ACROSS the water, where threats of war have become so common that they attract no more than passing attention any longer, the rulers and their front men have been indulging in talk that is like that of the small boy who says "My dad can lick your dad."

Everybody knows when that kind of talk is being tossed back and forth there's not much likelihood of a fist fight.

Democracy, says Herr Goebbels, propaganda minister, is weak in the chest.

Mussolini brags before his people that the Italian-Germany alliance is mighty and that against it the other group of nations will find it impossible to do anything.

There is an old nursery rhyme or child's poem which runs something like this: "Sticks and stones may break my bones but words will never hurt me." The "kid" who chants that one when another kid calls him a bad name is forthwith dubbed a coward and a sissy. But if, instead of talking, the maligned boy haughtily and with "aid" dignity ignores the bad words, he saves face fairly well.

So the democracies are making no comment but are haughtily ignoring the boastings and rantings of the dictators who must keep a show of some kind going on or attention will be taken from them—and a dictator must have, must at all times compel, the attention of his subjects.

So long as the activity of the dictators is confined to chest thumping there is little danger of war. It cannot possibly be feared that such talking will inflame the people so that they will want to fight. People, taken as a whole, do not want to fight—either individually or collectively.

What a contrast there is between the peaceful and dignified visit of the King and Queen of England to their provinces on this continent and the noisome boastful ranting of the dictators.

People admire, respect and pay homage to the British monarch who gives generously of himself in making public appearances, and speaks as we believe a king should speak in time of peace to a peace-loving people.

nie and peas were flown from California. Grilled breast of squab chicken was the principal menu item.

Sherry, white wine and champagne were served.

RICH food, when so many in the British empire are hungry? Of course. But we can't say much when our own big bums eat $100-a-plate political dinners while millions of Americans are on relief.

It's odd but even hungry people don't seem to resent these displays of offend magnificence. They like to think their rulers know how to do things up right.

"SORRY" MURDERER DRAWS LIFE TERM

SEATTLE, May 20.—(AP)—"I'm sorry it happened," said Lewis Thomas Wheeler, 53, confessed slayer of his sweetheart, Mrs. Dolly Tollotson Moore, 50, today as he was sentenced to life imprisonment for first degree murder.

The penalty was assessed at a one-day jury trial this week after he pleaded guilty to beating Mrs. Moore of Ashland, Ore., and burying her body near Auburn last August 13. State testimony indicated she planned to leave Wheeler and return to a former husband.

MONOGRAPHS GIVEN R. H. S. STUDENTS

Mert Kreil, representative from the Roseburg Kiwanis club, local men's service club, presented to the Roseburg senior high school a group of occupational monographs at a recent assembly held at the high school. The books tell about many occupations and just what training is needed to get into these trades and which occupation is best suited to the applicant. The books are to be kept in the library for the students who are interested to read and study.

The remainder of the assembly was in charge of the sophomore class and was announced by Dorothy White. A mystery play, "The Ghosts Walk," was presented with the following cast: Real estate agent, Alyce Moon; Henrietta, heroine, Lois Hills; Cleopatra, vamp, Dorothy Crocker; Henry, English gentleman, Orville Jennings; Charleston Butler, Jim Moran; Austin, bigamist, Alan Knudtson; the ghosts, Earl Wiard, Pat Quine, Nancy Davis and Charlotte Tillard. The play was read by Florence Hamilton and direction was under the guidance of Roberta Edwards. Properties were in charge of Cloydene Darby. Very appropriate sound effects were produced back-stage by Annie Shannon, Harold Russell, Cloydene Darby, Mary Peterson and Betty Marsters.

Jim Moran, accompanied by Bette Owen, whistled a popular song and then the sophomore girls' sextette composed of Dorothy White, Effie Calkins, Pat Quine, Marilyn Harpham, Florence Hamilton, Athalie Taylor and Bette Owen, sang "Little Sir Echo." Various announcements were made by Virgil Sanders, junior vice-president, and the high school orchestra directed by "Snap" Gillmore, closed the interesting program.

COMEDY DATED AT LOOKINGGLASS

LOOKINGGLASS, May 22.—A newest mystery comedy entitled "A Scream in the Dark" will be presented by a group of students from the seventh and eighth grades at the Lookingglass grange hall on Thursday evening, May 25, at 8 o'clock.

