

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Mr. R. E. French of Grass Valley was in town Thursday.

V. C. Brock, of Wasco, was seen on the streets Friday.

Judge Bradshaw returned Friday from a trip to Tillamook.

Four loads of wool were delivered Friday at the Wasco warehouse.

V. C. Brock, county clerk of Sherman county, was in the city Friday.

One by one the "lone fisherman" is returning. Plenty of tan and freckles, but—no fish.

A marriage license was issued Thursday to J. T. Gibson and Mary Gordon, both of Wapinitia.

Nine cars of beef cattle were shipped from the stockyards Saturday for the Portland market.

The mercury stood last night at 11 o'clock at 82 degrees, the hottest night of the season.

Mrs. C. P. Balch of Dufur returned Thursday from a few weeks visit to friends in Portland.

The Wasco warehouse distributed 2000 grain sacks to the farmers of this county, up till noon Saturday.

At the Wasco warehouse Friday, four teams were loaded with freight for the Antelope and Mitchell county.

Messrs. John Grant and Phil. Brogan, of Antelope, and Lem Burgess, of Bake Oven, were in the city Thursday.

H. M. Pitman of Dufur came into town Friday. His reports of the crops around that neighborhood are not flattering.

Mr. James Hanrahan, who has been in the city for the past three or four days, left for his home at Kingsley Wednesday morning.

The state board of agriculture has the thanks of the editor of The Dalles Chronicle for a complimentary ticket to the Oregon state fair.

Mrs. Leon W. Curtis of Rockland presented her little lord the other day with a brand new lump of feminine sweetness, weighing ten pounds.

A mysterious hog disease is killing off the hogs in Union county. Butchers say there is scarcely a band in the county that is not infected.

A number of persons have gone from the neighborhood of Eight Mile, on a prospecting tour, to the mountains in the neighborhood of Mount Hood.

There is being built on the company's lot north west corner of Union and Main a hill house for Forepaugh's crews, which is due here on September 16th.

The merchants of Forest Grove, are making the merchants of Hillsboro hump themselves, in a business way. There is great competition between the two towns.

Color Sergeant W. O. Bently, third regiment O. N. G., returned from his ranch near Fossil, Saturday. He reports the crops in that section as in a first-class condition.

Two thousand six hundred head of mutton sheep, purchased from Fred Dee of Klickitat county, Wash., were shipped Saturday to the Troutdale Meat packing company.

Mr. N. Harris, of Harris & Co., of this city, today presented the new steamer Regulator with a magnificent pair of antlers which will decorate the pilot house of that handsome new craft.

The new steamer Regulator is now the centre of attraction in The Dalles and it has got to be quite a fashionable find among the gentle sex to visit the wharf every evening and discuss the fine points of the new boat.

Mr. J. W. Rogers, of Summit Ridge, Wasco county, left some very fine specimens of wheat and barley in the Chronicle office Friday. The grain was raised on his ranch which is situated on the big bend of the Deschutes.

Sam Stroud of this city received intimation Wednesday that his application for a pension, as a soldier during the late rebellion, has been successful. He will receive $12 a month from June 1890. We congratulate Sam on his good luck.

Frank Perry, late foreman of the water works gang, of this city left for Portland last Friday. He has accepted the position of foreman of construction on the Great Northern railroad and will be in Spokane Falls Monday next to assume his new duties.

Mrs. Dr. Rinehart, handed to Major Ingalls Friday, for exhibit in "Oregon on Wheels," the product of one volunteer potato vine, grown in the sand in Gates' addition, without care or cultivation, which weighed thirteen and a half pounds. Who can beat it?

Freight engine No. 558 came in from the west Wednesday with freight train No. 28 looking as if she had been struck by the business end of a cyclone. One of the cylinder heads was blown out and the engine had to make part of the trip on one leg.

Strong efforts are being made by the world's fair committee to have the passenger rates to and from the fair cut down to one cent a mile, on all the railroads of the United States. If the committee succeeds even newspaper editors will be able to attend.

E. M. Harriman brought in a load of oats, Friday morning which he sold to C. L. Richmond for $1.25 a hundred. Just as Mr. Harriman had got about twelve feet from the place of unloading the off hind wheel of his wagon broke down. He considers himself lucky that the break-down did not occur on the road.

