What a Shark Eats.

A Valuable Toy.

One of the most famous toys in history was a bright stone that in 1867 a Dutch farmer found some Boer children using as a plaything. The farmer sent the stone to Cape Town for examination, and the result was the discovery of the diamond fields of South Africa. And the child's plaything found its way to the Paris exhibition, where it was disposed of for the sum of $2,500.

Metallic Sponges.

Wealth In Bulgaria.

Wealth is more evenly distributed in Bulgaria than in any other European state. Poverty, according to an authority, does not exist among the Bulgarians.

Half Masting a Flag.

When the flag is to be half masted it is first run up to the top of the staff and then lowered to half mast. At sunset it is again hoisted to the top and then lowered to the ground. Never is a flag lowered directly from half mast, nor is the ensign ever displayed at night on a fort except when actually under siege.

When It Comes.

"Does your wife raise a rumpus when you stay away from home at night?"

"No, but she does when I get home." —Houston Post.

NEWS FOR THE RURAL SECTIONS

Observer's Big Asset

AFTER diligent search and at the sacrifice of considerable expense money The Observer has establish paid correspondents in a majority of all the big towns, and a vast number of postoffice and rural districts throughout Union and Wallowa counties. Within the course of a month this chain of paid correspondents will be complete and long and The Observer can then boast of the biggest news-gathering force of any out-of-Portland paper in the state. Scarcely a hamlet in the two counties but what will have its day-to-day news recorded weekly in The Observer. With a network of telephone wires, and rural route mail service, the combination works "going and coming" — The Observer gets the news from the rural districts by both letter and telephone, and The Observer, in turn, promptly reaches the readers with not only the country correspondence in full, but its varied other news "to boot"

Daily TheObserver brings to the reader the latest news and gossip from the market world—wheat, hogs, vegetables, cattle, in fact, every commodity of trade is reviewed for the instruction and benefit of the reader who may have no other way of learning these important facts.

No matter how remote the reader is from well-beaten thoroughfares of commerce or from the larger cities, The Observer, through its expensive telegraph news system keeps that reader in close touch with the world's affairs. No corner so distant but what The Observer telegraph news system reaches there and quickly, surely and concisely puts it before the Observer readers today.
