CLUB WORK WILL BE EXHIBITED AT FAIR, OCT. 26-28

An industrial club fair is to be presented in Roseburg October 26, 27 and 28 in connection with the teachers' institute which will be in progress at that time. Douglas county has a great many boys and girls who are engaged in club projects and few people really realize what these youngsters are doing. In order that there may be a better understanding and also to encourage the club workers J. Roland Parker, county horticulturist and county club leader has made arrangements for holding an exhibition at the same time as the institute. Any club member who has completed his work and filed a final report will be eligible for premium awards. Where final reports have not already been filed, arrangements are being made so that they can be filed with the exhibit. Very liberal premiums are bein goffered for each division of the club products that have been carried within the county during the year.

OREGON WOOL IS SHIPPED BY BOAT TO ATLANTIC COAST

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 20.—Wool is moving in large volume to Atlantic coast ports. During the month of July, 6,104,000 pounds with a value of $1,935,000 cleared for the east coast by water bringing the total movement for the seven months of the calendar year 1927 up to 16,253,000 pounds valued at $5,194,000, exceeding by 302,000 pounds the movement made during the first seven months of 1926, when the shipments amounted to 15,930,000 pounds, with a value of $5,360,000, according to a statement issued by the Pacific Department, The Port of Portland Commission, Portland, Oregon. In the seven months of the calendar year 1925, the movement was 5,870,000 pounds, valued at $2,151,000 being approximately one-third the amount moved during the seven months of the present year.

Portland is the second primary wool market in the United States, and is the distributing point for the wool grown in Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana, more wool being produced in the Pacific Northwest than in any other similar area in the United States.

At the present time, there is upwards of two million pounds of wool stored in the local warehouses waiting sale and delivery. Recent reports indicate that there has been a general improvement in the wool markets of the East, as well as in foreign countries, and growers are expecting a substantial raise in prices.

A remarkable growth in wool shipments through Portland has been shown since the year 1920. During that year 301 tons were shipped, as compared with 10,496 tons during the calendar year 1926. The final tabulation for the present year will probably exceed any previous record.

Large quantities of woolen goods are manufactured by the woolen mills located in this territory. The production of these plants showing a steady yearly increase, the principal outlet being through Eastern jobbing centers, only a small amount finding its way into the foreign trade.

A small amount of wool has been imported during the past few years, principal shipments coming from Australia and New Zealand. A goodly portion of the inbound movement is in bond for delivery to Eastern manufacturing centers.

FAIR WEATHER NEXT WEEK

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 20.—The weather outlook for the week beginning August 21 was announced here today by the United States weather bureau as follows:

Far western states: The outlook is for fair weather but with the usual amount of fog along the coast.

Temperatures will be normal along the coast and generally above normal in the interior.

EXPERT ADVISES NEW REMEDY FOR ILLS OF FARMING

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., Aug. 20.—The adoption of a scientific constructive land settlement program to relieve agricultural ills was urged today at the Institute of Politics by Nils A. Olsen, assistant chief of the bureau of agricultural economics, department of agriculture, in a discussion of land policies as they relate to farm prosperity.

Much of the farmers' trouble has been due to federal and state land policies, which stimulated unwise extension of agricultural production, he contended. He outlined a land policy designed to help place agriculture on a stable, profitable basis, claiming such a policy should prevent the present great reserve of potential crop land from being brought into use so rapidly as to cause chronic surpluses from farm products.

The outgrown homestead policy with its stimulus to land settlement should be abandoned, our reforestation policy should be expanded and a system of regulation applied to the uncontrolled open range of the west, he asserted. Reclamation of swamp lands which cannot compete with lands now in use and federal and state activity concerned with shaping public land policies should be coordinated, he maintained.

SIGNS ADVERTISE CITY

Roseburg will receive some very favorable advertising as a result of the new highway signs being erected by the Shell Oil company. All Shell signs between Grants Pass and Cottage Grove will bear a picture of a fisherman hooking a large fish and will bear the name "Roseburg" in large letters. Signs in the Grants Pass district will advertise the Oregon Caves and in Eugene district the McKenzie highway.

DEMPSEY'S WIFE IN SERIOUS WAY; DOCTORS CALLED

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

CHICAGO, Aug. 20.—Three specialists have been called into consultation by Estelle Taylor, wife of Jack Dempsey, following a somewhat serious turn in her condition, it was learned today. The excitement attending the trip from the coast and the enthusiastic reception here was reported to have led the screen actress to fear a relapse.

Dempsey yesterday cancelled all his engagements so that he could be with his wife until she is resting easier, and although her condition is not regarded as alarming he is devoting all his time to making her more comfortable.

Dempsey said he thought that if everything moved along as it is now she would be all right in a few weeks. His friends, however, expressed fears that he would worry too greatly and that this perhaps would affect his chances to beat Gene Tunney when they meet next month.

FLASHES OF LIFE

(By the Associated Press)

NEW YORK.—A great business career is predicted for Tony Fumente of Long Island City. Business was dull in his shine parlor. He conceived the idea of nailing prospects and offering to match coins. If he lost the prospect would get a shine free; if Tony won he got the regular price of five cents. "I come out way ahead," said Tony. "You see, a shine cost me only half a cent."

DUBLIN.—Mayor Jimmy Walker of New York, who has quite a gift of Blarney himself, seems to have met his match. The Irish Channel was like a mill pond when he crossed. "Good seamanship," said the mayor to the captain. "Tribute to your homecoming," said the captain to the mayor.

NEW YORK.—Folks of 40 years and over are being organized for a protest against exclusion from jobs because of age. The organizer, who identifies himself solely as "Mr. Action," says he is successful in business himself. He has called a mass meeting at a Y. M. C. A. and says many employers have promised him cooperation.

WARSAW.—A man in Minsk has failed to obtain a divorce on the ground that his wife wore a bobbed sheitel (wig) and short sleeves. A rabbi held that the bobbing did not constitute departure from custom and took his wife's opinion that the short sleeves were not immodest.

LAKE GEORGE, N. Y.—Mrs. Lottie Moore Schommel, originator of the grease swimming suit, has a new specialty—long distance rowing. She propelled a boat the length of the lake—32 miles—in eight hours, as part of her training for a marathon swim at Toronto.

NEW YORK—Harry Atha Seggerman does not know it yet, but it cost him $5,000 to be a boy. Frederick K. Seggerman, who died a few weeks ago, left a will stipulating that his prospective grandchild should have a legacy of $10,000 if a girl; half that amount if a boy. Harry has just arrived.

SANTANDER, Spain — Official American documents vouch for the good character of General Primo de Rivera. He's an honorary sailor in the American navy now. Before he could become such he had to have references. Ambassador Hammond and Padilla obliged and put their John Hancocks on a piece of paper aboard the U. S. S. Detroit.
