History of Umpqua Post

NO 16

AMERICAN LEGION

Roseburg, Oregon—1919 to Oct. 1, 1930

(Editor's Note: Herewith is the third chapter of an intensely interesting history of Umpqua Post, No. 16, of the American Legion. The history, compiled by John E. Flurry, a past commander of the post, gives a vivid insight into the peace-time work of the Umpqua valley men who served their country during the great struggle of 1914-1918. The News-Review feels forunate in having the opportunity to present this intimate history of the Roseburg post.)

CHAPTER THREE

At the call of the temporary chairman, E. J. Ivers of the American Legion of Oregon, a meeting of veterans of the Great War was held in the City Hall at Roseburg, Oregon, July 17th, 1919. The following signatures were appended to a petition for a charter: Bertram G. Bates, Avery L. Roser, D. D. Mathews, Leon E. McClintock, Chas. E. Zweigart, Harry W. Burr, James T. Goodman, Jr., Clarence L. Stoddard, Leo G. Devaney, Clinton L. Helbig, Carl T. Black, Harrie W. Booth, James M. Fletcher, Jr., Cleo Tipton, Guy Cordon, V. J. Micelli.

The following temporary officers were elected: Carl E. Wimberly, President; George E. Houck, Vice President; Guy Cordon, Secretary; James Goodman, Jr., Treasurer; F. W. Haynes, Bertram G. Bates and Leo G. Devaney, Executive Committee. It will be noted that at this early date, before the American Legion was incorporated, the commanding officer was called the "President" and likewise the office now designated as "adjutant" was called "secretary."

The next meeting was held on September 5, 1919, when a constitution was adopted and nominations for permanent officers were opened. Following nominations the meeting was adjourned to meet September 12, 1919.

On September 12, 1919, by-laws were adopted. The following permanent officers were elected: Carl E. Wimberly, President; Harrie W. Booth, Vice President; Guy Cordon, Secretary; James T. Goodman, Jr., Treasurer; Clarence L. Stoddard, Leo Devaney and G. N. Riddle, Executive Committee; Bertram G. Bates, Historian; Leon E. McClintock, Chaplain. Carl E. Wimberly was elected delegate to the State convention to be held in Portland. Membership drive was set for October 1, 1919.

At the meeting held on October 7, 1919, the Secretary was instructed to write to State Headquarters of the American Legion requesting that the name on the charter be changed to read "Umpqua Post."

POEM FOR THE DAY

By LOUIS ALBERT BANKS

THE PERIL OF GENIUS

"I have just about concluded that the bright child is probably the most neglected child in the world, not only neglected but often discouraged and sat upon. As one educator puts it, 'We have special classes for backward children and special schools for the feeble-minded; but God help the bright child!'"—Prof. Lewis M. Terman, Stanford University.

Rare genius is a brilliant bird
That's often seen but seldom heard;
Men smother it in days of youth
And do not dare believe its truth;
'Tis born just like a question mark
Or like a sage out on a lark,
Will challenge us to take its dare,
But often will its guardians scare.

When children all the graces lack,
They're easy put upon the track;
It seems to bring their problems near
And wake our sympathetic cheer;
But when a child has genius traits,
It on our nerves so often grates,
We treat him like a snow-white crow,
Withhold from him his rightful show.

A growing child who's over bright
Has many handicaps to fight;
He's looked upon as just a child
Whose instincts are all running wild;
His brilliant wits oft win abuse
When all they need is constant use;
He's judged by rules that fit the mass—
Not made for his superior class.

The day must come when in our schools
We'll have a place for these rare tools,
Where they're not held to chafe and wait
The slowly plodding common gait;
A place where mental thoroughbreds
Are given freedom for their heads;
A chance to let their genius play
And hasten on man's crowning day.
