ITALY GETS APOLOGY FOR SAILOR'S TALK

ROME, May 1—(AP)—The agent of the American President line at Genoa was disclosed today to have apologized to Italian authorities for an incident when the liner President Garfield sailed from that port last Tuesday.

The United States consul general at Geona informed the American embassy here and the state department in Washington of the apology.

The consul general said an Italian-speaking Filipino member of the President Garfield's crew had exchanged insults with several Italians on the dock just as the vessel sailed. He said inquiry showed there was no unfriendly demonstration by Italians and officials now regarded the incident as closed.

(Two members of the President Garfield's crew were in the ship's brig when she reached Marseille, France, last Wednesday night. They were accused of shouting "Down with Mussolini!" and of provoking an unfriendly exchange with Italians as the vessel drew away from the dock at Genoa.)

SHASTA ASSN. WILL CONTINUE EXHIBIT

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore., May 1. (AP)—Despite a $22,000 debt, the Shasta-Cascade Wonderland association's exhibit at the San Francisco exposition must go on, committeemen decided Saturday. So . .

Nine California and Oregon counties must dig up $32,000 to pay the bills and keep the show running.

Cash on hand and money to be paid immediately by four counties, three of them in Oregon, will provide $7,000. The $25,000 balance will be met by a levy on six California counties in the association.

Oregon payments at once will include $950 from Klamath county, $2,000 from Jackson and $1,000 from Lake. Klamath put up $2,500 earlier, Lake $2,000 and Jackson $4,700.

There will be state-wide observance of daylight saving in New Jersey, Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Rhode Island, virtually state-wide observance in Connecticut. Most of Maine will set the clock ahead, a substantial part of Vermont, and those sections of Indiana and Illinois in the vicinity of Chicago. There will be limited observance of daylight saving in Michigan, Idaho, Georgia and Delaware.

In New York state 352 cities and towns will be on daylight saving, and 121 in Pennsylvania.

SKELETON SOLVES MYSTERY IN COOS

MARSHFIELD, Ore., May 1.—(AP)—A skeleton found Saturday by Walter Lawhorn was believed to have solved a seven-year-old mystery of the disappearance of Clarence Griffith, then 32, on a lone hike through the woods from Marshfield to Charleston.

Lawhorn, Coos county timber cruiser, came upon the remains in dense underbrush three miles south of here. Police Chief Mat Coy said clothing apparently checked with that of Griffith.

It was believed he became exhausted. He was not familiar with the woods, having come here but a short time before from White River, Ark., where his widow returned.

WOUNDED WITNESS RESTING EASILY

THE DALLES, May 1.—(AP)—Miss Larene Dunsmore, who preferred death to the ordeal of a witness stand, was "resting comfortably" today.

Her condition, however, remained serious, Dr. Paul Vogt said. Miss Dunsmore shot herself through the left lung last Friday, several hours before she was to testify in a trial in which three brothers and a sister were contesting the 189-acre ranch deeded to her by her late mother.

DISTRACTION ROUTS NERVOUS ROBBER

PORTLAND, Ore., May 1.—(AP)—A nervous robber just couldn't handle two candy store sales girls and a customer Saturday. He fled from the store in fright when an employe he had ordered into a back room called police.

Entering the store, in the downtown district on Broadway between Washington and Alder streets, the man forced the two girls into the room, then ordered one to return and open the cash register. The other started to call police and a customer came in. The robber left hurriedly—without loot.

LAST RITES HELD FOR IRVIN COZIENE, VETERAN

Funeral services were held this morning at 10:30 o'clock at the Roseburg Undertaking company chapel for Irvin V. Coziene, who died Saturday at the veterans hospital here. Following the chapel service, conducted by the Rev. Perry Smith, interment took place in the veterans cemetery.

GERMANY PRESSES ISSUE WITH POLAND

pened to windows of the Katowitzer Zeitung, it was stated.

At RCojca, Antonienhuette, Bogutz, bomb and Daweiche Germans were reported beaten by Polish legionnaires.

