The Turkey Show

THE entries close tomorrow and a week from tomorrow the great show will be on. Reference is made, of course, to the big Northwestern Turkey Show which will be held in Oakland next Friday and Saturday. No greater event is on the calendar in Douglas county.

This Oakland turkey show is no small affair. Last year several hundred perfect birds were on display. Attendance figures for the show last year are not readily at hand but on the occasions of this writer's visit to the show the display rooms were literally packed with interested spectators.

Douglas county is admittedly the turkey center of the Norwest. A Portland business man who is in a position to know what he is talking about told a group of Douglas county citizens the other day that we would see the day, not far off when the annual value of the turkey crop in this valley would total fifteen millions of dollars. His auditors were incredulous. The Portlander, who by the way is rated as a marketing and merchandising expert, pointed out that Douglas county is ideally suited geographically and climatically to produce and sell large quantities of turkeys. He further pointed out that turkeys are coming to be more or less common fare during these months of the year all over the land.

We hope the predictions of this marketing expert materialize. This annual show that the turkey growers have, proves that the growers down this way have the spirit to go out and do things. The turkey raising business is apparently on a mighty sound and efficient basis. Take this advice: Go to the turkey show in Oakland next Friday and Saturday and learn about this important industry.

Transient Relief

THE local Salvation Army organization has undertaken the task, which promises to reach large proportions this winter, of feeding and giving a bed to unfortunate transients who come this way. This is no new thing for the Salvation Army for this wonderful organization is engaged in just this sort of work all over the world. The Army has been doing this work right here in Roseburg for some time but its work has particular attention now because it is endeavoring to expand its facilities.

Relief work is divided naturally into two classifications. Those who have their homes here and who are temporarily destitute, and those who are travelling from place to place seeking work, or in some cases just travelling. The Salvation Army is getting equipped to handle a much larger amount of this latter type of relief.

Individual help is needed if the Salvation Army is to be of utmost service this winter. An appeal has been sent out for any sort of donations of food, bedding or cash. This is a most worthy undertaking.

Talks on Health

By
DR. R. S. COPELAND

LAST summer we entertained at our home two sisters, old friends of ours. There were other guests, so the table was delightfully crowded.

You know what a lot of chatting and laughing takes place when congenial friends meet at dinner. Everything is made the subject of jest, and merriment.

One of the sisters I mentioned was positively the most deliberate eater I ever met. She was always the last of the group to finish a course and, since some of the young people were eager always to get away from other pleasures, you can imagine the teasing this good lady received.

All this did not ruffle our friend one particle. "I honor my food," she said. Invariably, when urged to hurry, the reply was: "No, I honor my food!"

Do you know that statement impressed me greatly.

Think about it yourself. In many respects eating is the most important thing a human being does. Yet how carelessly, how inadvertently we attend to the most pressing duty in our daily lives!

If we would honor the food and honor the meal we would be better off by a great deal. We have been taught to ask God's blessing on the food. After giving thanks for it really we are inconsistent if we slight or bolt the meal. We should dignify the occasion, give respect to what we eat—in short, honor our food.

It isn't fair to the good housewife to rush through the dishes she has prepared in the hot kitchen. Many a mother must feel sad when a particularly choice combination is tossed into the stomach of the family.

Deliberation in eating is largely a matter of habit. Too often "gobbling" the food is the result of bad training. The children must be taught to eat as they should.

Let no one forget that digestion begins in the mouth. Much of what we eat is starchy in its nature. To care for starch properly there should be mixed with it a quantity of saliva. To guarantee this mixture there must be thorough chewing.

Really it is a grave mistake to bolt the food. The practice leads to indigestion.

Unconsciously I used the correct words, "grave mistake." Carlyle, you will recall, said "man digs his grave with his teeth." Bad eating habits have filled many graves.

We will do well to follow the example of my friend. When we learn to honor our food we shall have better health. With better health the chance of long life is increased.

Answers to Health Queries

Good Reader. Q.—What causes a cracking in the arm?

2.—Would omitting breakfast help one to reduce?

3.—Are tomatoes, lean meats, potatoes or coffee particularly fattening?