A letter received Thursday from the president of the Board of Immigration, by Major Ingalls who has charge of the work of gathering and shipping to Portland all the products brought in him intended for the exhibit, "Oregon on Wheels," contains the following: "There will be but one car and we will try and make it for Oregon. It is not for Portland, although Portland stands the entire expense. You are the only gentleman who has volunteered to do any work on it at all, and we will see that The Dalles is not neglected. We give our time, our money and our attention to this thing; we do it for the public good and not for any single individual."

Some Interesting Gossip Gathered From Various Sources

Do your duty bravely. You will never rue it! If you have a weary task to go to work and do it!

Life is full of sunshine. If you only know it—strive to find your duty clear. Then go to work and do it.

Fill your heart with love. By the way-side straw it! You will crown your work at last. If you die do so!

Labor with a will. Indolence—eewh it! Make your work a useful one. Go to work and do it!

Dr. Chalmers, after speaking to an eloquent address upon the evils of intemperance, is said to have exclaimed: "Sir, we know the evils well enough; in God's name give us the remedy." For years we have been working for the remedy to answer this wail, which comes from thousands of hearts and homes.

Of all the remedies yet given none is more practical than the use of the public school, where the children of all classes and nationalities are instructed in the physical effects of strong drink. Prevention through education. In the public school are found the children of the nation; the only place where the children of foreigners can be reached. This thoroughly the nature and effects of alcohol upon the bodies as they now are spelling, geography or history. No teacher who is granted a certificate to teach in the schools who has not passed a satisfactory examination in physiology and hygiene, with reference to the effects of alcoholic drinks, stimulants and narcotics upon the human system.

Dr. Holland once said: "The more thoroughly we can instruct the young concerning this dominating evil of our time the better it will be for them and the world. The women of our land are wise and practical teachers of childhood and youth. They have secured for our young the best idea of Germany's most excellent teachers, instruction in regard to the effects of alcoholic and narcotic stimulant, in our schools.

Next week we expect to see our teachers in council in our city. We hope that parents and all interested in the welfare and improvement of the rising generation will make it a point to attend the sessions of the institute, and so encourage those who have charge of the most precious material we have in our homes. Miss Willard says: "Do not let it be said that our schools are Godless while they teach health, which is physical holiness." This teaching is made obligatory in thirty-four states and in all of the territories.

Liquor dealers and anti-prohibitionists who are constantly harping on the blighting effects of prohibition upon the prosperity of a city will not be able to draw much comfort from an experience of Des Moines. Des Moines is a city of sixty thousand people and has not an open saloon within its limits nor within the county in which it is situated, and yet it is just now enjoying an era of the most remarkable prosperity. Such a thing as a house or store room to rent can scarcely be found at any price, while more than a thousand new residences and more than a million dollars worth of new business blocks, some of them the finest in the west, are in process of erection. Bank clearances run from twenty-five to fifty per cent. higher than a year ago; its manufactured products for 1890 exceeded those of 1889 by more than $5,000,000. Every kind of business is extremely prosperous, and the actual statistics of the transfer companies show that the population is increasing by new arrivals alone, at the rate of a thousand per month. A good many other cities would like to be killed in the same way that prohibition has killed Des Moines.

The recent yearly meeting of New York Friends passed these ringing resolutions: "As there is a law in New York state with a penalty, protecting our children against the use and influence of narcotics, we feel the importance of endeavoring to have this law maintained, and to extend our efforts in educating our members in regard to the injurious effects of narcotics, both physically and morally. Realizing the terrible curse of the liquor traffic, we again resolve, in the position of the yearly meeting of last year, as unalterably opposed to license in any form, and we believe that absolute prohibition is the only way to the relief of this gigantic evil. Whilst we gratefully acknowledge the decision of the supreme court in the original package case, we desire to express our sorrow at the recent action of the state department in its efforts to extend the interests of the brewers in foreign lands."

Archdeacon Farrar in his address at the recent Band of Hope anniversary in London, urged the temperance workers to be of good cheer, for theirs was the most Christlike work undertaken in these days. The best patriots were those who did most to defeat the powerful machinations of the enemies of their country, and that was their work. The great Mother said that beer was a greater curse to Germany than the French. Wellington used to send men forward to the villages through which his men would pass and buy them a bottle of liquor that his soldiers might be kept sober, and Prince Leopold had said that the great thing England had to fear was, drink.

