Lenten quiet has earnestly swept the social calendar free of all large affairs and very little in the way of entertaining aside from one or two benefits, the meeting of dinner and bridge clubs and a few attractive luncheons has served to enliven the week.

The coming week, however, holds promise of at least one large affair of special interest when the parish house of St. Joseph's church, newly remodeled, will have a formal public opening at the St. Patrick's card party sponsored by the Progressive Sewing circle of the church on the evening of the 17th. The benefit is open to the public and is only one of many delightful affairs planned for the spring. Mrs. T. H. Ness, Mrs. J. Koenig, Mrs. H. McClellan, Mrs. L. J. Barnes, Mrs. A. P. Rapin, Mrs. J. H. Nichols and Mrs. Richard Willett are directing the different committees in charge of arrangements.

The Elks St. Patrick's dancing party on Thursday evening at the Elks hall will be a gala affair of the new week. Decorations in keeping with the occasion will be used in the long hall, green favors and quaint features being combined to form a fitting setting. Joseph A. Denn, T. H. Ness, Frank Hill and Harold Bellows compose the committee having charge. Supper will be served in the middle of the evening, after which dancing will continue.

Spring vacation is in the offing and the younger set will soon be home from college and the universities for a week, while several are making trips with the glee clubs during that time. A number are expected to arrive from the University of Oregon early in the coming week.

Mr. and Mrs. Wharton Hosts on Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. W. Wharton were hosts for a lovely 7 o'clock dinner party at their home at 203 North Chadwick street on Monday evening, the occasion observing their wedding anniversary and the birthday anniversaries of Mrs. J. R. Wharton and Geo. T. Bolter.

The table was colorfully set with a low bowl of daffodils, with covers placed for Mr. and Mrs. Geo. T. Bolter, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Wharton, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Wharton, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. W. Wharton, John Young and Billy Wharton.

Past Matrons Club Entertains Husbands

The Past Matrons Club members entertained their husbands at an interesting 6 o'clock dinner on Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Runyan on the corner of Jackson and Orcutt streets.

Covers were laid at small tables for Mrs. W. S. Jost, Mrs. R. W. Rigks, Mrs. Geo. Kohlhagen, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bubar, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Singleton, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Clingenpeel, Mr. and Mrs. A. Abraham, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Burt, Mr. and Mrs. V. S. French, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bell, and Mr. and Mrs. Runyan.

Following the dinner hour the tables were cleared for games of five hundred.

Five Hundred Party Honors Matron

A very pleasurable affair of the week was the afternoon of five hundred and tea planned for the pleasure of Mrs. Harry Pappal at the home of Mrs. Harry Wheeler at 926 South Jackson street Monday. The decorations were in tones of early spring.

High score for the afternoon was held by Mrs. John Fredricks and low, Mrs. Chas. Ritzman.

Mrs. Wheeler served at small tables. Invited for the affair were the Mesdames Harry Pappal, J. B. Piland, G. E. Reynolds, W. A. Jenkins, John Fredricks, Cole Owens, Ray Rauch, Chas. Ritzman, L. F. Wangaman, J. W. Dowell, and the Misses Edith Brehaut, Harriet Brehaut, Alethia Wheeler.

Dinner and Bridge Club Has Delightful Evening

The dinner on Thursday evening at the Umpqua hotel for which Mr. and Mrs. G. V. Wimberly were hosts inviting members of the Dinner and Bridge club and an additional guest was a very pleasurable affair of the week.

Covers were laid for Mrs. A. L. Wilson of Ludington, Michigan, Mr. and Mrs. Leon McClintock, Dr. and Mrs. Clair K. Allen, Dr. and Mrs. H. C. Church, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Hochradel, Mr. and Mrs. Jno. R. Farrington and the hosts.

The group later went to the Wimbrely home on Glenn street and tables were placed for bridge. The meeting of the club was especially interesting as the scores of the evening were totaled, forming the last of a series of games to be played during the season in which each player received a prize in the order of their scores.

Mrs. J. B. Piland Entertains With Five Hundred

Mrs. J. B. Piland planned a charming affair Friday, inviting a number of matrons for an afternoon of five hundred. Decorations in keeping with the early spring season formed a pretty color note in the rooms. At the end of the game Mrs. Geo. Reynolds held high honors and Mrs. Harry Pappal low score.

Luncheon covers were placed for the Mesdames H. M. Wheeler, Harry Pappal, Geo. Reynolds, J. W. Dowell, W. A. Jenkins, L. F. Wangaman, Cole Owens and Miss Jane Wangaman.