A.—Probably due to a lack of synovial fluid around the joint. Massage and heat should give relief. Be sure there is no rheumatic tendency.

2.—It may, but it would be wise to eat three meals daily, restricting the sweets and starches and keeping the system in proper working order.

3.—Potatoes are fattening, but the other foods eaten or taken in moderation should not add to the weight.

Is it wrong for governments to fool their people? Well it is or ALL governments are wrong most of the time.

Every one knows government has not been above using propaganda when it was believed to merit the results. Where it appeared to advantage to prove the world was a flat surface a unanimous opinion was waged on the theory. He kept us out of war.

But when it became apparent that we MUST go to war, then democracy was sacrificed by its own agents.

Make the world safe for democracy.

POLLY AND HER PALS

Paw's Got the Combination

Maybe I'm Wrong

By
J. P. MEDBURY

A MAN should never marry a girl on thirty dollars a week unless she expects a raise.

Null and Void—The fellow who was so satisfied with himself that he went out to the zoo and congratulated the stork.

Ace of Cads—The husband who tells his wife that he can live on her kisses and then starts helping himself in some other cafeteria.

Financial Note—Lack of money is what causes most of our poverty.

Matrimonial Martyrs—The henpecked husband who always gets the chicken neck is sorry that butcher shops don't sell giraffes.

Take It or Leave It—A sound engineer writes in to tell us that canned soup is now being put up in several keys.

Ode to an Ocean Traveller—You can't eat your meal and have it, too.

Famous Toasts—"Here's to those Mason and Dixon boys. They've certainly got a great line."

Excuse It Please—These new automatic phones are revolutionizing the telephone industry. It doesn't take you half as long now to get the wrong number.

Our Own Vaudeville — Tom: Hello Ed, what are you doing now? Pete: I'm selling "God Bless Our Happy Home" signs to bachelors.

BATTALINO GIVES CHOCOLATE CHANCE

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

NEW YORK, Dec. 12. — Christopher (Kid) Battalino of Hartford, Conn., a couch and couch lady puncher, stakes his world's featherweight crown in a 15 round battle with Kid Chocolate, clever Cuban Negro, in Madison square garden tonight.

For the first time in his spectacular career, Chocolate goes entire the ring as underdog in the betting. Prospects today were that the champion would become the loser of odds of six or seven to five.

Because of his disappointing showing with Lupe Pinto Barbo, some experts are convinced Chocolate has slipped both and no longer can take a body beating without losing his speed and effectiveness.

STATE INSTITUTION DIRECTOR SOUGHT

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

SALEM, Ore., Dec. 12. — A director of state institutions is sought by Governor Norblad who is now preparing for introduction at the next legislature a bill to create such a director. The bill, if passed, would be effective and home of the present superintendents would be replaced. It is claimed a director would reduce the state board of control, of some of its present burdens, and institution heads of many years' experience.

CHIEF BENDER GETS BERTH WITH GIANTS

NEW YORK, Dec. 12. — Chief Bender, one of the wildest of old time Indians, is going south with the New York giants next spring as coach in charge of the pitchers. He has signed as a special pitching instructor for Jim Farmer, a young right-hander. Farmer has lots of stuff but his control is bad. Manager John McGraw thinks Bender can show him the ropes.

PIONEER BURIED IN EARLY DAY MANNER

(Associated Press Leased Wire)

SALEM, Ore., Dec. 12. — Before he passed away W. W. Irvin of Aurora, pioneer, requested that he be buried wrapped in a blanket, like the early day frontiersmen, and that Indian boys serve as pallbearers. His request was granted. The funeral was held yesterday.

STRIB-GRIFFITH BOUT LURES 20,000

CHICAGO, Dec. 12. — "Young" Stribling of Macon, Ga., will risk his preeminence as challenger for the world heavyweight championship against the ambitious charge of Tuffy Griffiths, Sioux City, Ia., youth, in the Chicago stadium tonight before a capacity crowd of approximately 21,000 and a gate in excess of $100,000.

If the wagering — which is largely of the "shadow" variety — is an indication of the probable outcome, Stribling's record will contain another victory. He was a prohibitive 2 to 1 favorite today, and there was lots of Griffiths conversation, but little Griffiths money.