San de Cysenne. A short time ago the Chronicle recommended its readers to try the effects of cayenne pepper on trees and vines infected with lice or bugs. The other morning a lady on Fourth street determined to profit by the advice, and she plentifully dusted the handsome vines and flowering shrubs in front of her residence with the scarlet condiment. Just as the operation was over and the lady had closed the front door behind her, a peddler, dressed in a gorgeous plaid hat and immaculate linen duster walked up the front steps and while waiting for a response to his knock, thought he would sniff the fragrance of the lovely flowers. One sniff was all he asked, and when the lady came to the door all she saw was the coat tail of the peddler swaying in the breeze as he hurriedly closed the front gate and managed to stammer out between coughs and sneezes, "I can't speak."

Portland should not lag in the work for an open river. The business men of Portland could well afford to build, through their chamber of commerce, a portage road around the obstructions in the river at a cost of $250,000. It would prove to be the best investment they ever made.—East Oregonian.

Chicago Wheat Market. CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—Close, wheat firm. Cash, 92 1/2 @ 93 1/2. September, 21 1/2. December, 24 1/2 @ 25.

DR. TALMAGE'S SERMON ON THE MEETING OF BOAZ AND RUTH.

A Discourse Especially Appropriate to the Season of the Harvest Time—It Includes an Exhortation to All Regarding the Duty of Life.

GLENWOOD, Colo., Aug. 24.—A sermon, replete with the breath of heaven, was preached by the Rev. Dr. Talmage at the meeting of Boaz and Ruth, which he has been traveling and in his present surroundings, suggested by the lessons of the Bible from Ruth ii. 3: "And she went and came and gleaned in the field after the reapers; and her hap was to light on him, who had been plucking up Boaz, who was of the kindred of Kilmehc."

Within a few weeks I have been in North Virginia, Pennsylvania, New York, Ohio, Michigan, Canada, Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky, Missouri, and they are a great harvest field, and no season can come to go off in any country than the season of harvest.

The time that Ruth and Naomi arrive at Bethlehem is harvest time. It was the season of the year when the grain was in the harvest field for the reapers to refuse to gather it up; that was to be left for the poor who might happen to come there, right there were handfuls of grain scattered across the field after the main harvest had been reaped, instead of making it, as farmers do now, it was, by the custom of the day, left for the poor who might come along that way might glean it and get their bread. But you say, "What is the use of all these scattered ears of grain? All this grain is so old and feeble to go out and toll in the sun; and can you expect that Ruth, the young and the beautiful, should tan her nose and blister her hands in the harvest field?"

Boaz owns a large farm, and he goes out to see the reapers gather in the grain. He goes out there, right there, in the sun, he holds a beautiful woman gleaning—a woman more fit to tend to a harp or sit upon a throne than to be a reaper. Ah, that was an eventful day!

