Every state, county and city official or board that handles public money should publish at regular intervals an accounting of it, showing where and how each dollar is spent. This is a fundamental principle of democratic government.

MANY people who drive automobiles very much after dark have had the experience of both headlamps suddenly blacking out because of some failure in the lighting system of the car. This writer has experienced it and can testify that it is a most awful feeling. With good luck and quick reflex action on the brake and clutch pedals, nothing so very serious happens.

But up on the corkscrew, curving, Columbia River highway Tuesday night a man from Eugene had the headlights of his car go out just as he was beginning to make a curve. What happened to him would 999 times out of a thousand—yes and probably the odds would be greater than that—would bring instant death to those in the car. Before he could react to the situation his car was over the cliff and hurtling straight down toward the Columbia river.

Today, however, the young man from Eugene is going about his business little the worse for the harrowing experience. His car hit squarely in the top of a tree, the hurtling fall cushioned thereby and nothing more than a few bruises resulted.

The fatalists say that we depart this life when our time comes and not before. If they are right it is mighty certain that the Eugenian's time had not come—his number was not up, as the saying goes.

The game commission of the state of Oregon has been so swamped with requests to improve fishing in lakes and streams in Oregon by stocking them with fingerlings from the various hatcheries, that it has decided to find out from the anglers themselves just how fishing is—and what fish are being taken in the various waters.

Orange colored cards have been provided on which anglers are asked to report their catches in detail. The name of the fisherman is not asked—merely the information as to his luck each trip he makes. These cards are available in several places. The several rod and gun organizations in the county have supplies of them and in Roseburg there is an ample supply at the chamber of commerce office.

Though the method of obtaining this information is subject to error and as a fact finding technique is not above criticism, it will provide some needed information. The record of the number of fish caught can give little more than an indication. The kind of fish taken, the size of them and the type of lure used is information that will be very useful. All anglers are hereby urged to cooperate with the commission by filling out and sending in those report cards after each fishing trip.

WE PROMISE TO KEEP THE NATION SOLVENT.

THAT is all the platform the republican party needs. It covers EVERYTHING. If the nation can be kept solvent, all its other problems can be solved.

Highway Beauty Measure Pushed

WASHINGTON, April 24.—(AP)—Representative Angell (R., Ore.) urged a house subcommittee on agriculture to approve his bill intended to authorize the acquisition of forest lands adjacent to highways, roads and trails to preserve or restore their natural beauty.

Angell told the committee roadside improvement has come to be regarded as necessary as highway construction. He said the bill provided that not more than 5 per cent of the federal aid highway funds allotted each state could be used for acquiring the necessary lands.

The Oregonian said in its state highways pass over the Cascade mountains, the Coast range and the Siskiyou mountains through virgin forests the beauty of which should be preserved. He said some of the giant redwoods "growing before Christ was born" were being destroyed. He said logging operations were denuding the forests along some of the highways.

A similar bill introduced by Senator McNary (R., Ore.) already has passed the senate.

Family Tragedy Survivor Declared Juvenile Ward

LOS ANGELES, April 25.—(AP)—Judge W. Turney Fox in juvenile court ruled today that 11-year-old Chloe Davis, who saw her mother beat three children to death and then commit suicide, must remain a ward of the juvenile court but at the same time be turned over to her father to be kept for a year.

The court then continued the case for a year, at which time another hearing will be held.

Earlier Barton Davis recounted the strange fancies that haunted his wife and drove her to the crimes she committed.

DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEEMAN IS VISITOR IN ROSEBURG

Howard Latourette, democratic national committeeman for Oregon, was a Roseburg visitor yesterday. He is a candidate for re-election in the May primaries. Latourette just recently returned from Washington where he attended the democratic national committee meeting.

"At that meeting," Latourette states, "we agreed that the convention will adopt a liberal platform and whoever is nominated must subscribe to it."

Family Injured by Dud Shell Awarded Damages

WASHINGTON, April 24.—(AP)—The senate acted this week to pay an Oregon farmer's family for damages done when a shell, shot on to the farm by national guardsmen, exploded after it had been carried into the home.

It passed and sent to the house a bill (S3388) to pay Dan A. Tarpley $1,945, Ernest H. Tarpley $500 and Pearl Tarpley $1,000. They are residents of Rickreall, Ore.

The national guardsmen fired four 37mm shells at a range next to the Tarpley farm. A dud fell on the Tarpley property and Dan Tarpley and his sister found it. They took it to the home of their parents, Ernest H. Tarpley and Pearl Tarpley.

Dan dropped it and the dud exploded, causing personal injuries to the three.
