MRS. G. M. SEYBIRD, YONCALLA RESIDENT 20 YEARS, PASSES

Funeral services were held at 2 p. m. today at the Methodist church in Yoncalla for Mrs. Gertrude Ceybird, a resident of Yoncalla for the past 29 years. Mrs. Ceybird passed away suddenly Saturday evening. Apparently in good health, she collapsed while assisting with a church program Saturday night. She was rushed to the office of Dr. McKaig, where it was found that she had suffered a cerebreal hemorrhage. She died without recovering consciousness.

Mrs. Ceybird was born at Rothwell, England, February 28, 1880, and was married in that country to Frank E. Ceybird. They came to this country 20 years ago, going to Yoncalla, where they have since resided. Besides the widower, Mrs. Ceybird leaves a daughter, Nellie, and three brothers and six sisters, all residents of England.

Mrs. Ceybird was a member of the Congregational, but had been taking an active part in the work of the Methodist church at Yoncalla. She was also a very active member in the Drain grange, and the Yoncalla's Woman's Study club.

The funeral services today were conducted by Rev. Clark, pastor of the Methodist church at Yoncalla, and interment took place in the Yoncalla cemetery. H. C. Stearns was in charge of arrangements.

Paturns From Sea Voyage—Charles Yokum, son of Mrs. J. W. Perkins, is spending a few days in this city at the home of his mother, having just returned from a voyage to China, Japan and the Hawaiian Islands.

Weather Conditions

Showers are reported from Washington, northwestern Oregon, and from parts of the northern plains region, attending depressions off the southeast Alaska coast and in central Canada. Rains have also occurred from the central Mississippi valley to the Atlantic coast, having been heavy at points in the Ohio and Tennessee valleys. Temperature changes have been slight except for a rise to normal conditions in the north central states. Cloudy, unsettled weather with occasional showers is expected in this vicinity tonight and Tuesday.

FEES AND CHARGES EATING ESTATES, KAY ANNOUNCES

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

SALEM, Ore., May 19.—Exorbitant attorney fees, over payments to apparisers and heavy service charges by undertakers and sextons are eating up the estates of persons who die in Oregon without leaving heirs, and whose estate is supposed to escheat to the state, according to a statement made public by State Treasurer Kay.

The moneys so acquired by the state go into the irreducible school fund. Charges of raiding that fund are hurled by the state treasurer. He severely criticises county courts also, declaring they are too free in allowing claims against these estates, chiefly legal and burial claims. Unless the practice is stopped, Kay says that as a member of the state land board, which administers the irreducible school fund, he will demand investigation of final accounts.

Most of the estates are small and consist of cash or its equivalent. He cites one estate of $1242.74. The state got none of it for 10 years, and then only $181.15. Another dwindled from $2225.29 to $760.79. Another decedent left $3553.37 in Portland banks. There were no debts. Yet, by the time it reached the school fund, it had shriveled to $1689.98.

Mr. Cantrell Returns—F. W. Cantrell, train master for the Southern Pacific, returned Saturday to this city after spending three weeks in San Francisco in the interests of business.

POEM FOR THE DAY

By LOUIS ALBERT BANKS

THE GOOD SAMARITAN'S SISTER

A patient kept insisting on being taken home. She wanted to be surrounded by loved ones and beloved things. The hospital irked her. She was a small woman, weighing about 85 pounds.

Miss Emily Loveridge, then rather new at Good Samaritan hospital, looked at the stretcher used to carry patients and it looked too hard. She asked the orderly if he couldn't carry the patient out to a waiting carriage.

"Oh, I'm afraid I can't," the lazy fellow replied.

"Well, I can," declared the nurse, and she tenderly picked up the frail little woman and gently carried her through the ward, down the stairs and across the waiting room, down the front steps and out to the waiting vehicle.

The orderly stood gaping. Other nurses were astonished. But after that no helpers about the hospital ever said they couldn't do anything they were asked to.

There was one little Irishman who used to work there. He was a faithful old soul. Nothing too difficult for him to try to do if in the line of duty. He and the nurse often had to handle patients. And when they did, Mike would always say:

"Shure, Miss Loveridge, you an' me are th' best min 'round th' place, onyhow."

