MATRON MAKES A SLIM-LINE HOUSE FROCK FOR ALL-SEASON WEAR
PATTERN 2549

by Anne Adams

Blow Hot, blow Cold—this house frock's always in season, and isn't it a good time to replenish one's supply, just at the start of a new year? Distinctive among its many features is the noval sleeve-yoke-panel-in-one which has been designed for easy dressmaking, cutting labor in half. Even a beginner will find it fun to put together, and just no trick at all. The woman with not-too-small waist will appreciate its slenderizing power, for center panels, front and back, can't help but take inches from breadth, to increase height. Smaller sizes, too, will enjoy the utter simplicity of its becoming lines. Any colorful, pre-shrunk cotton is nice.

Pattern 2549 is available in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46. Size 36 takes 3 5-8 yards 36 inch fabric. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS(15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly name, address and style number. BE SURE TO STATE SIZE.

DON'T WAIT! SEND NOW FOR THE WINTER PATTERN BOOK! You need all the advice Anne Adams gives you on keeping the family thriftily and attractively dressed. World Famous Christmas Carols

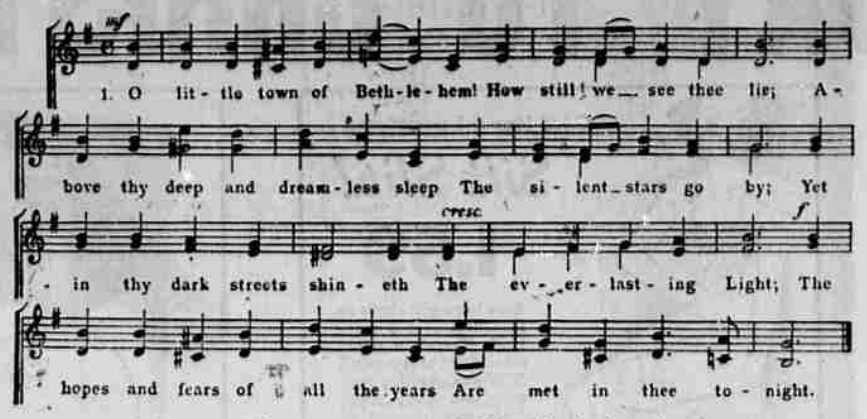
No. 7. O, LITTLE TOWN OF BETHLEHEM



2. For Christ is born of Mary
And gathered all above
While mortals sleep the angels keep
Their watch of wondering love.
O morning starts together
Proclaim the holy birth,
And praises sing to God, the King,
And peace to men on earth.

3. How silently, how silently
The wondrous gift is given,
So God imparts to human hearts
The blessings of his heaven.
No ear may hear his coming
But in this world of sin
Where meek souls will receive him. still
The dear Christ enters in.

O holy Child of Bethlehem,
Descend to us, we pray;
Cast out our sin and enter in,
Be born in us today.
We hear the Christmas angels
The great glad tidings tell,
Oh come to us, abide with us,
Our Lord, Emanuel.

Story of the Carol

By Prof. Peter W. Dykema, Columbia University, New York

One of the finest Christmas carols of the less traditional group is "O Little Town of Bethlehem" by Phillips Brooks, the beloved Boston divine (1835-1893). This was written for Sunday school singing when the composer was bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Massachusetts. We first sent it out anonymously, but as the hymn gained favor the authorship became known.

The words of this carol well protray the spirit of simplicity and tranquillity of Bethlehem and its inhabitants, who so little suspected that a King was in their midst. Although written especially as a Christmas song, it is of such a nature that it is often used on other occasions.

Many musical settings of this beautiful poem have been made, but the two that are most used are by the English composer Joseph Barnby (whose "Sweet and Low" is a universal favorite) and the American composer Louis H. Redner (1831-1908).

This series assembled by Gertrude Skow Sanford, specialist in community social organization, extension service in home economics, Oregon State college, and distributed by the College News Service, O.S.C.

ARMORY READY FOR FIREMEN'S BALL

Members of the Roseburg fire department worked until a late hour last night in decorating the armory for the annual Christmas ball, to be enjoyed Wednesday night. The armory is being trimmed to represent an Indian village, in keeping with the plan started last year, when an Eskimo motif was used.

The fire department is endeavoring to make its annual Christmas dance outstanding for unique decorations in addition to pleasurable dancing, and those who attend the Christmas ball, will find the auditorium particularly attractive this year.

POET'S CORNER

A CHRISTMAS VISION

I saw a golden stair that reached up high in the air
And at the top a throne, and God
sat there alone
He had sent his Son to earth, to join the Christmas mirth.

I saw a Christmas tree, as plain,
as plain could be,
And perched upon the limbs, cherubs and seraphims
And all around the tree children most fair to see.

And Christ himself was there, a halo round his hair.
And all their voices raised in hymns and songs of praise.
And Oh! such jubilee, what joy to hear and see.

I seemed a favored one that this should come to me
Then I was wide awake, I looked around my room
All as the night before, my Christmas plant in bloom.
A merry Christmas to all.

—Isabel Payne Whitney.

This picture just shows me, but I've got two sons I'll stack up with anybody in the whiskey business, only I don't like to brag about my own boys. It's really three sons, because my son-in-law, Tom, is up at the distillery, too—helping make the Wilken Family Whiskey the best ever.
