The City and Vicinity

Watch for Andrews & Kerr's special delivery. 9-24-tf

Miss Ethel Elliott, of Fort Wayne, Indiana, is the guest of Mrs. W. F. Gaskins.

H. H. Glassford, and brother from Ohio, have gone over to Airline to visit a sister, Mrs. Buchanan.

A cook at one of the logging camps near Philomath was mixed up in a runaway yesterday and received a broken arm.

E. E. McVicker and wife were at Dallas the first part of week and attended the opening at Dallas College returning home day before yesterday.

Wm. H. Waggoner, of near Philomath, was found last night in a partially paralyzed condition. He was missed and when relatives went to hunt him found him where he had fallen at the roadside from a wheel.

Dean Greer reports that there are quite a number of rooms at Waldo Hall not yet assigned. It was published that all rooms had been taken. This statement was incorrect. Any girls desiring rooms at Waldo will do well to call Miss Greer by phone or see her personally at once.

A gentleman named Porter, recently from Canada, proposes to winter here in a tent. The Glassfords have given room on their lots and a fine heavy tent, with board floor, has been put up. The Porters will be as snug as a bug in a rug and live quite pleasantly this winter, unless the very unexpected happens again.

Joseph Dixon's right hand, poisoned several months ago from digging out a thistle, is almost as stiff as a board. His hand was lanced in thirteen different places, and is terribly out of shape buy Mr. Dixon laughs and insists that it is better than no hand. That's a mighty fine spirit for a man past 80 of age.

A fire on Fifth street two or three days ago calls to mind again the necessity of boys and men being careful with their matches, cigarettes and cigars. This fire was in front of the Glassford house and was burning quite vigorously when they happened to return. But for intervention at that time some serious damage must have resulted. The grass is very dry at this time and it takes but a spark to ignite it. Be careful about throwing the match or lighted smoking material to the ground.

Registration at O. A. C. this year extends over a period of four days, instead of two as has been the rule heretofore. This makes it difficult to get any line-up on the probable attendance. Monday and Tuesday will be the heavy days, but because of the registration today and tomorrow the number enrolled then will not be so large. It is expected that about 200 will be enrolled before the offices close this evening. The four day scheme is liked because of the fact that it prevents the usual "rush."

J. T. Patterson, having bought the Bannister grocery, will be glad to meet old customers and many new ones. He will treat you right. Give us a trail and if not satisfactory come and tell us—If satisfactory, tell your friends. We can save you money. Try us. Phone, 3283, J. T. PATTERSON. 9-23-tf Kline's and The Elite have up some very beautiful O. A. C. decorations. O. A. C. colors lend themselves readily to very attractive decoration and this year several of the stores have lived up in a splendid way. The students should feel very flattered for it's doubtful if Bill Taft's coming would be heralded so joyously.

The O. A. C. council has been holding many meetings recently and yesterday the entire faculty, numbering 101, inclusive of certain employes, was called together to hear plans Pres. Kerr desires to see materialized. A feature of his address to the faculty was his uncompromising attitude in reference to the toleration of students inclined to the use of liquor. Any student guilty of using liquor while attending school at O. A. C. will be fired and not permitted to return.

The first week in October, Corvallis will receive a visit from Right Rev. Franklin S. Spalding, Bishop of the Missionary District of Salt Lake, which comprises the State of Utah, a visitation that promises to be an event in the history of the local parish. Bishop Spalding is in the prime of life, having been born in Pennsylvania, in 1865, and was consecrated to the episcopate December 14th, 1904. His field is one of the most difficult in the country, for he has the whole Mormon problem to contend with. In the five years since he has been consecrated, Bishop Spalding has shown marked ability, and is today considered one of the strongest men in the American House of Bishops. This autumn he is making a trip through Oregon and California, telling about the work of the church in Utah. On October 12th he is to be the chief speaker at an important social function, including a banquet, to be given in his honor at Portland, under the auspices of both clergy and laity of the diocese of Oregon, Bishop Scadding presiding. His visit here is in the nature of a mission as above set forth, and the citizens of Corvallis will be fortunate in hearing him. Bishop Spalding is one of the most brilliant speakers in the entire west and it is certain that the distinguished visitor will be asked to speak where all who care to do so may hear him.

Johnson's Fire

blew heavy sparks to the northeast, property near the burning barn suffered no injury. The barn was a good one and a short time ago had an addition built to it.

Mr. Johnson was at the council chamber when the news reached him, and the phone message said that it was his home. He made a rapid trip out to north Eleventh and of course was greatly relieved to discover that only his barn was afire and his home was not in greatest danger.
