McCRARY IS HAPPY THIS THANKSGIVING

"Yes sir, I am thankful, and I'm happy," said Charles McCrary, of the McCrary Auto Company. "And it's not because turkeys are selling at 60 cents a pound, for I have no turkeys to sell—in fact I don't think there will be any turkey in the McCrary household this Thanksgiving. But, just the same, I am thankful—and I'm going to make a lot of people happy; those, you know, who like to drive about the prettiest auto on the market this year; just got one in yesterday; it's the new Velie, and you're going to see a lot of them around here this season. Some car."

Something to Be Proud Of.

Some folks wipe the drops of sweat off their faces as if they were really ashamed of them. Man alive, drops of sweat that come from good, honest work are finer than any gems that ever sparkled in the crown of a king. And their greatest beauty is that they make the whole world happier and better. This cannot always be said of the stars on the monarch's brow.—Exchange.

Her Wish.

Wee Bessie on being told that she would have to eat condensed milk on her oatmeal exclaimed, "I wish that old condensed cow would die."—Boston Transcript.

Poetic Nomenclature.

Illinois is an Indian word with the French suffix "ois," meaning "Tribe of Men." Indiana means "Indian Land." Michigan is an Indian word meaning "Fish Weir," so called from a fancied resemblance of the lake to a fish trap. Minnesota is Indian for "Sky-tinted water." Ohio means "beautiful water." Wisconsin means "rushing water."