These reported Polish attacks had a counterpart, according to the Warsaw newspaper Kurjer Warszawski, in an attack upon the director of a troupe of 40 Polish actors who were to have given performances yesterday at Gross-Strehlitz, Germany.

The manager's car was demolished and the manager an dhis chafleur were beaten, the newspaper said.

Poland May Get Danzig

The possibility was raised in Warsaw Poland might see control of Danzig to block any German action toward forceful annexation. An article in the official Gazetta Polska was interpreted as meaning that Poland might ask the League of Nations—the nominal administrator of Danzig—to transfer certain of its rights to the Polish government.

This followed reports Hitler had backed up his demands for return of war-lost Danzig to Germany and a highway-railroad link through the Polish corridor to east Prussia with specific details of what he wants.

Sees U. S. "Boycott"

The fuehrer and his lieutenants seized upon May day celebrations to unify the nazi reich and strengthen the offensive against "international enemies," which Hitler began with his Friday reply to President Roosevelt's peace proposals.

In two speeches—one to 135,000 boys and girls of the Hitler youth organization and another to "brawn and brain workers" in a Berlin mass meeting — he hit out at charges Germany desires war.

He also took occasion to strike at American action against German goods, saying:

"The United States has organized a boycott against German goods. It would have been better to import German goods than German emigrants."

(Campaigns against the purchase of German goods in the United States are unofficial. The United States government has imposed a 25 per cent countervailing duty against most German goods to compensate for subsidy of exports by Germany).

Pretends To Have Peace

As the German fuhrer met Hitler youth and workers he hammered away with sentences like these:

"Germany is one of the most heavily-armed nations of the world today, thanks to our strength and thanks to our friends."

"On a day like this I look with supreme confidence into the future.'

"If ever the hour should come that the world believes it can reach out at Germanys freedom, then a million-fold cry will rise, so tremendous that the world will know immistabably that the time of Germany's weakness is definitely past."

"We love peace . . . I have enough grounds to want peace to complete enterprises that need from 10 to 20 years."

Urges More Production

To the workers he declared "international agitators" were "working against Germany with all their means and I am arming Germany with all my means."

He said German unity an dthe absence of class struggle characterized this Nazi May day.

"The May day of class fights, organized by parasites in our midst, is over," he declared. (In pre-nazi times May day was celebrated by labor organizations and leftist political parties. In Europe it is similar to Labor day in the United States.)

"A new German community has arisen over hate," he cried.

Germany's problem, Hitler said, was one of "production, not money—production must be increased in all spheres."

With restricted living space, he said, Germany "can not afford the luxury of divided forces . . . there is nothing left for us but to live in close unity."

"But," he said—and the workers shouted to a man at this—"what am I without you?"

Hitler said 9,000,000 Germans had returned from foreign lands to live in the new Germany, where "classes have been destroyed and the people placed above everything."

The real revolution, he declared, had brought about "one people, one reich, one leadership."

By the Associated Press

Guns and allies were Europe's May day keynote today as the issue between Germany and Poland over the Free City of Danzig and the Polish corridor apparently drew closer to a showdown.

Soviet Russia staged her annual May day show in Moscow with emphasis on her military preparedness. Artillery and tanks thundered by and the bayonets of tens of thousands of soldiers glinted in the biggest military display the Red square ever has seen.

"Whoever dares to step on the thresholds of our home will be destroyed," declared Soviet Defense Commissar Voroshiloff.

In Paris, an authoritative source said Premier Daladier and Air Minister La Chambre had mapped plans to strengthen France's air force as a counterpart to Britain's expansion of her army and plans for military conscription.

Soviet Pledge Near

In London, Foreign Secretary Halifax placed Poland's reaction to Hitler's speech before the cabinet and was reported to have said British negotiations to bring soviet Russia into the Anglo-French front were "making excellent progress."

Bills calling for military conscription of men aged 20 years for six months of training and enabling the government to call up reserve forces when it deems necessary were introduced in the house of commons.

Virginio Gayda, authoritative Italian editor, indicated Germany and Italy were working out a joint military plan to counter what he charged was an Anglo-French attempt at "encirclement."

REIMBURSEMENT TO COUNTIES PROPOSED

at a cost of $616,031.

