J. K. FALBE SELLS HIS CAFETERIA AT KLAMATH FALLS

J. K. Falbe, proprietor of the Roseburg Cafeteria, returned yesterday from Klamath Falls where he has just completed a deal for the sale of the Green Lantern Cafeteria to R. Melkus of Klamath Falls. Mr. Falbe bought the Klamath Falls restaurant early in the spring and succeeded in building up a very fine trade, after making considerable improvements to the place. The fine business done in the cafeteria attracted several good offers and finally resulted in a profitable sale which has just been consummated.

Mrs. Hallie Slinker, who was formerly employed in the local cafeteria, and who went to Klamath Falls to manage the business there, will remain in that city and assist the new management in conducting the eating house.

Mr. Falbe is today completing installation of a new frigidaire salad counter in the local cafeteria, the equipment assuring ice cold salads at all times.
