UNDELUDED in a world of propaganda, the Baptist, Congregational, Methodist, Presbyterian churches and the Church of Christ, Salvation Army and Society of Friends in South Australia recently issued a message, part of which said:

"No nation of today can win a war. Victory for the best that man can envisage cannot be finally won by the use of force; it must rather be an outcome of a constant readiness to employ all the resources of the human spirit to secure a full life of liberty and justice for all."

How true this statement is has been affirmed by the results of the last war. However the present engagements end, there will be no victory. That must come in the years to follow, when adjustments are made in a peaceful fashion.

At Spokane, Wash., the other day, Dr. Will Durant, famous American philosopher, commented that, viewed in the light of history, it makes little difference which of the belligerents of Europe win their wars, since "in the past all sides have won at different times and no great damage was done to the cosmos."

"If we had historical perspective," he added, "we would realize that the nations of Europe have been fighting for the last 50,000 years and that they will probably continue to fight for another 50,000."

Those benevolent ladies who have given their sons and daughters in marriage have finally rebelled against the stigma that has attached itself to their lot. Every comedian has found mothers-in-law a handy subject for some derogatory quip, and the ladies don't like it.

They decided that maybe it was all in a name, and so they grappled with the problem from that angle. They changed the name of "mother-in-law" to "kin-mother." They have an idea that will help.

Maybe it will. Wisecracks about kin-mothers won't be nearly as funny as jokes about mothers-in-law. And, finally, funny men will just abandon this field. That will be just as well. After several decades of abuse, it would seem the ladies are entitled to some relief.

War is never good for the digestion.

It doesn't make much difference as far as food is concerned, whether you live in Germany or England these days. Both nations are at war, and both nations are living on rationed food.

Beginning March 11, British citizens will be allowed from one pound to a pound and a half of meat each week—if they are over six years of age. Children will be on half rations. In Germany, the quota per capita is one pound 1.6 ounces.

No matter how righteous the cause it may be fighting for, a nation is far from normal during war. The people who don't get into uniforms are far from being mere spectators to a bloody game.

Editorials on News

If you leave them in charge of your purse strings, they will BANKRUPT YOU. Your only hope of continued solvency lies in putting the financial competent republican party back into power."

If, after repeating that advice for years, the republicans turn in and try to outpromise the democrats they will be laughed out of the picture.

And will DESERVE it.

IT isn't an easy road Governor Sprague advises. Spending is pleasant and always has been—always will be, for that matter. Retrenching is PAINFUL. The prospect of going on a party is appealing, whereas staying at home and scrimping until the bills are all paid is uninviting, to say the least.

But the only way anybody ever recovered from a costly bust was to stay at home and scrimp until the bills were paid up. The politicians try to make us believe that governments are different—that by some special hocus-pocus they can go on spending forever and never paying back.

But it isn't true.

THIS writer agrees whole-heartedly with Governor Sprague that if the republican party is worth giving another trial it must come clean with the public and STAY CLEAN.

Income Tax Aides Dated in Roseburg

Auditors from the state tax commission will be in Roseburg March 18 and 19 to assist income taxpayers in preparing their 1939 income tax returns, it was announced today. The auditors will be at the courthouse between the hours of 8 a. m. and 5 p. m. on each of the specified days.

The state income tax law provides that ever single person, or married person not living with husband or wife, must file a return if his net income is $800 or more or if his surtax (intangibles) net income is $500 or more during the year. Every married couple living together must file a joint return or two separate returns, if their combined net income is $1,500 or more or their combined surtax net income is $800 or more during the year.

Every person or married couple regardless of the amount of their net income must file a return if their gross income from all sources is $4,000 or more. Every partnership and every corporation authorized to do or doing business in Oregon must file a return.

Returns for the calendar year 1939 must be filed on or before April 1, to avoid delinquency charges.

Leave for California—Mrs. John W. Weeks and her grandson, Leonard Weeks, who have been making their home here with Mr. and Mrs. Leonard R. Coleman on Reservoir avenue, left this morning for their respective homes in Oakland and Richmond, Calif.
