Anchored Barge Is Floating Tee for U. S. Army Golfers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP).—A golf links, which among other distinctions boasts of a floating tee costing $30,000 and which names as well as numbers its holes, is providing entertainment for officers and men of Fort Baker, across the bay from San Francisco.

The course is laid out on the military reservation, so that except for three holes, players have a view of the Pacific at all times.

Each of the nine holes now in use has been named after a major engagement of the American expeditionary force. Par is 34 and the golfer must travel 2,746 yards to make a round. To comply with government regulations, the course is operated by the Fort Baker's Officers club with membership by invitation. There are no profits or dividends.