LOVE AT FIRST SIGHT. It was love at first sight. Boaz forms an attachment full of undying interest to the Church of God in all ages; while Ruth, with an ephah, or nearly a bushel of barley, in her hand, is the one who has the successes and adventures of the day. That Ruth, who left her native land of Moab in darkness, and journeyed through an unending ocean of affliction, to the harvest field of Boaz, is affianced to one of the best families in Judah, and becomes in after time the ancestress of Jesus Christ, the day of rest and reward will come. On the tip of the captured battlements we will shout the victory; if not in this world, then in that to come. We are going to carry, no, we have to traverse the desert, and we are pummed and failed in misrepresentation and abuse, and we have to edge our way through the thicket of the world, and we have to be slain by our own right arm. We have to ford the river, we have to climb the mountain, we have to storm the castle, we have to be in the day of rest and reward will come. On the tip of the captured battlements we will shout the victory; if not in this world, then in that to come. We are going to carry, no, we have to traverse the desert, and we are pummed and failed in misrepresentation and abuse, and we have to edge our way through the thicket of the world, and we have to be slain by our own right arm. We have to ford the river, we have to climb the mountain, we have to storm the castle, we have to be in the day of rest and reward will come. On the tip of the captured battlements we will shout the victory; if not in this world, then in that to come. We are going to carry, no, we have to traverse the desert, and we are pummed and failed in misrepresentation and abuse, and we have to edge our way through the thicket of the world, and we have to be slain by our own right arm. We have to ford the river, we have to climb the mountain, we have to storm the castle, we have to be in the day of rest and reward will come. On the tip of the captured battlements we will shout the victory; if not in this world, then in that to come. We are going to carry, no, we have to traverse the desert, and we are pummed and failed in misrepresentation and abuse, and we have to edge our way through the thicket of the world, and we have to be slain by our own right arm. We have to ford the river, we have to climb the mountain, we have to storm the castle, we have to be in the day of rest and reward will come. On the tip of the captured battlements we will shout the victory; if not in this world, then in that to come. We are going to carry, no, we have to traverse the desert, and we are pummed and failed in misrepresentation and abuse, and we have to edge our way through the thicket of the world, and we have to be slain by our own right arm. We have to ford the river, we have to climb the mountain, we have to storm the castle, we have to be in the day of rest and reward will come. On the tip of the captured battlements we will shout the victory; if not in this world, then in that to come. We are going to carry, no, we have to traverse the desert, and we are pummed and failed in misrepresentation and abuse, and we have to edge our way through the thicket of the world, and we have to be slain by our own right arm. We have to ford the river, we have to climb the mountain, we have to storm the castle, we have to be in the day of rest and reward will come. On the tip of the captured battlements we will shout the victory; if not in this world, then in that to come. We are going to carry, no, we have to traverse the desert, and we are pummed and failed in misrepresentation and abuse, and we have to edge our way through the thicket of the world, and we have to be slain by our own right arm. We have to ford the river, we have to climb the mountain, we have to storm the castle, we have to be in the day of rest and reward will come. On the tip of the captured battlements we will shout the victory; if not in this world, then in that to come. We are going to carry, no, we have to traverse the desert, and we are pummed and failed in misrepresentation and abuse, and we have to edge our way through the thicket of the world, and we have to be slain by our own right arm. We have to ford the river, we have to climb the mountain, we have to storm the castle, we have to be in the day of rest and reward will come. On the tip of the captured battlements we will shout the victory; if not in this world, then in that to come. We are going to carry, no, we have to traverse the desert, and we are pummed and failed in misrepresentation and abuse, and we have to edge our way through the thicket of the world, and we have to be slain by our own right arm. We have to ford the river, we have to climb the mountain, we have to storm the castle, we have to be in the day of rest and reward will come. On the tip of the captured battlements we will shout the victory; if not in this world, then in that to come. We are going to carry, no, we have to traverse the desert, and we are pummed and failed in misrepresentation and abuse, and we have to edge our way through the thicket of the world, and we have to be slain by our own right arm. We have to ford the river, we have to climb the mountain, we have to storm the castle, we have to be in the day of rest and reward will come. On the tip of the captured battlements we will shout the victory; if not in this world, then in that to come. We are going to carry, no, we have to traverse the desert, and we are pummed and failed in misrepresentation and abuse, and we have to edge our way through the thicket of the world, and we have to be slain by our own right arm. We have to ford the river, we have to climb the mountain, we have to storm the castle, we have to be in the day of rest and reward will come. On the tip of the captured battlements we will shout the victory; if not in this world, then in that to come. We are going to carry, no, we have to traverse the desert, and we are pummed and failed in misrepresentation and abuse, and we have to edge our way through