Reception Given At Church Honors Pastor And Wife

The Rev. and Mrs. Vernon R. Hall, who came to La Grande recently from Southern Idaho, were guests at a reception in their honor given in the First Methodist Episcopal church last night.

A number of expressions of welcome were given by members of the church representing certain organizations and Mr. Hall made a very pleasing response. Lucian Wheeley, superintendent of the Sunday school; Mrs. L. H. Hanford, president of the Aid society; Virgil Kochensparger, of the Epworth League; Mrs. R. W. Leighton, president of the Foreign Missionary society; Mrs. T. E. Pierson, acting for Mrs. Hickox, president of the Home Missionary society, in her absence; Miss Blanche Clark, president of the Y. W. C. A. and R. E. Dixon, of the official board, all spoke briefly, greeting Mr. and Mrs. Hall to La Grande.

A short program was held in the church auditorium. Genevieve Adler played two piano numbers and Miss Cooper sang two vocal solos accompanied by Gladys Miller.

Following the program a general social time was carried out and the committee, consisting of Mrs. Sting and Mrs. H. E. Richey, served refreshments in the parlor of the church.

The church was elaborately decorated for the occasion, Mrs. H. W. Beck furnishing a profusion of flowers.

Ready to Bob—At Six Weeks

Thomasina Albanese of Milwaukee is only six weeks old, but she's eligible for a boyish bob right now, if she cares to have one. The baby, shown here with her mother, has had a luxuriant growth of silky black hair from the day of her birth. But her mother says it'll be a long time before any of it is cut off.

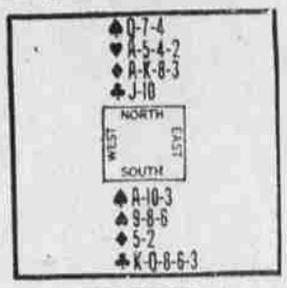
CONTRACT BRIDGE

We give today another Contract hand in which all the bidding is carried on by North and South, East and West passing whenever it is their turn to declare. The question is how North and South should bid their hands. Make up your mind before you read the explanation that follows. South is the Dealer, and the hands are:



THE BIDDING

South should bid one Club. It is quite true that many Contract players do not believe in bidding initially without greater strength, but experience has proven the advantage of light initial suit-bids, provided the partner be dependable.

After South's Club and West's pass, North should bid three No Trumps. With even a minimum-strength initial Club bid, three No Trumps, with the strength furnished by the North hand, is almost sure. To bid two No Trumps would not result in a game contract because, under those conditions, South, if opening with a minimum bid, should not bid three No Trumps.

When this hand actually was played, East led a Spade. West won with the King and returned the suit; Closed Hand (North) winning with the Queen. North then led the Jack of Clubs and, when it won, followed with the Ten. When East played a small Club, South covered with the Queen so as to be able to lead a third round of Clubs if the adverse Ace should be held up again.

It was vitally important to establish South's Clubs before his entry (Ace of Spades) was taken out, and this could be accomplished only if the adverse Clubs were divided 3-3. The chances were against such a division, but the risk of losing two Club tricks was worth taking as the play offered the only chance for contract and game.

MENUS

By Sister Mary

BREAKFAST — Baked pears, cereal, cream, crisp bacon, scrambled eggs, toast, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Vegetable soup, croutons, fruit salad, whole wheat bread and cream cheese sandwiches, milk, tea.

DINNER—Slice of ham baked in milk, baked potatoes, buttered cauliflower, tomato and lettuce salad, junket ice cream, Cousin Julia's cake, milk, coffee.

With the quantity of fresh fruits at hand just at this time of the year it's the simplest thing in the world to serve a delicious fruit salad. This is a particularly happy choice for school children since a mother can see to it that perfectly ripe, carefully selected fruits are used.

Cousin Julia's Cake

Two eggs, 3-4 cup light brown sugar, 1 1-4 cup flour, 4 tablespoons butter, 1-2 cup sweet milk, 1 1-2 teaspoons baking powder, 1-2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1-8 teaspoon salt.

Cream butter and beat in sugar which has been rolled smooth. Save one whole white and part of second egg white for frosting. Beat yolks and one-half white of eggs until very light. Add to creamed butter and sugar. Mix and sift flour, baking powder, salt and cinnamon. Turn milk into bowl in which eggs were beaten in order to rinse off any clinging to sides of bowl.

Add milk and dry ingredients alternately to first mixture, beating to make smooth. Pour into a square oiled and floured cake pan and bake 40 minutes in a moderate oven. Let cool and cover with the following frosting.

Frosting

One and one-half egg whites, 1-2 cup brown sugar, 1-4 teaspoon vanilla.

Roll sugar to make perfectly smooth. Beat whites of eggs until stiff and dry. Beat prepared sugar into whites. Add vanilla and spread roughly on cake. Put into a quick oven to brown top. The heat should be at the top of the oven.

The entire rule for the cake can be doubled with success and baked in a dripping pan. Double each ingredient, frosting and all, using one whole egg and three yolks in the cake and three whites for the frosting.
