Pacific Coast Park Ruling To Be Revised

PHOENI, Ariz. (AP) — Well, it turns out the Coast League doesn't want to fight quite that bad—or at least not that soon.

Some of its members are able to recognize an overmatch when they see it.

Less than 24 hours after Horace Stoneham balled his fists about the Coasters' new rule barring spring games between big league clubs in their parks, the president of the Giants has been assured earnestly by a pair of men who are high in the saddle that it was all a mistake and that it will be rectified hurriedly.

"Not That Crazy"

"We're not that crazy," announced President Clarence 'Brick' Laws of the Oakland club after he the Owner Phil Wrigley of the Los Angeles had spent better than an hour placating Horace in a local hotel.

Laws and Wrigley asked their fellow club owners to give League President Clarence Rowland authority to meet with the heads of the six Major League teams which train out this way at Los Angeles on March 15 and to straighten things out to everyone's satisfaction. That is the meeting at which the big leaguers annually arrange their exhibition schedule for the following spring.

The guess here is that Rowland will have permission to work out an exhibition schedule with the Major Leaguers on a plan similar to that the Texas League intends to enforce next spring. That is, for each game two big leaguers play against each other they would be required to play a pair against Coast League teams. The big fellows are not fond of that restriction, either, but they are willing to let it ride.

Marine Sends Breezy Answer To Tax Collector

Remits Korean Note Of 100 Won, Worth 1-3 Of A Cent U. S.

CHICAGO (AP) — John T. Jarecki, collector of internal revenue in Chicago, disclosed a letter he received from a Marine in Chando-Rio, North Korea Monday.

The Marine, unidentified, had received a notice that he owed $30.30 on his 1950 tax.

"Dear Johnnie," the Marine wrote, "Your questionnaire was forwarded to me by my mother and I hope the enclosed contribution will tide the government over in these dire times. I can certainly assure you that you will receive the $30.30 from me when I return to civilian life.

"In the meantime, chin up, old bean, buy another war bond, give another pint of blood, and keep hoping that I don't meet one with my number on it. If so, I imagine you will find some way to get it out of my accrued leave pay or my $10,000 insurance. I have all the confidence in the world in you when it comes to collecting money. Till next summer then, good luck and don't take any wooden nickels."

With the letter was a bank note —100 Korean Won. Jarecki said it was worth about 1-3 of a cent.