the thicket of the world, and we have to be slain by our own right arm. We have to ford the river, we have to climb the mountain, we have to storm the castle, we have to be in the day of rest and reward will come. On the tip of the captured battlements we will shout the victory; if not in this world, then in that to come. We are going to carry, no, we have to traverse the desert, and we are pummed and failed in misrepresentation and abuse, and we have to edge our way through the thicket of the world, and we have to be slain by our own right arm. We have to ford the river, we have to climb the mountain, we have to storm the castle, we have to be in the day of rest and reward will come. On the tip of the captured battlements we will shout the victory; if not in this world, then in that to come. We are going to carry, no, we have to traverse the desert, and we are pummed and failed in misrepresentation and abuse, and we have to edge our way through the thicket of the world, and we have to be slain by our own right arm. We have to ford the river, we have to climb the mountain, we have to storm the castle, we have to be in the day of rest and reward will come. On the tip of the captured battlements we will shout the victory; if not in this world, then in that to come. We are going to carry, no, we have to traverse the desert, and we are pummed and failed in misrepresentation and abuse, and we have to edge our way through the thicket of the world, and we have to be slain by our own right arm. We have to ford the river, we have to climb the mountain, we have to storm the castle, we have to be in the day of rest and reward will come. On the tip of the captured battlements we will shout the victory; if not in this world, then in that to come. We are going to carry, no, we have to traverse the desert, and we are pummed and failed in misrepresentation and abuse, and we have to edge our way through the thicket of the world, and we have to be slain by our own right arm. We have to ford the river, we have to climb the mountain, we have to storm the castle, we have to be in the day of rest and reward will come. On the tip of the captured battlements we will shout the victory; if not in this world, then in that to come. We are going to carry, no, we have to traverse the desert, and we are pummed and failed in misrepresentation and abuse, and we have to edge our way through the thicket of the world, and we have to be slain by our own right arm. We have to ford the river, we have to climb the mountain, we have to storm the castle, we have to be in the day of rest and reward will come. On the tip of the captured battlements we will shout the victory; if not in this world, then in that to come. We are going to carry, no, we have to traverse the desert, and we are pummed and failed in misrepresentation and abuse, and we have to edge our way through the thicket of the world, and we have to be slain by our own right arm. We have to ford the river, we have to climb the mountain, we have to storm the castle, we have to be in the day of rest and reward will come. On the tip of the captured battlements we will shout the victory; if not in this world, then in that to come. We are going to carry, no, we have to traverse the desert, and we are pummed and failed in misrepresentation and abuse, and we have to edge our way through the thicket of the world, and we have to be slain by our own right arm. We have to ford the river, we have to climb the mountain, we have to storm the castle, we have to be in the day of rest and reward will come. On the tip of the captured battlements we will shout the victory; if not in this world, then in that to come. We are going to carry, no, we have to traverse the desert, and we are pummed and failed in misrepresentation and abuse, and we have to edge our way through the thicket of the world, and we have to be slain by our own right arm. We have to ford the river, we have to climb the mountain, we have to storm the castle, we have to be in the day of rest and reward will come. On the tip of the captured battlements we will shout the victory; if not in this world, then in that to come. We are going to carry, no, we have to traverse the desert, and we are pummed and failed in misrepresentation and abuse, and we have to edge our way through the thicket of the world, and we have to be slain by our own right arm. We have to ford the river, we have to climb the mountain, we have to storm the castle, we have to be in the day of rest and reward will come. On the tip of the captured battlements we will shout the victory; if not in this world, then in that to come. We are going to carry, no, we have to traverse the desert, and we are pummed and failed in misrepresentation and abuse, and we have to edge our way through the thicket of the world, and we have to be slain by our own right arm. We have to ford the river, we have to climb the mountain, we have to storm the castle, we have to be in the day of rest and reward will come. On the tip of the captured battlements we will shout the victory; if not in this world, then in that to come. We are going to carry, no, we have to traverse the desert, and we are pummed and failed in misrepresentation and abuse, and we have to edge our way through the thicket of the world, and we have to be slain by our own right arm. We have to ford the river, we have to climb the mountain, we have to storm the castle, we have to be in the day of rest and reward will come. On the tip of the captured battlements we will shout the victory; if not in this world, then in that to come. We are going to carry, no, we have to traverse the desert, and we are pummed and failed in misrepresentation and abuse, and we have to edge our way through the thicket of the world, and we have to be slain by our own right arm. We have to ford the river, we have to climb the mountain, we have to storm the castle, we have to be in the day of rest and reward will come. On the tip of the captured battlements we will shout the victory; if not in this world, then in that to come. We are going