SOCIETY

By MILDRED BYNON

A surprise party was held Wednesday evening when friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. William McGee gathered at their home in West Roseburg. The occasion marked the wedding anniversary of the couple. Music and social chat were diversions of the evening followed by the serving of a dainty luncheon late in the evening.

An interesting event was the Mother's Day and Health Day picnic Sunday at Roberts Creek. The picnic was held on the school grounds with Miss Ona Durch in charge of the arrangements. Students of the school, their parents and friends participated in the event. A bounteous dinner was served, followed by a program. During the afternoon the school exhibits were examined and late in the evening supper was served.

JOE STECHER DEFEATS MALCEWICZ IN MAT BOUT

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

TULSA, Okla., May 14.—Joe Stecher, Nebraska scissor artist and former holder of the world's heavyweight wrestling crown, took an appreciative stride forward in his comeback campaign here last night when he defeated Joe Malcewicz, the Utica, N. Y., panther.

Stecher lost the first fall in 51 minutes of cautious grappling when, in his anxiety to bring Malcewicz to the floor where he could apply the full force of his body scissors, he became careless of his shoulders and allowed them to rest upon the mat.

In the second fall, which came in 12 minutes, Stecher crashed down upon Malcewicz, his knee sinking in the panther's side as they landed and his scissors brought a quick finish. When Malcewicz returned for the last fall, he was obviously in pain and succumbed to another body scissors in one minute.

MAKING CHANGES AT TERMINAL HOTEL

Interior decorators are working this week at the Terminal hotel, redecorating the coffee shop and interior of the lobby. The floors are being refinished in tile effect and fresh tints applied to the walls. These changes, together with the enlargement of the kitchen last week, will enable the management to handle the increasing patronage to better advantage.

PORTLAND FIRMS PROTEST NEW STATE MOTOR LAW

SALEM, Ore., May 14.—About a dozen Portland firms that make motor vehicle delivery of goods into Washington have written Secretary of State Hoss asking him to set aside the new law, effective next month, whereby Washington delibery cars operating more than 20 miles on the Oregon side of the boundary must get Oregon licenses. The reason is that a reciprocal Washington law makes the same requirement of Oregon cars going into Washington. This, they claim, is to the disadvantage of Oregon because the Oregon vehicles are unable to reach any large Washington city without buying Washington licenses. Secretary Hoss said today that while he dislikes to enforce the new law he has no alternative.

PARIS.—Andre du Lye, a young peasant living near St. Andre de L'Eure, has been found to be a direct descendant of one of Joan of Arc's brothers. His family has the right to the title of Count and to sport the coat of arms of two golden fleur-de-lis on an azure shield and sword surmounted by a crown. The family has never used the title.

PLATT T. RANDALL, FORMER ROSEBURG RESIDENT, DEAD

Word was received here today of the death of Platt Talcott Randall, former Roseburg resident, who has been recently employed as an accountant in the Copco head office at Medford. Mr. Randall's death followed a prolonged illness from stomach trouble. He was born at Portland, May 22, 1876, and had been connected with the California Oregon Power company in the accounting department for a number of years, being located in Roseburg for about five years before going to Medford. He was a member of the Roseburg lodge of Elks and also of the local Episcopal church.

He leaves six children, four daughters, Mrs. C. D. Lorton, Glenwood, Calif.; Mrs. Eugenia Hufham, Roseburg, Ore.; Dorothy, Medford; Elizabeth, Berkeley, Calif.; Stewart and Adolph Randall, Medford. He also leaves one sister, Mrs. Grace Calkins of Berkeley, Calif.

Funeral services were held at Medford this afternoon.

KLAMATH COUNTY IN ANNUAL BATTLE WITH "HOPPERS"

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore., May 14.—Man is mobilizing his forces on the Tule lake for his annual fight against the grasshopper pestilence which, in varying degrees, damages crops in the Siskiyou county farm section.

Countless hordes of the insects have been swarming out of egg beds during the past few days and after basking in the sunlight for a short time, have started their destructive trek across green fields.

The grasshoppers consume every blade of green that lies in their path.

Control crews have been organized and a systematic poisoning campaign has been laid. The insects move "en mass" and control workers of poison mash which causes instant death.

Because of the rapid increase of the insects, state and government authorities have found it necessary to keep down infestations from year to year.

Intensive control operations this year are expected to cut down the insect blight to a minimum for several years to come.

MAJOR MOTT TO REEDSPORT

Major Lawrence Mott, nationally known author and sportsman, of Hollywood, who is spending the summer enjoying the recreational features of the Umpqua valley, left this morning for Reedsport to spend a few days fishing and studying the commercial fishing business at the mouth of the river. Major Mott is writing articles for some of the leading magazines of the country concerning the recreational resources of the Umpqua valley.

Telephoning From a Train

An invention that eventually will enable railroad passengers on a train to pick up a telephone and talk with any persons on the continent was perfected in Canada the other day when a conversation was carried on between officials of the Canadian National Railway in Toronto and other officers on a speeding train. J. C. Burkholder, formerly of the Bell Laboratories in New York, is shown above with an operator, getting the connections as the instrument Burkholder designed transmits the voice to the telegraph wires alongside the track. Below is shown the train from which the transmission was made. Note the aerial along the top of the cars.