Past Matrons Club Has Informal Afternoon

The members of the Past Matrons Club spent a delightful informal afternoon Tuesday as guests of Mrs. Wm. Bell at her apartments on South Jackson street. Following the regular business meeting the ladies sewed.

Luncheon covers were placed for the Mesdames Frank Bond, W. S. Jost, T. E. Singleton, Paul Bubar, T. B. Virdin, R. W. Riggs, J. E. Runyan, W. E. Clingenpeel, A. Abraham, W. G. Burt, Geo. Kohlhagen, V. S. French and the hostess.

Bridge Club Meets For Play

On Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Abbott invited the members of their bridge club and additional guests for play. Ladies' first prize was received by Mrs. J. C. Ponsler and the men's prize went to J. A. Harding.

Bowls of fragrant violets and daffodils were used in the rooms where tables were placed for luncheon at the end of the game. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Harris, guests, and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Harding, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Ponsler, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Sutherland, Mr. and Mrs. Ben C. Zigler and the hosts.

Enrollment in Bible Study Class Enlarged Greatly in Two Years

The Women's Bible class of the First Presbyterian church is planning a social afternoon, to be the second since the first of this year, to be given in the near future. The class was organized two years ago, with just five women in attendance, and the enrollment has increased until at the present time there are 59 women members. Miss Margaret Baldwin named the class "Steadfast."

Its president is Mrs. T. B. Virdin and the instructor is Mrs. R. W. Achor, wife of the pastor of the church. Mrs. Achor was trained in the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago and is capably fitted to instruct in this sort of work. No specified line of study for the class is followed, but at the present time the members have taken as study topic the book of Acts.

Some work along philanthropic lines has been taken up by the Bible class and the members are planning to extend this in the future. The growth of the organization has necessitated the removal of the partition in the church to enlarge the class room.

D. A. R. and Woman's Club to Have Joint Program

The Roseburg Woman's Club and Umpqua Chapter, Daughters of American Revolution will meet jointly on Tuesday afternoon, March 15 at the I. O. O. F. hall. Mrs. Carl B. Neal, Mrs. Dean Dubar, Mrs. L. B. Skinner of the Woman's club and Mrs. Wm. Campbell and Mrs. E. B. Stewart of the D. A. R. have charge of the program arrangements. On the refreshment committee are Mrs. Foster Butner, Mrs. Wm. Bell and Mrs. J. C. Ponsler.

The principal speaker of the afternoon will be Dr. Frank B. Matthews, who will talk on "Red Revolutionists in America." Mrs. C. S. Heinline will furnish the musical program.

Club Meets for No-Host Dinner and Five Hundred Friday

The Northside Five Hundred Club and added guests were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Hartley at 604 South Stephens street on Friday evening, a no-host dinner being arranged for 7 o'clock. Bowls of jonquils and fragrant hyacinths were used in the rooms and at the tables, which were cleared for five hundred following the dinner hour.

Club prizes went to Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Whipple and Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Wharton received the guest prize.

Invited were Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Wharton, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Whipple, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Crocker, Mr. and Mrs. G. V. Wimberly, Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Sellick, Mr. and Mrs. J. Wendgi Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Bruna and Dr. and Mrs. H. C. Church.

Club Matrons Entertained by Mrs. Ed Marsters

For their meeting on March 3 the matrons of the Northside Sunshine Club were invited to the home of Mrs. Ed Marsters. Following the regular business session the group sewed and chatted during the afternoon until the tea hour when luncheon was served.

Covers were placed for the Mesdames Ben Chilson, B. S. Nichols, L. W. Ingles, Wm. Fisher, Virgil Bush, James Bartley, Robert Chilson, George Marsters, Fred Bowen, Claude Pettit, an additional guest, Mrs. Walter Kurtz, and the hostess.

Social Evening at Christian Church Thursday

The women's section of the Christian church on Thursday evening entertained the men of the class, the affair culminating from an attendance contest held recently, in which a social evening was the forfeit.

A number of novel games proved interesting and enjoyable during the evening and afterward refreshments were served by the ladies. About 50 enjoyed the affair.