to carry, no, we have to traverse the desert, and we are pummed and failed in misrepresentation and abuse, and we have to edge our way through the thicket of the world, and we have to be slain by our own right arm. We have to ford the river, we have to climb the mountain, we have to storm the castle, we have to be in the day of rest and reward will come. On the tip of the captured battlements we will shout the victory; if not in this world, then in that to come. We are going to carry, no, we have to traverse the desert, and we are pummed and failed in misrepresentation and abuse, and we have to edge our way through the thicket of the world, and we have to be slain by our own right arm. We have to ford the river, we have to climb the mountain, we have to storm the castle, we have to be in the day of rest and reward will come. On the tip of the captured battlements we will shout the victory; if not in this world, then in that to come. We are going to carry, no, we have to traverse the desert, and we are pummed and failed in misrepresentation and abuse, and we have to edge our way through the thicket of the world, and we have to be slain by our own right arm. We have to ford the river, we have to climb the mountain, we have to storm the castle, we have to be in the day of rest and reward will come. On the tip of the captured battlements we will shout the victory; if not in this world, then in that to come. We are going to carry, no, we have to traverse the desert, and we are pummed and failed in misrepresentation and abuse, and we have to edge our way through the thicket of the world, and we have to be slain by our own right arm. We have to ford the river, we have to climb the mountain, we have to storm the castle, we have to be in the day of rest and reward will come. On the tip of the captured battlements we will shout the victory; if not in this world, then in that to come. We are going to carry, no, we have to traverse the desert, and we are pummed and failed in misrepresentation and abuse, and we have to edge our way through the thicket of the world, and we have to be slain by our own right arm. We have to ford the river, we have to climb the mountain, we have to storm the castle, we have to be in the day of rest and reward will come. On the tip of the captured battlements we will shout the victory; if not in this world, then in that to come. We are going to carry, no, we have to traverse the desert, and we are pummed and failed in misrepresentation and abuse, and we have to edge our way through the thicket of the world, and we have to be slain by our own right arm. We have to ford the river, we have to climb the mountain, we have to storm the castle, we have to be in the day of rest and reward will come. On the tip of the captured battlements we will shout the victory; if not in this world, then in that to come. We are going to carry, no, we have to traverse the desert, and we are pummed and failed in misrepresentation and abuse, and we have to edge our way through the thicket of the world, and we have to be slain by our own right arm. We have to ford the river, we have to climb the mountain, we have to storm the castle, we have to be in the day of rest and reward will come. On the tip of the captured battlements we will shout the victory; if not in this world, then in that to come. We are going to carry, no, we have to traverse the desert, and we are pummed and failed in misrepresentation and abuse, and we have to edge our way through the thicket of the world, and we have to be slain by our own right arm. We have to ford the river, we have to climb the mountain, we have to storm the castle, we have to be in the day of rest and reward will come. On the tip of the captured battlements we will shout the victory; if not in this world, then in that to come. We are going to carry, no, we have to traverse the desert, and we are pummed and failed in misrepresentation and abuse, and we have to edge our way through the thicket of the world, and we have to be slain by our own right arm. We have to ford the river, we have to climb the mountain, we have to storm the castle, we have to be in the day of rest and reward will come. On the tip of the captured battlements we will shout the victory; if not in this world, then in that to come. We are going to carry, no, we have to traverse the desert, and we are pummed and failed in misrepresentation and abuse, and we have to edge our way through the thicket of the world, and we have to be slain by our own right arm. We have to ford the river, we have to climb the mountain, we have to storm the castle, we have to be in the day of rest and reward will come. On the tip of the captured battlements we will shout the victory; if not in this world, then in that to come. We are going to carry, no, we have to traverse the desert, and we are pummed and failed in misrepresentation and abuse, and we have to edge our way through the thicket of the world, and we have to be slain by our own right arm. We have to ford the river, we have to climb the mountain, we have to storm the castle, we have to be in the day of rest and reward will come. On the tip of the captured battlements we will shout the victory; if not in this world, then in that to come. We are going to carry, no, we have to traverse the desert, and we are pummed and failed in misrepresentation and abuse, and we have to edge our way through the thicket of the world, and we have to be slain by our own right arm. We have to ford the river, we have to climb the mountain, we have to storm the castle, we have to be in the day of rest and reward will come. On the tip of the captured battlements we will shout the victory; if not in this world, then in that to come. We are going to carry, no, we have to traverse the desert, and we are pummed and failed in misrepresentation and abuse, and we have to edge our way through the thicket of the world, and we have to be slain by our own right arm. We have to ford the river, we have to climb the mountain, we have to storm the castle, we have to be in the day of rest and