THURSDAY - DEC. 24, 1903

The president in his message, an extract of which was printed in these columns last week, wants congress to revise the timber and stone law, the commutation clause of the homestead act and the desert land law, to eliminate all chance of fraudulently acquiring title to public land. He does not set forth any method short of absolute repeal that will accomplish this purpose, but leaves the whole matter in the hands of congress to determine ways and means. Mr. Roosevelt seems much concerned about the disappearance of our public lands and wants to do something, he doesn't know what, to keep the lands rigidly for the homebuilder. Why not repeal all but the homestead act and give the whole business over to the scrippers? These laws are worthless because they can be got around; new laws can be framed that no one can get around, jump over, creep through or crawl under. Yes, of course; but it will take a man much smarter than President Roosevelt to find such laws and to put them on the statute books. The fact that he has nothing to suggest as a remedy is sufficient to indicate that he has no means, other than repeal, at hand to offer.

Homer Davenport, probably the greatest living cartoonist in the world, is an Oregon boy, born in Silverton. He recently quit a $10,000 job for Hearst to go to work for Collier at a salary of $50,000, and now Hearst has told him to not close that bargain till he can confer with him. Davenport was at one time the butt of the office force of the Oregonian. Look at him now!

We are receiving through the courtesy of Congressman Williamson a choice assortment of newspaper wrappers in the form of the Congressional Record. In the 38 years of its existence the Record has never changed its style either typographically or editorially, and is probably the only journal in the United States without an error.

The Shepherd's Bulletin for November contained a very interesting article on Allen & Lafollett and Prineville Land & Livestock Co. sheep ranches. The article is ably written and very entertaining but is too long for reproduction in these columns.

President Roosevelt virtually recommended in his message that congress be liberal in debating the Lewis and Clark appropriation. This time Mr. Roosevelt started off on the right foot.

Dowie has "went broke." This is to some extent the result of cussing the poor, downtrodden newspaper men of the country. Served the grafter right.

The Laws Are All Right.

The great increase in the acquisition of government lands is not to be looked upon in a sinister light by Roosevelt or his cabinet. The president's message to congress on the subject of public lands is so erroneous that no attention has or will be paid to it by the legislative body. There are men in Congress whose views on the subject are altogether more logical and sensible than those of the president. The people of the United States get absolutely no good from lands while in the government's hands. Every farm is an asset to the country. The lands hitherto left stagnant in the government's control were so left because they were undesirable. Prosperity and the rapid advances of lumber and agricultural prices have so changed conditions that there is a profit in acquiring these lands on the government's terms. Were there to be a depression the men who obtain these lands will lose by their transaction. A general value must be set on government lands and present prices and requirements are sufficient. The government is losing nothing.

If frauds are being committed it is not because of any defects in the laws but on account of improper administration of them. If Roosevelt cannot find means or men for the proper administration of the laws of the land he is admitting his unfitness for the office of president. The greater part of the land now under cultivation in the United States was once government land and was given to the people presumably without fraud and as the remaining portion cannot be farmed or hunted over privately by Roosevelt or Hitchcock it can safely be sold to the common herd.—Deschutes Echo.

The price of logs is down $2 in Wisconsin and Minnesota. This is probably due to the fact that there is a large supply of cut lumber in the yards of various lumber companies which has not yet been sold. While the timber in that section has been running low the mills have all been run at full capacity and have cut the greatest amount of lumber in their history. It seems that they have glutted the market this season. The condition, however, is not serious, as this year's crops are unusually large and a large amount of building will be done throughout the country. The depression is only temporary. This country's financial condition is largely dependent on agricultural success and this year is evidently a record-breaker.

City Election.

The Prineville city election was held Monday, with about a dozen tickets in the field. The following officers were elected for the year 1904:

Mayor, Will Wurzweiler.

Councilmen, Walter O'Neil, D F Stewart and J H Wigle.

Recorder, W A Bell.

Treasurer, J L McCulloch.

Marshal, R P Harrington.