Miss McClelland Returning to Ponca City

Miss Kathleen McClelland, who has been an attractive and popular visitor in the city since the holidays as the guest of her mother, Mrs. C. M. Boyd, at her home on east Douglas street, is returning to Ponca City, Oklahoma, leaving tonight via the southern route. In Los Angeles Miss McClelland will spend a week or so with friends. Her marriage of Mr. J. G. Landrum of Ponca City, will be an event of early spring. Mr. Landrum is associated with his father in business in that city. During her stay in Roseburg Miss McClelland has been extensively entertained.

Helen Falbe Is Initiated Into Spurs

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, March 12.—(Special)—Helen Falbe of Roseburg, sophomore in the school of vocational education, has been initiated into Spurs, national honorary fraternity for underclass women. The Oregon Agricultural college chapter of Spurs was installed March 5 by officers of the University of Washington chapter. The underclass women's organization was founded at Montana State college, Bozeman, in November, 1924 and has seven chapters, the O. A. C. chapter being the seventh. It replaces the citation committee, former local sophomore women's honorary fraternity.

Members of Spurs are chosen from every sorority and independent living group on the campus for the purpose of enforcing traditions, instilling Beaver pep and generally supervising the activities of freshman women.

Miss Daphne Hughes Is Hostess to Group

Miss Daphne Hughes entertained the D. O. O. D.'s at the Washington Hughes home on Spruce street recently. The afternoon was spend informal, and at the close luncheon was served the Misses Elizabeth Abrahams, Pauline Bubar, Frances Butner, Shirley Knight, Dorothy Geddes, Vera McClintock, Mildred Sinniger and the hostess.

Junior Class Has Delightful Party

The Junior class party at the senior high school on the evening of February 25 was one of the enjoyable affairs of the season. Games afforded entertainment during part of the evening and a program was given, including a playlet and an amusing skit. At the close of the evening refreshments were served.

Garden Valley Woman's Club Has Informal Meet

Mrs. Earl McCoy entertained the Garden Valley Woman's Club at the home of her mother, Mrs. G. McDaniel, on the afternoon of March 3. Spring blossoms and potted plants were used in the rooms as decorations and a low bowl of lovely yellow daffodils centered the luncheon table where the hostess served at the close of an informal afternoon.

The members present were the Mesdames E. J. Brown, R. A. Calhoun, E. J. Ewens, E. E. LaBrie, G. McDaniel, E. McKay, A. Niday, F. Parrott, Hugh Ritchie, Sr., A. Schneider, H. Ritchie, Jr., John Sinclair, Pete Sinclair and additional guests were Mrs. J. Boyd, Mrs. Potvin, Mrs. Wilson and Miss Edna Niday.

Miss Renner Hostess at Charming Affair

Miss Elizabeth Renner was hostess on her birthday anniversary Saturday at a charming afternoon party to which were invited members of the younger set. Bridge and music were diversions for the afternoon. The luncheon table was colorfully set with tall pink tapers and centered with a bowl of fragrant pink carnations. Mrs. Harry Winston and Mrs. Fred Renner assisted during the afternoon.

Bidden were the Misses Dorothy Marsters, Pauline Bubar, Daphne Hughes, Vera McClintock, Dorothy Geddes, Elizabeth Abraham and Frances Butner.

Interesting Program for Junior High P. T. A.

The program for the meeting of the Junior High School P. T. A., at the school building on Tuesday night will be of unusual interest, musical selections and talks varying the numbers. The regular business session will precede the program.

The numbers are as follows:

Piano solo, Philip Demler; Benefits of Physical Education, Mrs. B. E. Larson, physical education instructor; Your Attitude Towards P. T. A. Work, W. M. Campbell, school superintendent; vocal duet, Misses Euleta and Coleta Langenberg; Parents' Visitation, Mrs. J. K. Falbe.

The P. T. A. is planning for a very interesting entertainment for the evening of March 29 at the Junior high school, to which the public is invited. Wm. Greenleaf, well known interpreter of Shakespearean plays will furnish the features of the program and music will be arranged in conjunction with his readings.

Mrs. T. P. Byram Entertains With St. Patrick's Luncheon

St. Patrick's day was the inspiration of an attractive one o'clock luncheon this week at which Mrs. T. P. Byram entertained the matrons of the New Idea Club of Edenbower and additional guests on Wednesday. Decorations in the rooms and the table appointments were carried out in hues of green.

During the afternoon a business session held the attention of the group. Mrs. E. C. Weber and Mrs. V. Buckingham were club guests. The members present were Mrs. F. D. Owen, Mrs. F. M. Curtis, Mrs. C. L. Mabley, Mrs. Elmira Smith, Mrs. Forrest Jones, Mrs. J. Bailey, Mrs. F. A. Stewart, Mrs. J. Blosser, Mrs. D. E. Hendrickson and the hostess.

