license, the records disclosed.

How Backache and Periodic Pains Yield to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Olean, N. Y. — Every month my blood would go to my head and I would have such a backache, headache, and I felt that I could not do my work. At night I could not get my rest and nothing seemed to do me any good. I read some of your testimonials about what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for others, so I decided to try it. I had only taken two bottles when I began to be better, and my back did not hurt me for my head ache. I felt like a new woman. The Vegetable Compound is a splendid medicine and I will always recommend it." — Mrs. A. D. EARLS, 630 N. 4th St., Olean, N. Y.

Mrs. Kelsey adds her Testimony

Copenhagen, N. Y.—"I read your advertisement in the papers and my husband insisted on my taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to get relief from pains and weakness. I was so weak that I could not walk at times. Now I can do my housework and help my husband out doors, too. I am willing for you to publish this letter if you think it will help others." —Mrs. HERMAN KELSEY, R.F.D., Copenhagen, N. Y.