The cast includes Ruth Richards, Jim Davidson, Roseanna Wynne, Harold White, Billie Pritchett, Guy, Dean Ickes, Marian Morgan and Orto Rogers. The play is being put on under the direction of Mary Seeley, instructor in the upper grades room.

OUT OUR WAY By Williams

TOOMEY TRAINING TO HALT TURNER

Roberts Also Shaping for Attempt to Avenge His K. O. Bennett.

Bill Toomey, Tacoma middleweight, is out to do what other middleweights have failed to do in the past and that is to stop Leo Turner's winning ways at the American Legion boxing card at the Roseburg armory arena next Friday, according to a letter received today by Pat Pedelford, local match maker, from Toomey's manager.

Toomey, a blonde fighter with plenty of experience and as rough as they come, should furnish Turner with the kind of opposition they have been wanting to see, Pedelford declares. He is a good puncher and knows his way around the ring, the matchmaker says.

He has been working out regularly for the past eight days, and is boxing every days with Patsy "K. O" Roberts and Curley Hopper, a lightweight. Toomey in workouts is displaying plenty of jabs against Roberts and shows that he can take a good punch to the chin and body. He stands as tall as Turner, the Oakland, California, colored boy, but is not as fast on his feet. However, he is by far the more rugged of the two battlers.

Roberts Getting In Shape

Roberts is working hard to get in top condition, Padelford was informed. He is to fight a return engagement with Dallas Bennett of La Grande, who handed a knockout punch on Roberts in their last match, which was one of the wildest main events to be seen in the local arena this season. Bennett got off the floor, after a nine-count knockdown, to flatten Roberts with a right hook. Roberts was carrying a little too much weight in their last meeting, and is taking no chances on condition this time, according to the information given Padelford.

Tex Salkeld, Portland, manager of Turner and Bennett, writes that both boys are in good shape. They are training daily in a Portland gymnasium and Bennett is particularly working on a short right cross.

Turner, the colored boy who sprang into immediate popularity with local fans on his first appearance here, likes Roseburg and the Roseburg fans, Salkeld reports. He is anxious to please the crowd here and will work hard to beat Toomey.

The bout is to feature two 10-round bouts on a double headliner bill, which also will furnish interesting preliminaries.

Babe Fenton Scheduled

Jackie Miller of Salem will face Louis Franco of Roseburg in one of the four-round spots, while Jerry Murphy of Portland will be pitted against Babe Fenton, the popular young slasher from Sutherlin, in another of the warmup sessions.

The double main event also seems to be meeting popular approval from local fans, judging from the advance ticket sale, according to Padelford, who is anticipating a large attendance.

Roberts and Toomey are expected to arrive from Tacoma Thursday evening, and Bennett and Turner will be in Roseburg early Friday morning.

OREGON SNOW, RAIN GREET ROYAL PAIR

PORTLAND, Ore., May 22.—(AP)—A real Norwegian snow storm—if it shows in Norway in May—greeted Crown Prince Olav and Crown Princess Martha of Norway at Timberline lodge on Mount Hood yesterday.

The royal couple, dashing away from the elders at entertainment here, reached the lodge last night and got in a little skiing — the prince is an expert—before the snowstorm began.

The prince found time to dedicate a new ski lift at the lodge.

Before leaving here, their highnesses got a taste of Oregon rain when they attended open-air Lutheran services in Viking park. The prince sought refuge under an umbrella while the princess and her lady-in-waiting ducked into an automobile.

The royal couple will leave here tonight for Tacoma, Wash.

Daily Devotions
DR. CHARLES A. EDWARDS

"Let the words of my mouth, and the meditation of my heart, be acceptable in Thy sight O Lord." Psalm 19:15. Words are an index to character. Our language portrays the condition of the soul. Careless words produce hurt and sorrow. Mr. Ruskin once wrote, "If the spirit that is in you leaves your tongue the tongue of a liar, your heart the heart of a cheat, then you can be assured it is not the Holy Spirit." We can well afford to make our aim the prayer of the Psalmist when he asked that the words of his mouth might be acceptable in the sight of God. The lives of those whom we meet in our everyday contact can be made much brighter and happier if we sincerely try to make our words in accordance with God's will. Kind words can never die, they live in the memory of friends long after they are spoken. May we strive to bring cheer and comfort instead of trouble and sorrow. There is great power in words. Amen.

POPPY SALE FUNDS AID NEEDY VETERANS

Local participation in the eighteenth annual Buddy Poppy sale, sponsored throughout the country by the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, is being planned here by Patrick W. Kelley post, according to Commander Ray Tannlund.