Couple Leaving Soon Honored by Group

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Hatfield, who are leaving within a few days to make their home in Tillamook county, where Mr. Hatfield will be in charge of a dairy farm, were honored on Tuesday evening by a group of intimate friends who called at their home at North Deer Creek to bid them adieu.

The evening was informally spent and afterward refresments were served. Included in the group were the Mesdames Chas. Kroger, H. Koger, E. Hatfield, Bessie Ingram, J. B. Kurtz, J. P. Brumback, M. F. Weber, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Hatfield, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Bonebrake, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hahn, Mr. and Mrs. Ber, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Lindbloom, the Misses Elizabeth Oliver, Mildred Brown, Blanche Oliver, and Charles Hahn, Leslie Kurtz, Will Dixon, Thomas Lindbloom, Gene Koger, Lavon Koger, and Maurice Weber, Jr.

Miss Lilly Christopherson is expected from the University of Oregon Tuesday to spend spring vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Christopherson.

Elsie Carleton Strang Entertains for Group

On Thursday evening Elsie Carleton Strang entertained for her pupils who will broadcast from KMED at Medford on the night of March 22. Additional guests were Mr. Fletcher Fish of Medford, well known tenor soloist in the Episcopal church at Medford, and O. E. Berger of Seattle.

Mr. Berger has just returned from a trip south and brought with him the news that KMED has strengthened its station to 500 meters, which will probably enable Roseburg radio fans to hear the program this month.

Mrs. Strang has arranged on her program women's trios and duets and solos. Those who will participate are Mattie Lee Taylor, soprano, Grace Wickham Deets, contralto, Eva Rice, mezzo-soprano, and Lyman L. Spencer, baritone. Frances Lintott will do all the accompanying for this program.

Girls, Beware

Marriage and Babies on $25 a Week, Says

Bandit Queen

Vivian Ingram, 25-year-old flapper bandit, pictured above, confessed in Toledo, Ohio, that she and two men held up nine filling stations and a number of petting parties. The girl has a four-year-old daughter. She faces imprisonment. Here is a story she wrote about her plight.

By Vivian Ingram

I advise any girl who has a home not to leave it for a $25-a-week hubby. No matter how much you love him, it can't be done—not when God sends you babies.

It's easy for the people to sit in their comfortable homes with loved ones, who have three meals a day, and condemn me, but I wonder how many of those very people, if they had my tough breaks—thrown out into the world alone—could make good.

I know nothing about law, but I admire it. I wish I had been caught before.

Now my only hope is that I get a square deal.

Somehow I don't get a thrill now out of my title, "Her Royal Highness, Queen of the Bandits."

I hope that girls who have a home and mother will profit by my mistake.

Daughters of Job Benefit Play Is Splendid Entertainment

The benefit play sponsored by Roseburg Bethel, Daughters of Job, at the Masonic hall last evening proved very entertaining to those who attended. The play titled "An Old Fashioned Garden," was interspersed with bits of clever dancing, good solo numbers and was replete with excellent chorus selections.

There were five principals, Frances Butner, Ruth Gilmore, Elizabeth Renner, Jean Whitney, and Lucille Germond, besides the choruses presenting old fashioned songs and dances. The stage settings were very effectively worked out, and all of the characters were quaint in old fashioned costumes. With the Rose chorus number, Miss Vera McMillin gave a solo dance, one of the several attractive features of the play.

Mrs. Donald Helliwell and Miss Ferne Reymers directed the play. Proceeds go to the educational fund maintained by the Daughters of Job.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Jackman, of this city left this morning for Medford to visit over Sunday. They will return here tomorrow night.

Lewis Amort, of Reedsport, is expected here tonight and will visit with his brother Paul Amort, and family over Sunday.

DAFFODILS

Daffodils so bright and gay
We welcome you once more,
You tell us spring is not far off
And cold will soon be o'er.

You are a plucky little flower
You brave the winter's storm
While other plants are nipped with frost
Your petals show no harm.

And that is why we love you so,
For flowers just now, are few,
You do so much to cheer us up,
The violets sweet, and you.

Your petals have just the right hue,
For days are sometimes drear,
And weather's still in winter's grip,
The time when you are here.

