

CORNER-STONE Laid.—The cornerstone of the new Odd Fellows' temple was laid in Pendleton last week, and in it were placed numerous articles, among them considerable money, in denominations varying from one cent up to one dollar. It may not be very safe to publish this lest some of the tatty hobos who congregate in those towns should blow the building up to get the tempting treasure, says an Eastern Oregon paper.

WILL ADD ANOTHER WIRE.—The Western Union Telegraph Company is putting in another arm and wire on their line between Portland and Tacoma. This will make seven wires for that company passing through this county, besides those of the Postal company. The company have been unable to get men in Portland to do the work and have been obliged to bring a crew of men from Minneapolis. Very, these McKinley times make idle men scarce.

A GOOD BAY.—W. E. Byers' sale, that was in the flour mill in Pendleton, when the mill burned, was opened last Saturday. The contents were found to have suffered very little injury. The backs of some books were a little charred and the paint and varnish in the interior had trickled upon the papers, but otherwise everything was in as good condition as when looked up. A sack containing $1000 in money and several pieces of county scrip had not been injured in the least.

A PREACHER FINED.—Some time ago Rev. Evan P. Hughes, pastor of the Congregational church at Hillsboro, was fined $50 and costs for violation of the state game law. It seems that the minister was not familiar with the law, and when informed by a friend that he had killed a China pheasant during the close season, he went before a magistrate, pleaded guilty and was fined $50 and costs, that being the lowest fine that could be imposed under the law. Governor Lord has remitted the fine.

TRAIN HELD UP.—Late last Saturday night the O. R. & N. train leaving Portland was held up a few miles outside of that city. About $15 in cash and a gold watch was all the highwaymen secured, and this was taken from the engineer and fireman, none of the passengers being disturbed. Sunday afternoon the robbers were captured at their lodgings in Portland. They gave their names as Jackson and Williams, one being about 50 and the other 25 years of age. Both claim to be innocent of the charges preferred against them.

FATAL TRAIN WRECK.—A freight train was wrecked about 30 miles east of The Dalles early last Monday morning, killing Charles W. Johnson, engineer, and seriously injuring William Hockman, fireman. A sand storm had prevailed during the night and a large quantity of sand drifted on the track. The engine and two freight cars were thrown from the track by the obstruction and turned completely over. It is not expected the fireman will recover, having suffered a broken leg and being terribly scalped. Later—The fireman died Tuesday.

MANY OF THIS KIND.—The notorious Sandy Olds has gone; but a number of his kind yet remain in this city. Sandy is a tough, characterless, conscienceless thug, a murderer and a thief; but he was not alone in that class in Portland. There are characters leading about the dives in the North End who would kill a man for six-bits, rob a child on the streets or burn the town for a chance to plunder it. Chief Barry and his force of police are keeping a close watch on these ghouls and fiends; otherwise there would be a carnival of crime in the North End every week.—Welcome.

AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.—The Corvallis Times has the following concerning the Agricultural college enrollment: "Up to Tuesday noon 226 students had been enrolled, the number being about 100 greater than the usual enrollment on the first two days. The enrollment so far is largely new students, due to the fact that former students, aware that the first week will be largely taken up with preliminary work, have not yet arrived. Dean Berthold, who superintends the registration is convinced that the enrollment will reach 300 by the end of the current week."

KEPT HIM SUBDUED.—While stopping one night at a farm house in Missouri, a traveler was astonished to see his hostess walk up to her husband about every fifteen minutes and box his ears or give him a hair pull, says the New York Journal. In the morning the guest, seeing the woman alone, asked an explanation of her strange conduct, and her reply was: "You see, stranger, me and the old man has been fightin' for ten years to see who shall boss this 'ere ranch, and I have just got him cowed, but if I should let up on him for a day he would turn on me again, and my work would all go for nothing."

The Debs' Colonization Plan.
BRATTLE, Sept. 27.—In an interview today at Olympia with a Post-Intelligencer correspondent, Governor Rogers gave his views as to the proposed Debs' colonization plan for this state. Governor Rogers said: "I know nothing whatever of the social democracy colony, beyond what I have seen outlined in the newspapers, and a letter I have received from Cyrus Field Willard, notifying me that a committee would soon visit this state. I am not altogether in harmony with the ideas of the social democracy in their colonization scheme. There is neither money nor land that can be donated by the state to the proposed colony, except, of course, as any man has the privilege of using his homestead rights. However, I have actual knowledge that some of the railroads have offered the proprietors of the colony money and assistance to induce them to settle in Washington, also that special inducements have been held out to the colonists by Eastern Washington land syndicates. Should the pioneers sent out by the colony be men willing to work hard and of practical ideas, the scheme will be production of good to the state in developing its resources and adding to its farms and commercial enterprises."

Regular services will hereafter be conducted in the Episcopal church in the evening of the second and fourth Sundays of each month. Services on the second Sunday will be conducted by a regular ordained minister and on the fourth Sunday by a lay reader.