Richard Baker has been appointed chairman of the 1939 Poppy sale for Roseburg.

The local sale will be conducted May 26-27, in conjunction with the nation-wide custom of conducting the sale prior to Memorial day, Tuesday, May 30. The entire proceeds of the sale will be used for the relief and welfare work of the V.F.W. among disabled and needy veterans of this vicinity, the national program of veteran rehabilitation and child welfare sponsored by more than 3,700 posts throughout the country.

The Buddy Poppy is the copyrighted name of the flower sponsored by the V.F.W. in an annual nation-wide sale every year since 1922, Commander Tannlund said. The poppies themselves are assembled by disabled veterans in government hospitals, who receive nominal wages for their work. The poppy, which first was sold on a country-wide scale by the V.F.W., was selected as the memorial flower because of its association in the minds of all Americans with the poppies of Flanders fields, he explained.

"Those who buy Buddy Poppies will have the satisfaction of knowing that they are contributing in a practical way, to the work our organization is doing in memory of America's soldier dead," Comrade Tannlund said.

LOS ANGELES BACK AT LEAGUE'S TOP

Twin Victory Posted Over Oaks as Seattle Splits Two With Beavers.

By the Associated Press

Los Angeles' Angels were back today atop the Pacific Coast League baseball standings—having once again beaten off a strong challenge for the top spot from the Seattle Rainiers.

The Angels, who twice in the past couple of weeks have dropped down to a tie for the lead with Seattle, pulled up with a one-game margin at Oakland yesterday as they whipped the Oaks in a doubleheader while Seattle was splitting with Portland.

The double win, by scores of 8 to 4 and 7 to 2, made it a clean sweep for the Angels in the four-game split week series with Oakland. Los Angeles won Saturday, 2 to 6.

At Seattle, the Rainiers won yesterday's opener, 7 to 0, but dropped the second game, 0 to 2. Seattle scored two runs in the first inning of the first contest and added three in the third. Barrett pitched a five-hit game. Liska pitched shutout ball as Portland blanked the Rainiers in the nightcap.

Seattle won the local series, 3 games to 1. Saturday's 4-to-3 win for Seattle came on Strange's eleventh inning homer.

San Francisco and Hollywood divided yesterday at the film city, the Stars winning the opener, 8 to 3, on an eighth-inning burst that netted five runs on five hits off Shores and Ballou, but dropping the nightcap, 4 to 6, rallying with six runs on eight hits in the final two frames. San Francisco won the series, 3 games to 1.

The San Diego-Sacramento doubleheader at Sacramento was postponed because of rain, which Saturday ended the second game of a twin bill in the fourth inning, called "no contest." Sacramento won the opener Saturday, 1 to 0, behind Seats' six-hit twirling.

Seattle announced acquisition of Ned Stickle, ace shortstop of Whitman college, who has caught the eye of major league scouts. Stickle hit around .362 during his college career.

USC TRACK TEAM WINS COAST MEET

SEATTLE, May 22.—(AP)—A Pacific coast conference all-star track team consisting of a University of Southern California man for virtually every event, plus a few other people, emerged today from the conference track and field meet won by USC here Saturday.

In addition to winning its fourth consecutive conference title by an overwhelming score, USC placed 33 men on a 42-man team which will represent the coast against Big Ten all-stars in a dual meet at Berkeley June 21.

USC piled up 67 points in the meet, followed by Stanford with 45; California with 38, Washington State with 20; Oregon with 15½; U. C. L. A. with 13; Montana with seven; Oregon State with five; Washington with two and one-half and Idaho with two.

In building up the total, six records were shattered and two others tied. Clyde Jeffrey, Stanford, run the 100-yard dash in 9.6 seconds to clip a tenth of a second off the previous record; Dile Garner, WSC, shattered a 13-year-old mark by finishing the two-mile run in 9:22.1; and Earl Vickery, USC, broke the 220-yard low hurdle tape in 23.2 for a new conference meet mark. Lou Zamperini, USC, finished the mile in 4:16.3 for a record; Herb Michael, California, heaved the shot a record distance of 52 feet 4¼ inches, and Boyd Brown, thumbless Oregon javelin expert, tossed the spear 224 feet 1¼ inches for the sixth new mark.

Winners of the first three places in each event automatically qualified for the all-coast team; and in cases of ties, coaches made selections.

