DEATH PENALTY PETITION OF 1924 MAY BE TOO OLD.

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

SALEM, June 18. — Whether petitions circulated in 1924 for abolition of the death penalty in Oregon and proposing to put a measure on the ballot in the general election of that year can be used in the initiation of a measure for the election of this year is a question that has been submitted to Attorney General Van Winkle.

Lettie Veatch Good, secretary and treasurer of the progressive civilization league of Portland, submitted the petitions to the secretary of state.

THE OLDEST INDIAN CONFEDERATION

What now remains of the once famous Iroquois Confederacy, composed of six tribes—the Mohawks, Senecas, Cayugas, Oneidas, Tuscaroras and Onadagas, are living on Reservations in the State of New York. Their "medicine men" made a crude tonic of the native roots and herbs, and fifty years ago Dr. R. V. Pierce, discovered a scientific way of combining these herbs into a most palatable tonic and blood purifier, which has become famous as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

CLAUDE WISE ARRESTED AT COTTAGE GROVE.

COTTAGE GROVE, June 18. — Claude Wise was arrested early Tuesday morning on a charge of intoxication by Night Officer Eastham after a chase through the city streets during which Eastham fired several times into the air to force Wise to stop. Upon appearing before Recorder Galloway, Wise was fined $50. He paid a fine of $25 a few days before on a similar charge.

BODY OF UNKNOWN IS FOUND AT COOS BAY

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

MARSHFIELD, Ore., June 18.—A body clad only in a green bathing suit has been found on the beach north of Coos Bay. The body was in such a decomposed condition that it was impossible to determine the sex, but the coroner expressed the opinion that the dead person was about 35 years old.

The coroner said the only possible means of identification was through fillings in the teeth of the lower jaw. He is continuing his examination under the belief that the body might possibly be that of Aimee Semple McPherson, missing Los Angeles evangelist.

LYSTUL-LAWSON MILLS AT GLENDALE BUILD RAILROAD

The Lystul-Lawson Lumber Company received a car of rails last week for use in the extension of their logging railroad into a new body of timber which will assure their log supply for many years, says the Glendale News.

During the past few years their logging roadroad has been extended through scattering pieces of timber at a large expense and at times it has been difficult for them to secure a sufficient quantity of logs to operate the mill steadily.

In spite of these conditions and the weak condition of the lumber market for the past two years the company has operated their mill almost steadily while many larger mills have been closed down much of the time. The company deserves much credit for operating their mill and providing employment for the people of Glendale during these trying times.

With a supply of logs assured for a long time to come, it is expected that the mill will operate steadily for many years.

The logging operations of the company are in charge of Mr. O. Wirgain, who has a successful record with several of the larges sawmill owners of Washington and Oregon.

Conditions like this speak for the stability of Glendale and predicts a steady growth in the future.

EUGENE PLANS BIG FETE FOR THE NARROW CUT-OFF

EUGENE, June 18. — Captain O. C. Applegate of Klamath Falls, the oldest scout and Indian fighter in Oregon, will be in Eugene for the pioneer parade during the Train-to-Rail celebration in August. The celebration will commemorate the completion of the new Natron cut-off line of the Southern Pacific railroad.

Captain Applegate was the first man to cut a wagon road in Klamath Falls. He is a Modoc Indian war veteran, and after the termination of the wars with the Indians he was in charge of the Reservations for years.

The first hook and ladder truck to appear in Eugene will also be in the parade.

A great barbecue for the pioneers is planned following the parade.

WOOL MARKET BEGINS TO SHOW IMPROVEMENT

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

BOSTON, June 18.—The Commercial Bulletin tomorrow will say:

"The past week has witnessed further distinct improvement in the wool market, sales to the domestic mills have increased, especially for domestic wools, and while prices are not quotably dearer, as a general proposition, it can be said that the decline in values has been halted and that the market is now against the buyer. The better feeling seems to be reflected in slightly increased activity in the west.

The Commercial Bulletin will publish the following wool quotations:

Scoured basis:

Oregon—Eastern fine staple $1.10; fine and fine medium choiring 95c@$1.00; valley, No. 1, 92½@95c.

Mohair—Best combing 65@70c; best carding 50@55c.

CONVICTED PAIR GIVEN EXTENSION OF TIME

(Associated Press Leased Wire.)

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., June 18.—Nicholas Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti, radicals and convicted slayers, whose trial in 1921 and subsequent fight to overturn the verdict has created wide interest, held new hope today.

As the result of the revelation for the first time of a confession made November 18, 1925, by Celestino Madeiros, twice convicted bank holdup slayer, Judge Webster Thayer, trial judge, yesterday granted a defense motion extending for two weeks the time allowed for filing affidavits in support of a new trial. The period originally set was to have expired Saturday.

PORTLAND MAN GAINS 12 POUNDS TAKING KARNAK

This Medicine Put Him on His Feet a New Man After He Had Suffered 3 Years Misery nd Wasted $3,000, Says World War Veteran.

