NO COMPROMISE ON COURT, FOE STATES

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 26 — (AP) — Senator Wheeler (D-Mont.) asserted today that the administration was campaigning for the Roosevelt court bill "in places far removed from the realm of public discussion, in distant islands and on the basis of political preferment."

He told the Maryland Bar association that opponents of the bill would accept no compromise.

"The court packing plan must be withdrawn," he said.

Reduction of the number of justices to be appointed — as proposed for compromise — would not reduce objections to the measure, he said, but only make "the fault less apparent to the unobserving."

"It is within my recollection unprecedented that a majority report should condemn a measure as does the committee report on the present bill," he said, "without one word of protest, one letter of justification for the measure by the minority."

Wheeler argued that the bill would undermine independence of the courts and civil liberties. He advocated constitutional amendment, if necessary, to enable congress to meet basic problems consequent upon industrial advances.

COAST ADVERTISING MAN GETS ASSOCIATION POST

David M. Botsford, president of Botsford, Constantine & Gardner, well known Pacific coast advertising agency, has just been elected member at large of the executive board of the American Association of Advertising Agencies, according to word received today from New York City.

The American Association of Advertising agencies is composed of the leading advertising firms of the country. Novel Feature With Robbins Circus

A new and novel feature with the Robbins circus, coming to Roseburg July 2nd, at Bellows field, is the appearance for the first time in this country of Capt. Johansen and his group of six Russian bears. It is said to be the only act of its kind, and the captain the only man who has been able to subdue and teach these ferocious beasts to perform almost unbelievable stunts, such as balancing on a rolling globe, dancing together and giving a ludicrous burlesque of the tango. The bears turn clumsy somersaults and one of them rides an old fashioned high wheeled bicycle.

TRACTION THAT MEANS ACTION!

The broad, stout tracks of the "Caterpillar" track-type tractor provide traction for any job, any season and any soil. Traction for low-cost work over hills . . . traction that takes heavy loads through mud . . . that walks surefootedly over slippery cover crop . . . that treads lightly over mellow seedbeds . . . that beats footing and weather to get work done on time . . . this is the traction that farmers who own this tractor enjoy.