DOE KILLING ISSUE ARGUED IN KLAMATH

KLAMATH FALLS, May 22.—(AP)—A deer problem—to hunt does or not to hunt does—haunted the state game commission today following a hearing of arguments on either side here Saturday.

Lake county sportsmen demanded the Oregon mule deer reserve between here and Lakeview be opened to doe hunters to reduce heavy concentrations on winter feeding grounds in Modoc county, Calif. Klamath county sportsmen demanded that the season remain closed.

Representatives of the forest service, stockmen and the chamber of commerce also participated in the hearing, at which the commission decided to consider all evidence before drawing hunting regulations in July.

Chief proposal of the session was for expert study of the winter range to determine its capacity. Forest service men said although the present Oregon summer range was sufficient for the estimated 20,000 mule deer, the annual increase of 4,000 might bring serious consequences.

Drought and range conditions, and not increasing deer herds, are responsible for recent curtailments of grazing allotments in the 30,000-acre area, some officials said. They added removal of livestock would not increase the carrying capacity enough to keep pace with deer increases because of differences in feeding habits.

Ivan Sack, of the forest service wildlife division, said deer fed on mahogany and juniper branches, which had not been computed in determing the capacities.

Lake county men demanded each hunter be allowed two does. H. C. Brown, Klamath Falls, retorted, "let's keep a few of these deer for our grandchildren."

Forrest Cooper, Lakeview, questioned the commission's declared chief purpose of protecting deer. He said he felt its duty was maintaining a balance between livestock and selected species of wildlife.

VETERAN PITCHERS TURN IN VICTORIES

Dizzy Dean Blanks Boston, Grove and Lyons Down Tigers, Senators.

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Dizzy Dean started a National league game Sunday for the first time this season and manufactured a stirring three-hit, 1-0, shutout of the Boston Bees for the Chicago Cubs.

Lefty Grove, who came into the American league 15 years ago and still takes a turn once a week for the Boston Red Sox, beated Tommy Bridges in what was a hot pitching battle for five innings—until some of the younger Red Sockers cut loose for an 8-3 rout which was Detroit's fifth straight setback. Grove got himself a home run to enhance the occasion and since he didn't get an extra base blow all last season, this was the real treat.

The loss was Bridges' first against five victories this year. Ted Lyons, even more of a veteran, inasmuch as he joined the Chicago White Sox in 1923, won a 10-inning 3-2 struggle from the Washington Senators. He scattered seven hits, struck out seven and gave no passes.

Lefty Gomez was batted out by the Cleveland Indians in the sixth, so it was Bump Hadley, an American leaguer since 1927, who got credit for the 12-6 victory when the New York Yankees' own lusty swatters got busy for their 11th consecutive victory.

Carl Hubbell also was chased yesterday and was charged with the New York Giants' 4-1 defeat at Pittsburgh. The "meal-ticket" was valid for two innings, but the Pirates bunched three of their runs in the third and that was that.

The St. Louis Cardinals and Cincinnati Reds made it unanimous for the western clubs and continued their neck-and-neck race in the National league by beating, respectively, the Phillies, 5-2, and the Brooklyn Dodgers, 7-2.

The Dodgers lost their undefeated "rookie" hurling star, Whitlow Wyatt, with a sprained knee before the Reds started rampaging so the defeat went to their 15-year veteran, Freddie Fitzsimmons.

The Philadelphia Athletics moved into sole place in the American league by beating the St. Louis Browns, 12-1.

CIO STRIKE CLOSES AUTOMOBILE UNITS

More Than 20,000 Workers of Briggs Co. Factories Affected by Dispute.

DETROIT, May 22.—(AP)—Seven plants of the Briggs Manufacturing Co. were closed down by a strike of the CIO-United Automobile Workers today, affecting more than 20,000 men employed by the Briggs and the Plymouth division of the Chrysler Corp.

Picket lines were established. Special details of police were on hand, but no trouble was reported.

Spokesmen for the Chrysler Corp. said the Plymouth division employing 6,000 men on the day shift, would be forced to close because of the shortage of bodies.

The company and the union had a contract which expired May 16. Today Emil Mazey, president of the Briggs UAW local, said the management "has not seen fit to discuss the issues on their merits and has resorted to attempts at horse trading."

The management said the union had "failed to offer a single concession," and charged Mazey was "seeking strife." It charged also the union had rejected an offer to submit the issues to an arbitrator.