So bloom away, you pretty flower
With coat of green and gold,
And we will take a hint from you,
And just forget the cold.

EMMA J. BRISTOL.

"WHAT TO LOOK FOR IN FACES."

"Whatsoever things are true;
Whatsoever things are pure;
Whatsoever things are honest"—
These things, to think upon are best.
All folk to me are pure in mind
Until they're prov'n the baser kind,
And God alone is judge.
All folk to me are true as true,
'Till they my confidence undo,
With words I know are lies.
And most of folk are honest, too,
I would not think that thefts accrue
With those I daily meet.
Let me with trust look on a face
The scars I think are sin's deep trace
May be but marks of victory won
Which counts for him when life is done.

LIBERTY THEATRE

"Summer Bachelors" Mirth Provoking Entertainment

A revelry of joy and laughter is the treat for those who witness the showing of Fox Films version of Warner Fabrian's novel, "Summer Bachelors," at the Liberty Theatre tomorrow.

"Summer Bachelors," which first

MADGE BELLAMY in "SUMMER BACHELORS" A WILLIAM FOX ATTRACTION

appeared serially in McClure's Magazine and has since become a best seller, is a sensational revelation of this jazz age in which we live, and Allan Dwan the director chose to handle it, and very successfully, from a humorous angle. The story has for its premise the idea that husbands do not languish home nights when their better halfs are away on their summer vacation. Quite the contrary, and the results as shown in the film are mirth provoking in the extreme.

An all-star cast with Madge Bellamy in the leading feminine role and Allan Forrest in the principal summer bachelor part, give fine performances. Such noted players of the screen and stage as Olive Tell, Matt Moore, Walter Catlett, Hale Hamilton and Charles Winninger support the leads and the result is a combination of acting story and direction that has been seldom equalled. A truly fine entertainment.

This picture is one that should be seen—and will be appreciated—by all bachelors, all spinsters, all husbands and all wives—at least once.

LIBERTY THEATRE

All dog lovers will be immensely interested in FBO's newest "Ranger" picture, "Flaming Fury," which began a 2 day run yesterday at the Liberty Theatre with the big police-dog in the starring role. An original and highly dramatic theme has been woven into a North Woods locale, and the entire production is one of the best canine films ever produced.

The story turns on the big dog's running off to the woods to become a "killer," following unjust treatment at the hands of his master, who believes the animal is vicious. The progress of the tale builds up to an intensely powerful climax, with Ranger as a four-footed spirit of vengeance, who enacts a terrible payment from the unscrupulous factor and his half-breed helper. How retribution and atonement are both made forms the theme of the gripping finish of this exciting picture.

ANTLERS

Norma Talmadge in New Film Thriller.

Hard luck followed both Norma Talmadge and her leading man, Eugene O'Brien, during the filming of her latest picture, "The Only Woman."

Many of the scenes, depicting a thrilling shipwreck in mid-ocean, called for unusually rigorous action on the part of the pair. As the picture will show, they are forced to cling to the frail railing of a yacht which is being tossed about like a feather while huge ocean waves sweep over them. The danger lay not only in being swept overboard, but also in exposure to the cold salt water.

All one night the couple battled a fierce squall fifty miles out from Los Angeles and finally were compelled to abandon the yacht, which was washed up on the rocks of Catalina Island and was fast disintegrating.

As a result of being soaked to the skin both Norma and O'Brien caught severe colds, as well as other members of the company of sixty which participated in the scenes. Eugene was threatened with pneumonia, and it was necessary to postpone the filming of the picture for a week, pending his recovery.

More hard luck followed when, later, an iron cable slipped from its fastening in the United Studios and struck Norma. Her injury was painful, but not serious, and after treatment at the community hospital she was enabled to continue with her work.

"The Only Woman," a First National picture produced by Joseph M. Schenck, will be shown at the Antlers theatre tomorrow.

Norma Talmadge and Eugene O'Brien in "The Only Woman"

MAJESTIC.

Thrills Galore.

Imagine, if you can, a fight on a rising drawbridge in which the loser goes plunging, unconscious, into a rock strewn river! Imagine a runaway railroad car headed straight for that open draw! Imagine a fight on a speeding train, to participate in which both the hero and the heroine had to make a death-defying leap against almost insurmountable odds! Imagine all of these things, and you still have but a faint idea of the many kicks which "The Dixie Flyer" possesses.

"The Dixie Flyer," a Rayart Superior Melodrama, will be shown at the Majestic theatre tomorrow.