"I tell you, the five bottles of Karnak I took were worth a hundred times their cost to me, and I have started several of my friends on the medicine, too, and they are all coming along nicely," declares C. W. White, of 21 E. 7th St., Portland, Ore., world war veteran.

"Yes sir, Karnak is a knockout of a medicine," continued Mr. White. "In the world war I was gassed and ever since my stomach gave me no end of trouble. I tell you, the past three years the gas bloating and pains in the pit of my stomach were just almost unbearable.

"I couldn't rest—the very sight or smell of food would upset me. What little I forced myself to eat would always sour on my stomach, and I tell you I just felt 'tough' all over. I was so weak and wornout it was all I could do to pull through a day's work. I must have spent as much as three thousand dollars trying to get relief, but I suffered right on.

"Then along comes this Karnak and puts me on my feet again. Say, I eat like a starved man now, and my digestion seems perfect. My stomach is like a smooth running engine, and I have gained 12 good pounds in weight. Why, I'm so brimful of new strength and energy it makes my work seem fifty per cent easier for me now, and I only regret I didn't have Karnak sooner. Tell 'em to see me about this medicine, it's a world beater."

Karnak is sold in Roseburg by Nathan Fullerton, the Rexall store, and by all other leading druggists in Roseburg and every other town.

OLD HOME FOR PIONEER SWEDES WAITING PRINCE

NEWTON, Mass., June 18.—There will be three acres of Sweden in the heart of New England on Sunday, June 20. After a round of social functions and visits to seats of learning and culture, the Crown Prince and Princess of Sweden are going to spend the last of their four days in Boston with the old folks.

Over the green of the grounds of the Swedish Old People's Home in West Newton will swirl the full skirts of dancers bodiced and capped in the national costume of Sweden. Opposite them will step the men and boys in ancient folk dances. Then the Triangle Chorus, only one of the famous groups of Swedish singers whose festivals are looked for in the spring, are going to present a program which will include many of the classic songs of that land as well as the best that is American.

There is a primping and a fixing up of best dresses going on among the more than thirty residents of the home, each of whom is a native of Sweden, although many of them gave their best years to the building of America.

They are particularly glad to see the prince because it was his youngest brother William, who indirectly led to the establishment of the home.

NEW ROAD TO BE OPEN IN TIME FOR CELEBRATION

CRESCENT CITY, June 18.—That the one remaining stretch of the old one way road between Grants Pass, Oregon, and this city will be eliminated by June 20 with the opening for travel the newly constructed highway through the Smith River canyon, built by convicts from San Quentin penitentiary, is the word received here today from the California state highway commission.

This word was hailed with joy by the committee in charge of the Mid-Pacific Joint Land and Naval festival to be held here July 3, 4 and 5, for it breaks down the barrier which has in the past restricted travel over the Redwood highway link which connects with the Pacific highway at Grants Pass, and which would have restricted travel to this city from southern and central Oregon for the festival.

The festival committee is now rapidly rushing its plans to completion for the reception and entertainment of the thousands of whom will come to the coast to play on the beaches and thus escape the hot weather of the interior. Other thousands will be attracted by the battleships which will lay in the local harbor and be open to visitors. Still others will make their way to the rodeo to watch the bucking, racing and bull-dogging, which will have the appearance of a little "Pendleton."

SUGGESTS MORE MONEY IN BRAINS OF U. S. COLLEGES

ITHACA, N. Y., June 17.—American colleges put too much money into buildings and not enough into brains, in the opinion of Dr. Ernst Cohen, eminent Dutch chemist who is lecturing at Cornell prior to visiting other American universities.

Dr. Cohen, who is professor of physical chemistry at the University of Utrecht and president of the International Congress of Pure and Applied Chemistry, believes that although higher education in America is rapidly approaching European standards, the importance of physical equipment is overemphasized here.

"If a private individual gives to one of your universities," he said, "a large proportion of the gift goes into buildings. In fact, it would seem that there is too much competition in this respect, with the result that your young people are tempted to chose their colleges on the basis of physical rather than scholastic advantages.

"Of course your educational plants offer extraordinary facilities, particularly for professional training, and I think it will not be long before you can match Europe in scholarship. But the development of your universities depends upon the maintenance of the faculties on the highest standards. You should pay your professors more—at least as much, surely, as you pay your artisans and mechanics. The average university salary in Europe, I believe, is well above the average honorarium received by the professors in this country."

He Is Looking 'Em Over Again

"Eight years of stomach and liver trouble reduced me to a walking skeleton. My skin was dried up and as yellow as a twenty-dollar gold piece. I was filled with gas and had severe pains in my right side. I could not think and had lost all ambition to do anything. Doctor's medicine did not touch me. My cousin advised Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, which snatched me from the grave. I have gained sixty pounds, eat like a hired man and am looking 'em over again." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. All druggists.