The election was very quiet and but little interest appeared to be manifested as the day were on, the various candidates having to work energetically to hustle their friends to the polls. Only 129 votes were polled out of a possible 400 in the city limits. This looks bad, and shows the general feeling with regard to city elections. A large number of homesteaders in the neighborhood also could not vote and this also reduced the extraordinarily small vote.

Died.

W. H. Quinn, of Grizzly, died very suddenly last Thursday evening, at his Lone Pine ranch, of heart failure. The deceased had just started to feed the horses for the evening when the attack came on, and he fell to the ground. His son found him soon afterwards and came in for the coroner, who together with Mr. Lippman went down to the ranch.

Mr. Quinn was about 62 years of age, and leaves a large family to mourn his loss. The funeral took place at Lone Pine on Monday.

Notice of Election of Prineville Fire Department.

Election of chief and assistant chief of Prineville Fire Department will be held at the town hall Monday December 28, 1903. The following judges and clerks of election are appointed.

Judges—R G. Smith, I. Michell, Warren Crooks.

Clerks—Harold Baldwin, Herbert Ridout.

Polls open at five p. m., close seven p. m.

WM DRAPER, Pres.; C. J. WINKER, Sec.; Board of delegates.

Adrian Crooks and George Morley, the gentlemen in charge at the power house, have installed a miniature lighting plant in the window of Lippman's store. The equipment is complete, with the dynamo fed from a current from the main wire, and is a marvel of mechanical ingenuity. It will run every night during the holidays.

Carey W. Foster left Tuesday for Pendleton to spend the holidays with his best girl. Authentic reports have it that said best girl will soon be a permanent resident of Prineville.

Christmas at Bend.

What promises to be the biggest Christmas entertainment ever given on the Deschutes river will come off at the schoolhouse on Christmas Eve under the auspices of the Baptist Union Sunday School. The Misses Stenberg and Bandle and the superintendent, Thomas Triplett, have been arduously engaged in training the children and choir for some time and nothing is being spared by the entire membership to make the entertainment a success. Over $25 has already been raised by private subscription to send to Santa Claus and there is no doubt but that he will remember every little boy and girl in the neighborhood and make this Christmas a very happy one. All are invited to come and especially to bring the children as candy, nuts and presents will be provided for them. The exercises take up at eight o'clock sharp and the committee requests that everybody be on hand at least fifteen minutes earlier. Following is the program:

Opening Address	Clara Hunter
Hail to Christmas	Choir
Address of Welcome	Stephen Stodd

BRIGHT'S DISEASE.

The largest sum ever paid for a prescription, changed hands in San Francisco, Aug. 30, 1901. The transfer involved in coin and stock $112,500.00 and was paid by a party of business men for a specific for Bright's Disease and Diabetes, hitherto incurable diseases.

They commenced the serious investigation of the specific Nov. 15, 1900. They interviewed scores of the cured it on its merits by putting over three dozen cases on the treatment and watching them. They also got physicians to name chronic, incurable cases, and administered it with the physicians for judges. Up to Aug. 25, eighty seven per cent of the test were either well or progressing favorably.

There being but thirteen per cent of failures, the parties were satisfied and closed the transaction, the proceedings of the investigating committee and the clinical reports of the test cases were published and will be mailed free upon application. Address John J. Fulton Company, 420 Montgomery St. San Francisco, Cal.

THE PRINEVILLE REVIEW

A Wonderful Invention.

It is interesting to note that fortunes are frequently made by the invention of articles of minor importance. Many of the most popular devices are those designed to benefit the people and most popular conditions, and one of the most interesting of these that has ever been invented is the Dr. White Electric Comb, patented Jan. 1, '99. These wonderful combs positively cure dandruff, hair falling out, sick and nervous headaches, and when used in connection with Dr. White's Electric Hair Brush are positively guaranteed to make straight hair curly in 25 days' time. Thousands of these electric combs have been sold in the various cities of the Union, and the demand is constantly increasing. Our agents are rapidly becoming rich selling these combs. They positively sell on sight. Send for samples. Men's size 35c, ladies' 50c—half price while we are introducing them. See Want Column of this paper. The Electric Comb Co., Decatur, Ill.
