SPECIAL DOUBLE PROGRAM AT STAR

"The Devil to Pay," contains one of the most amazing climaxes terminating one of the most unusual melodramatic plots of mystery and romance we have ever seen.

Frances Nimmo Greene's novel offers splendid material for a photoplay mystery, and the manner in which it is presented by Robert Brunton under the direction of Ernest C. Warde, enacted by an all-star cast that lives up to its name, makes it one of the outstanding features of the year, and one of the screen's greatest mystery photoplays.

We suggest that lovers of mystery melodramas visit the Star Theatre where "The evil to Pay" remains until Sunday night.

Lon Chaney, who needs no introduction, is on the same program, appearing in a picture called "The Empty Gun."

This special double program will be shown at the Star Theatre today and Sunday.

EXCELLENT CAST SURROUNDS KERRIGAN IN NEW PICTURE

The most pleasing feature of J. Warren Kerrigan's latest Brunton production, "The Green Flame," released by W. W. Hodkinson and coming to the Sherry Theatre today only is the excellence of its casting. Kerrigan is supported in this picture by a group of the most talented and popular players on the screen.

The star himself cleverly portrays the role of "Frank Markham," an adventurous young detective. He is engaged by the head of a large jewelry concern to guard "The Green Flame," a priceless emerald which was at one time a Russian crown jewel. A notorious clique of gem thieves launch a daring plot to secure the "Flame." Pretending to be a guileless country yokel Markham works himself into the confidence of the crooks and at the moment foils up the entire gang.

Fritzi Brunette, the winning little lady who played opposite Kerrigan in "The Lord Loves the Irish," "Live Sparks," and "$30,000" is her usual charming self in the feminine lead. She takes the role of a resourceful young newspaperwoman who sets out to gather material for a story on valuable jewels and finds herself drawn into a bewildering maze of adventure.

A new "Mutt & Jeff" and "Glimpses of Movie Life," also.

MARJORIE DAW IN LIVE COMEDY DRAMA AT ARCADE

An up-to-the-minute story of an ahead-of-the-minute girl is the Playgoers feature, "The Butterfly Girl," showing Sunday only at the Arcade Theatre with pretty little Marjorie Daw starred. Edith Folsom, the girl of the title, is a born flirt, to whom the admiration of the opposite sex is the very breath of life.

She is ignorant and innocent of the seriousness of love and of life. Her path is strewn with the unhappy hearts of the victims of her trifling. It is not until she nearly brings about a separation of man and wife that she is brought face to face with a contrast that opens here eyes to her own uselessness and transforms her.

"The Butterfly Girl" is in serio-comic vein with sparkling, satirical subtitles. Miss Daw is youthful, vivacious and girlish, touching comedy and emotional heights that proclaim her an actress of power.

ACTOR SCORES IN "SNOW-BLIND" AT SHERRY'S

With the completion of the Reginald Barker production of Katherine Newlin Burt's "Snowblind," which comes to the Sherry Theatre for two days commencing Sunday, the Goldwyn organization has added another masterly acted and masterly produced photoplay to the list of pictures this company has produced this season. In all the recent Barker productions, Russell Simpson has distinguished himself through his splendid characterizations of powerful personalities.

MICE, CATS AND MONKEYS.

Larry Semon has made an enviable reputation in his comedies by the use of animals. Mice, cats and monkeys are his favorites. In "The Bakery" which will be shown at the Sherry Theatre on Sunday, he shows each of these animals in a new atmosphere. The mouse illustrates how to build a house in a loaf of bread and how it may escape being caught. In this respect the mouse is a star and made Larry see stars while filming the scene.