Mike went to his reward long since, but Miss Loveridge is still caring for the ill and injured, having on May 1 rounded out 40 years' continuous service at Good Samaritan hospital. Since 1905 she has been superintendent.

Miss Loveridge arrived in Portland from New York City May 1, 1890, the very day Grover Cleveland was admitted to practice before the United States supreme court.

There was a street car line to within six blocks of the hospital. The cars were drawn by horses. The new nurse carried her grip the six blocks and reported to the then small hospital ready for duty. She had been graduated from Bellevue hospital, New York, in January.—David W. Hazen in Sunday Oregonian, May 11, 1930

When Jesus told that ancient tale
That blazed the Good Samaritan's trail,
It was a man of gracious heart
Who played the neighbor's kindly part.
For forty years, with gentle grace,
As faithful in her time and place,
Miss Loveridge, sister to that man,
Has followed on the Savior's plan.

How beautiful her girlhood dream
To give her life to mercy's scheme!
With what persistent sacrifice
She's earned the Good Samaritan's prize!
A neighbor she, to all in need—
Of every age, or class, or creed;
Her heart incarnate tenderness
That, through her hand, gives sweet caress.

A fight 'gainst ills her life has waged—
What grief and pain she has assuaged!
She's lived mid sickness, grief and fear,
And been a source of constant cheer;
She's been a fount of comfort sweet
That's given souls their food to eat,
A Good Samaritan serene
On whom the weak, for strength, could lean.

Rare lives, like hers, should make us proud
That we belong to such a crowd,
Our human nature shines anew
In her brave soul so strong and true;
Her mercy, like angelic skies,
Shows love of God in woman's guise.
The breath of heaven's her native air;
Her love o'erflows in kindly care.

LOCAL JUVENILES INVITED TO JOIN AIRPLANE LEAGUE

H. L. Tabb, of the Airplane Model league of America, arrived in Roseburg today to meet with a number of local boys and girls interested in forming a local branch of the national organization. This league, sponsored by the Guggenheim foundation and various aviation concerns, offers each year some very valuable prizes to boys and girls who design prize winning airplane models. The winner of the national tournament is given a trip to Europe to compete for the international prize, while other prizes consist of scholarships to flying schools and cash awards to the amount of $3,000. A national tournament is held each year in which boys and girls from all over the country gather to fly their models, for the prizes offered. Members unable to atend the match are privileged to send in their models, which are flown by experts for them.

It is hoped to organize a local club of at least 150 members. The league was eexplained by Mr. Tabb this morning at an assembly of the students at the junior high school. It is planned to secure a local agency where the materials and plans for model construction can be secured by members of the league, and it is hoped to have some Roseburg entries in the various state, district and national tournaments in the future.

BALLOT BOXES IN ON RECORD TIME

Record time was made by Sheriff V. T. Jackson and his deputies in the collection of the ballot boxes from the various precincts of the county following Friday's election. Saturday night, just 21 hours after the polls had closed, all of the ballot boxes were back in Roseburg and ready for delivery to the official counting board. The distribution and collection of the ballot boxes were conducted on a very efficient and economical basis, and there was no time lost in getting the boxes back to Roseburg, despite the fact that some had to be brought out from very remote sections of the county.

AWAY WITH THE MAZE

Friday night—and money to spend. Promotion—and we really must get a new car. Mary has a new son—a whole life to be equipped. George and Becky to be married—gifts, decorations, foods, rooms to robe into a home.

In all the maze of needs, how would you know where to turn without the authentic counsel of the advertising pages? In them, your good sense is given maps to go by. Your powers of discrimination are given values to appraise. Here the best of the shops of the world is authenticated . . . so why search further?

The smartest products of the world can be seen by turning page by page. Turn the pages. See them. Rely upon the advertisements. They tell so much about things that you could buy them sight unseen. They are the greatest force in existence for making you aware of the best.

Read the advertisements for a guide in the things known about already, and read them to learn what is new.
