Prune Growers Warned.

SALEM, Ore.—Growers should store their prunes, obtain warehouse receipts and insurance and hold them rather than dispose of them under any price offered, was the warning issued by W. F. Drager, local fruit dealer, in the face of what he declared were efforts made from certain sources to bear the prune market into cast and thus force prices down to the growers who have unsold prunes.

For beauty you fail to get

By Edna Wallace Hopper

I am not a cosmetic maker, not a beauty expert. My work is on the stage and screen. But I have had advantages which most girls and women lack. I had a rich, ambitious mother who took me in a world-search for the utmost in beauty helps. Then when I became a famous beauty, every great scientist who made a discovery sent it at once to me.

Now I wish all girls and women to share that good fortune with me. I found helps which multiplied my beauty, and which have kept my youthful beauty to my grand old age. And great experts tell me that every woman can in like ways secure like results.

So I am placing these helps, which I spent a lifetime in finding, at every woman's call. All druggists and toilet counters now supply them. But with each comes a guarantee. I instruct every dealer to return the money to anyone disappointed, and charge the amount to me.

My marvelous complexion is largely due to a super-cream. It combines the products of both lemon and strawberry. Also all the best that modern science knows how to foster, feed and protect the skin. I use it as a night cream, also daytimes as a powder base. Never is my skin without it. And my baby skin, at my age, shows how much it means to women. No woman I have ever met has ever found a cream to compare.

Edna Wallace Hopper's Youth Cream is now supplied by all druggists and toilet counters at 60c per jar and 35c per tube. But I shall be glad to send a free sample, if you wish. Just mail the coupon for it and my Beauty Book will come with it.

Viola Dana's New Film Scores a Hit At Sherrys.

Viola Dana has never had a more delightful starring vehicle than "Don't Doubt Your Husband," the new Metro picture.

Everyone who's married or who thinks of getting married should see this merry satire on the suspicious wife who is always leaping at conclusions and keeping the matrimonial nest in a turmoil. It's clean, wholesome fun, spiced with the paprika of smartness and sizzling with tense situations.

Miss Dana, as the pretty little suburban wife, whose intensity of affection for her husband takes the form of wanting to supervise all of his actions, never looked more beautiful in her array of chic, fashionable gowns, and never romped through a role with more fascinating humor.

The story, written especially for her by Sam Cowan and Howard Higgin, affords real entertainment from start to finish. The material has been deftly handled by Harry Beaumont, one of the directors who is coming to the forefront of the profession. The expert surety with which he handles big situations and minor details, as illustrated in his recent production of "Beau Brummel," for John Barrymore, is felt throughout the production of "Don't Doubt Your Husband."

It is a photoplay that affords top-notch entertainment, from the start, where Miss Dana, traveling the bumpy road of first year matrimony takes the wheel of their motor car from her husband and speeds to arrest, to the finish where she submits to a playful spanking for her tumultuous jealousy.

Comedy Showing "Picking Peaches."

"Painted People" Proves to Be a Delicious Comedy.

One of the most delicious comedies which it has ever been our pleasure to see is on view today and Saturday at the Arcade theater. It is "Painted People," a First National picture featuring Colleen Moore, the little star who created a sensation throughout the country through her impersonation of the thrill seeking flapper in "Flaming Youth."

"Painted People," which is based on Richard Connell's Collier's Weekly story, "The Swamp Angel," deals with the adventures of a boy and a girl who are entranced by the visions of "high life" afforded them by the residents living on the "other side of the tracks" in their town, and who deliberately set out to gain admission to the sacred precincts.

One of the many laughable episodes in the production centers about the efforts of the two to break into society. One day they received the coveted invitations—but the stunning realization comes to them that they do not possess the proper clothing for the affair—or the knowledge as to the exact way in which to deport themselves.

They conceive the brilliant idea of purchasing a book on etiquette but they fail to notice that the book had been published half a century before, and that its contents were hopelessly out-of-date. As a result they create quite a sensation at the party.

To reveal the outcome of this faux pas or the plot of the story would do you an injustice, for it must be seen to be appreciated. Ben Lyon plays opposite Miss Moore, the remainder of the particularly effective cast includes Hall Montana, Anna Q. Nilsson, Jane Pivlino, Sam De Grasse, Mary Carr, Mary Alden, Russell Simpson, Charles Murray, Joseph Striker and Charlotte Merriam.

"Painted People," in our estimation, is a masterpiece of American humor and one that will delight every age and every class.

Parachute Feat Lands "Lone Wolf" On Airplane.

Imagine a high-powered aeroplane shooting through space and another fast-moving airplane just below and then picture a man dropping from the upper car to the lower and then later using a parachute to return to his original car. Sounds like a miracle going some place to happen yet such a feat is successfully accomplished by Jack Holt in the big production of "The Lone Wolf," which is coming to the Star theater Saturday and Sunday.

The justly celebrated novel by Louis Joseph Vance has been given a highly thrilling version for the screen with the leading roles played by Holt and Dorothy Dalton.

The cast of "The Lone Wolf" is the biggest in "names" that has ever been cast for a single film. In addition to Jack Holt and Dorothy Dalton there appear Wilton Lackaye, Tyrone Power, Charlotte Walker, Lucy Fox, Edward Durant, Robert T. Haines, Gustav Von Seyffertitz, Alphonse Ethier, Paul McAllister and William Tooker.

The entire production was personally directed by S. E. V. Taylor, for four years production advisor of the David Wark Griffith studios. Mr. Taylor has directed some of the biggest pictures that have come to the screen and at one time wrote them by the score.

The story of "The Lone Wolf" is widely known, having for its main character, the premier crook of the world who always worked alone and for that reason was the sobriquet that had become internationally famous. Jack Holt plays the title role, with Dorothy Dalton cast as the attractive Lucy Shannon, the trusted agent of the celebrated Parisian hands of high crooks, known as "the Pack."

Romance of an extremely exciting nature, wild chases after criminals, hand-to-hand fights, realistic aeroplane scenes and a love story that for adventure and thrills excels all other film narratives.

Well, if navy guns can't be elevated, the nations can try it on diplomacy.

SHE REFUSED HIM

"I was engaged to the prettiest little doll in Indiana, but my stomach and liver trouble had made me so grouchy that she broke it off. I tried all kinds of medicine and doctors and got no relief. The gas blew me up like a porcupine and I had awful colic attacks. Finally I heard of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and it has certainly fixed me up fine. I am now as good as ever." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At all druggists.—Adv.