reward will come. On the tip of the captured battlements we will shout the victory; if not in this world, then in that to come. We are going to carry, no, we have to traverse the desert, and we are pummed and failed in misrepresentation and abuse, and we have to edge our way through the thicket of the world, and we have to be slain by our own right arm. We have to ford the river, we have to climb the mountain, we have to storm the castle, we have to be in the day of rest and reward will come. On the tip of the captured battlements we will shout the victory; if not in this world, then in that to come. We are going to carry, no, we have to traverse the desert, and we are pummed and failed in misrepresentation and abuse, and we have to edge our way through the thicket of the world, and we have to be slain by our own right arm. We have to ford the river, we have to climb the mountain, we have to storm the castle, we have to be in the day of rest and reward will come. On the tip of the captured battlements we will shout the victory; if not in this world, then in that to come. We are going to carry, no, we have to traverse the desert, and we are pummed and failed in misrepresentation and abuse, and we have to edge our way through the thicket of the world, and we have to be slain by our own right arm. We have to ford the river, we have to climb the mountain, we have to storm the castle, we have to be in the day of rest and reward will come. On the tip of the captured battlements we will shout the victory; if not in this world, then in that to come. We are going to carry, no, we have to traverse the desert, and we are pummed and failed in misrepresentation and abuse, and we have to edge our way through the thicket of the world, and we have to be slain by our own right arm. We have to ford the river, we have to climb the mountain, we have to storm the castle, we have to be in the day of rest and reward will come. On the tip of the captured battlements we will shout the victory; if not in this world, then in that to come. We are going to carry, no, we have to traverse the desert, and we are pummed and failed in misrepresentation and abuse, and we have to edge our way through the thicket of the world, and we have to be slain by our own right arm. We have to ford the river, we have to climb the mountain, we have to storm the castle, we have to be in the day of rest and reward will come. On the tip of the captured battlements we will shout the victory; if not in this world, then in that to come. We are going to carry, no, we have to traverse the desert, and we are pummed and failed in misrepresentation and abuse, and we have to edge our way through the thicket of the world, and we have to be slain by our own right arm. We have to ford the river, we have to climb the mountain, we have to storm the castle, we have to be in the day of rest and reward will come. On the tip of the captured battlements we will shout the victory; if not in this world, then in that to come. We are going to carry, no, we have to traverse the desert, and we are pummed and failed in misrepresentation and abuse, and we have to edge our way through the thicket of the world, and we have to be slain by our own right arm. We have to ford the river, we have to climb the mountain, we have to storm the castle, we have to be in the day of rest and reward will come. On the tip of the captured battlements we will shout the victory; if not in this world, then in that to come. We are going to carry, no, we have to traverse the desert, and we are pummed and failed in misrepresentation and abuse, and we have to edge our way through the thicket of the world, and we have to be slain by our own right arm. We have to ford the river, we have to climb the mountain, we have to storm the castle, we have to be in the day of rest and reward will come. On the tip of the captured battlements we will shout the victory; if not in this world, then in that to come. We are going to carry, no, we have to traverse the desert, and we are pummed and failed in misrepresentation and abuse, and we have to edge our way through the thicket of the world, and we have to be slain by our own right arm. We have to ford the river, we have to climb the mountain, we have to storm the castle, we have to be in the day of rest and reward will come. On the tip of the captured battlements we will shout the victory; if not in this world, then in that to come. We are going to carry, no, we have to traverse the desert, and we are pummed and failed in misrepresentation and abuse, and we have to edge our way through the thicket of the world, and we have to be slain by our own right arm. We have to ford the river, we have to climb the mountain, we have to storm the castle, we have to be in the day of rest and reward will come. On the tip of the captured battlements we will shout the victory; if not in this world, then in that to come. We are going to carry, no, we have to traverse the desert, and we are pummed and failed in misrepresentation and abuse, and we have to edge our way through the thicket of the world, and we have to be slain by our own right arm. We have to ford the river, we have to climb the mountain, we have to storm the castle, we have to be in the day of rest and reward will come. On the tip of the captured battlements we will shout the victory; if not in this world, then in that to come. We are going to carry, no, we have to traverse the desert, and we are pummed and failed in misrepresentation and abuse, and we have to edge our way through the thicket of the world, and we have to be slain by our own right arm. We have to ford the river, we have to climb the mountain, we have to storm the castle, we have to be in the day of rest and reward will come. On the tip of the captured battlements we will shout the victory; if not in this world, then in that to come. We are going to carry, no, we have to traverse the desert, and we are pummed and failed in misrepresentation and abuse, and we have to edge our way through the thicket of the world, and we have to be slain by