"Unquestionably," he stated, "this act on the part of the government is going to rebound to the benefit of the country as a whole.

"Under the provisions of the legislation by which the government acquired these lands the counties are to receive 25 per cent of the gross receipts from timber and other assets sold by the forest service from the lands.

"The difficulty about this is that in most instances the gross income from such sales is negligible, due to the fact that the lands were largely denuded of all timber at the time of their acquisition by the government.

"This provision under statute would be ample remuneration to the counties in 25 years from now after the timber has developed but the immediate difficulty is that there is no provision for the ad interim period before this period reaches a merchantable status."

Guarantee Included.

Colmer's bill would guarantee the counties 3 per cent of the purchase price with the provision half these payments would be returned to the government whenever the counties' receipts from timber sales in subsequent years exceeded the guaranteed 3 per cent minimum.

His bill also would cancel the existing law's provision restricting use of receipts from the reforested lands to expenditures for roads and schools and would permit distribution to the counties "in such manners as the state legislature may direct."

The government acquired 6675 acres in Benton county at a cost of $328,112 and 20,985 acres in Crook county for $287,918.

DEFENSE LINE SET FOR PANAMA CANAL

Panama canal, is far less than England's defense fund of nearly $3,000,000,000.

Congress already has made $578,528,111 available to the army—the largest sum that service has received since the World war—for acquisition of new weapons and expansion of the air corps.

For the navy, President Roosevelt has asked $790,429,453, which includes funds for construction of two 45,000-ton battleships and commencement of a $65,000,000 naval air base program.

Leaders plan to bring the naval bill to the house floor this week.

PENDERGAST ENTERS INNOCENCE PLEA

sas City Concrete Pipe company and the Pendergast Wholesale Liquor company.

Pendergast first was indicted by the federal grand jury April 7 on charges that he was paid $315,000 in 1935-36 in connection with a $9,500,000 state insurance rate case, but failed to report it on his income tax returns.

Pendergast, whose organization's 100,000-vote majority has put across many Missouri governors and United States senators, made no comment on that indictment other than to mention "persecution" as he submitted to finger-printing.

The wide ramifications of Pendergast business interests—a concrete paving company, a wholesale liquor distributing concern, his horse race stables, his affiliation with construction concerns—all have been placed under the searching eyes of the federal grand juries in recent weeks.

Party Shake-up Ensues

Accompanying the federal developments has been a sensational shakeup of his city political stronghold, where he has been in continuous power since 1926 and a factor since the turn of the century.

A continuous series of attacks on conditions in Kansas City by Pendergast's democratic party foe, Gov. Lloyd C. Stark, together with federal and state investigations have resulted in these rapid developments:

Indictment of three county officials by a county grand jury on misconduct and neglect charges.

Federal and county indictment of Charles Carrollo, north side political figure who has been called "the gib man" of Kansas City's $20,000,000-a-year gambling racket by Federal Judge Albert Reeves.

Resignation of Pendergast-backed Otto P. Higgins as police director.

Granting of a leave of absence to R. E. O'Malley as head of the city water department until pending court action has been completed.

O'Malley was indicted April 7 with Pendergast on the income tax charges.

BUSINESS ASKS HALT IN EXPERIMENTING to say about Adolf Hitler except he had regimented his Germans rather well. But, he added, the recent exchange between Hitler and President Roosevelt was "too bad" and he regretted seeing the president "placed in the position that he was."

The United States may have to go to war to defend itself, the Chicagoan declared, but, he added, it should not take to the battlefield in order to pull other people's chestnuts out of the fire.

WORLD'S FAIR AT NEW YORK OPENS

Fair Sets New Mark

Sixty nations and 35 states are participating in the fair, which expected to bring the expenditure of a billion dollars—as compared with $770,000,000 at the Chicago Century of Progress.

The fair is about three times as big as the Golden Gate exposition and cost nearly five times as much as the Chicago fair.

Fifty million visitors are hoped for this year. The fair will close October 31, and probably will run for a second year.

When it ends, it will be transformed into a city park half as big as Central park and valued at $100,000,000.
