CANYONVILLE HAS MANY CHANGES

New Dwellings and Business Houses Erected During the Past Year.

CANYONVILLE, Jan. 25.—The year 1935 has been a year of unusual building activity in Canyonville and vicinity. Dave Taylor has built a small home on the west side of Canyon creek in the south end of town. Wilbert Elliott is also building a home on Wall street near the C. A. Young home. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hamlin are occupying a small new house just across Canyon creek from the D. W. Hanks place.

A seven-room house with modern conveniences has been built by R. L. Couglar on the Pacific highway in the south end of town.

The Bridge cafe has been razed and a new building erected. This has two stories; the ground floor is used as a restaurant and there are living quarters on the upper floor. Mr. and Mrs. Geo. McClane are the proprietors.

Mrs. Emma Wamsley's new house in the north end of Canyonville consists of five rooms, with modern built-ins in the kitchen and bath.

Albert Ramburg has added a new kitchen to his home.

The house on the Alfred Gillette place has been torn down and is being rebuilt as a four-room bungalow.

D. W. Hanks has added a dinette to his home.

Ermil Briggs has built a new six-room bungalow on his farm three miles north of town, to replace the one destroyed by fire last summer.

Much finishing work has been done on the Bible school building, including plumbing and plastering, as well as carpenter work.

The M. E. church has been reshingled, and will soon be repainted. The work was donated by members and friends of the church.

Perhaps the largest building project of all was the Community building, which was sponsored by the Rod and Gun club and the city of Canyonville. It represents much faithful work by the officers and members of the club.

Three prune dryers of improved types were built during the summer. One was on the farm property of Mrs. Natalie Baum, on the Canyonville-Days Creek road, under lease to Donald Snyder. Another on the W. W. Willis orchard property near the junction of the Riddle road and Pacific highway. The other on the Thos. Sullivan property near the junction of the Riddle road and Pacific highway, now under lease to Jos. Casati.

A new $25,000 school house is in prospect for the year 1936, as bonds have been voted for $14,500, which will be met by 45% of government funds. Work has already commenced on the new bridge across the Umpqua on the Gazley road.

In addition to buildings and improvements, there have been many business changes in Canyonville during the past year, and many changes in personnel.

Canyonville has new teachers this year with the exception of Miss Ellen Pemberton, who has been in the school for two years previous. The present teachers are Principal James V. Blake, Miss Willametta Logsdon, Miss Lucile Dunlap, Miss Ellen Pemberton and Miss Lucile Bennett.

Rev. L. F. Smith is pastor of the M. E. church, having succeeded Rev. H. W. Rummell of Dillard, who retired from active pastoral work on account of his health.

Canyonville now has a resident doctor, Dr. W. H. Rockwell, M. D., has offices in the Greystone hotel.

The South Umpqua News has moved its offices to Canyonville. Keith C. Gaines is editor and manager and Lillian E. Gaines, business manager.

Mrs. Jerry Menane is operating the Greystone hotel in connection with the Greenwich Tavern. Mr. and Mrs. John Ausmus, former proprietors, moved to their farm home on Myrtle Creek.

A new store has been opened, operated by Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Gloss.

The Reddens have returned to the Pioneer auto camp, after an absence of a year or more.

O. V. Kern is in charge of the Rest Haven Auto camp. Mr. and Mrs. Storm, former proprietors, are now at Tiller.

Mrs. Sam Jones and L. E. Newton are operating the White House restaurant and service station.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Baugh and son and daughter-in-law have succeeded Hal Wakefield, and are now in charge of the Canyon Auto camp. Mr. Wakefield has gone to Oakland, Calif.