our own right arm. We have to ford the river, we have to climb the mountain, we have to storm the castle, we have to be in the day of rest and reward will come. On the tip of the captured battlements we will shout the victory; if not in this world, then in that to come. We are going to carry, no, we have to traverse the desert, and we are pummed and failed in misrepresentation and abuse, and we have to edge our way through the thicket of the world, and we have to be slain by our own right arm. We have to ford the river, we have to climb the mountain, we have to storm the castle, we have to be in the day of rest and reward will come. On the tip of the captured battlements we will shout the victory; if not in this world, then in that to come. We are going to carry, no, we have to traverse the desert, and we are pummed and failed in misrepresentation and abuse, and we have to edge our way through the thicket of the world, and we have to be slain by our own right arm. We have to ford the river, we have to climb the mountain, we have to storm the castle, we have to be in the day of rest and reward will come. On the tip of the captured battlements we will shout the victory; if not in this world, then in that to come. We are going to carry, no, we have to traverse the desert, and we are pummed and failed in misrepresentation and abuse, and we have to edge our way through the thicket of the world, and we have to be slain by our own right arm. We have to ford the river, we have to climb the mountain, we have to storm the castle, we have to be in the day of rest and reward will come. On the tip of the captured battlements we will shout the victory; if not in this world, then in that to come. We are going to carry, no, we have to traverse the desert, and we are pummed and failed in misrepresentation and abuse, and we have to edge our way through the thicket of the world, and we have to be slain by our own right arm. We have to ford the river, we have to climb the mountain, we have to storm the castle, we have to be in the day of rest and reward will come. On the tip of the captured battlements we will shout the victory; if not in this world, then in that to come. We are going to carry, no, we have to traverse the desert, and we are pummed and failed in misrepresentation and abuse, and we have to edge our way through the thicket of the world, and we have to be slain by our own right arm. We have to ford the river, we have to climb the mountain, we have to storm the castle, we have to be in the day of rest and reward will come. On the tip of the captured battlements we will shout the victory; if not in this world, then in that to come. We are going to carry, no, we have to traverse the desert, and we are pummed and failed in misrepresentation and abuse, and we have to edge our way through the thicket of the world, and we have to be slain by our own right arm. We have to ford the river, we have to climb the mountain, we have to storm the castle, we have to be in the day of rest and reward will come. On the tip of the captured battlements we will shout the victory; if not in this world, then in that to come. We are going to carry, no, we have to traverse the desert, and we are pummed and failed in misrepresentation and abuse, and we have to edge our way through the thicket of the world, and we have to be slain by our own right arm. We have to ford the river, we have to climb the mountain, we have to storm the castle, we have to be in the day of rest and reward will come. On the tip of the captured battlements we will shout the victory; if not in this world, then in that to come. We are going to carry, no, we have to traverse the desert, and we are pummed and failed in misrepresentation and abuse, and we have to edge our way through the thicket of the world, and we have to be slain by our own right arm. We have to ford the river, we have to climb the mountain, we have to storm the castle, we have to be in the day of rest and reward will come. On the tip of the captured battlements we will shout the victory; if not in this world, then in that to come. We are going to carry, no, we have to traverse the desert, and we are pummed and failed in misrepresentation and abuse, and we have to edge our way through the thicket of the world, and we have to be slain by our own right arm. We have to ford the river, we have to climb the mountain, we have to storm the castle, we have to be in the day of rest and reward will come. On the tip of the captured battlements we will shout the victory; if not in this world, then in that to come. We are going to carry, no, we have to traverse the desert, and we are pummed and failed in misrepresentation and abuse, and we have to edge our way through the thicket of the world, and we have to be slain by our own right arm. We have to ford the river, we have to climb the mountain, we have to storm the castle, we have to be in the day of rest and reward will come. On the tip of the captured battlements we will shout the victory; if not in this world, then in that to come. We are going to carry, no, we have to traverse the desert, and we are pummed and failed in misrepresentation and abuse, and we have to edge our way through the thicket of the world, and we have to be slain by our own right arm. We have to ford the river, we have to climb the mountain, we have to storm the castle, we have to be in the day of rest and reward will come. On the tip of the captured battlements we will shout the victory; if not in this world, then in that to come. We are going to carry, no, we have to traverse the desert, and we are pummed and failed in misrepresentation and abuse, and we have to edge our way through the thicket of the world, and we have to be slain by our own right arm. We have to ford the river, we have to climb the mountain, we have to storm the castle, we have to be in the day of rest and reward will come. On the tip of the captured battlements we will shout the victory; if not in this world, then in that to come. We are going to carry, no, we have to traverse the desert, and we are