The big steamer now loading railroad lumber at Portland for the Siberian railroad will be ready to sail in a few days. She will carry about 3,000,000 feet when loaded. This steamer is capable of carrying 9,000 tons of freight, or she will carry as much lumber as twelve ordinary coasting vessels.

A few years ago it was a rare occurrence to see a four-mast ship in the Columbia river, but now more than half the vessels that come here are of that class, which proves conclusively that the commercial importance of Portland is growing rapidly. The average tonnage of vessels coming here increases annually.

The Grant County News informs us that Canada has 12,000,000 bushels of barley that she wants to market in the United States and doesn't like the Dingley bill. The Dominion also has a big crop of potatoes ready to ship in. And yet free trade cranks tell us that protection never did anything for the farmer, says the Milton Eagle.

It is said there are a number of ships lying in the harbor at San Francisco with cargoes on board but cannot go to sea because enough sailors cannot be had to man the vessels, a very unusual occurrence. The great amount of commerce at this time has brought into service every available seaman and still there is a demand in excess of the supply.

The personal property belonging to the estate of Henry Johnson, deceased, was sold at the courthouse last Tuesday by E. E. Quick, administrator. The goods consisted of a kit of tools, some bedding and other small articles, of little value, in the first case, and several foreign coins and some books, in the latter case.

A naughty exchange says there is scarcely anything that a woman cannot do with a hairpin. She uses it to pluck her teeth, button shoes, clean fingernails, punch bed bugs out of cracks, fasten up stray bangs, clean out her husband's pipe, pick her toe nails, scratch her head, run into cakes to see if they are done, and about a million other things that the poor, deluded man knows nothing about.

"My boy came home from school one day with his hand badly lacerated and bleeding, and suffered great pain," says Mr. J. Schall, with Meyer Bros' Drug Co., St. Louis, Mo. "I dressed the wound, and applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm freely. All pain ceased, and in a remarkably short time healed without leaving a scar. For wounds, sprains, swellings and rheumatism I know of no medicine or prescription equal to it. I consider it a household necessity." The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by Dr. Edwin Ross.

Mrs. Effa Eglin and Miss Louisa Weber, of Portland, have been in town several days this week in an effort to organize a lodge of the Protected Home Circle, an order of eleven years' standing, which has already acquired quite a large membership. It is for both men and women, and is principally for insurance, though its social features are said to be good. Mr. J. L. Mitchell delivered a lecture here Tuesday evening in the interest of the order.

About a year ago Mr. F. A. Frakes purchased a piece of land near Scappoose with the intention of making it a highland home. He is succeeding admirably in his efforts, as the entire place, containing 50 acres, is now logged, and by another couple of years Phillip will have a place he can well be proud of. The county needs more energetic, industrious farmers like Mr. Frakes, and when it has acquired them will be better off.

Mr. E. C. Giltner, of Salem, and Mr. L. K. Adams, of Hillsboro, came down to St. Helens last Sunday. Mr. Giltner on Monday went out to Bunker hill, where Senator McBride was camping, and Monday evening Mr. Adams left for Portland, where he took passage on the steamer Elder bound for Juneau, Alaska, where he expects to remain at least during the winter, and in the spring may proceed to Klondike.

Every woolen mill in Oregon is running at full capacity, and some of them are running night and day. A new mill is being put in at Portland by Fleischner, Mayer & Co., who expect to have it in operation within a week. There is an increased demand for the product of these mills and they will probably continue to run at their full capacity all winter.

Captain Frank Kellen, a professional doctor of dangerous fevers, will attempt a voyage over the Oregon City falls in a barrel next Sunday. The barrel to be used is said to be the same one used by Captain Webb, who lost his life in Whirlpool rapids, below Niagara falls some years ago.

The little 4 year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wood, of Vernonia, walked into an ash heap a few days ago and severely burned his feet and hand. The little fellow was brought to St. Helens Wednesday morning where his injuries were attended to by Dr. Ross.

Judge and Mrs. F. A. Moore, of Salem, came down Monday afternoon and spent several days in our city visiting friends. The judge had not been in St. Helens since he was called to Salem over five years ago, and notes many changes and improvements.

Frost fell a night or two the first of the week.

Clarence Reed, of Rock creek, paid the outside world a visit this week.
Our winter term of school will begin October 11th, with J. E. Dow wielding the rod.

Rev. F. M. Fisher and D. F. Baker paid the metropolis a visit the first of the week.
Some of our farmers are patronizing A. S. Dudley's gristmill, on East Dairy, this fall.

Samuel Mow, accompanied by Mr. Shanahan and Mrs. Baker, left for St. Helens Wednesday.

Judge Brink and his faithful spouse returned home Tuesday from the Marion county hopfields.

George Pearson, of Pittsburg, took a turn around the square, viewing the sights in our town Saturday.

The empty houses of this city will soon all be occupied by students eager to take advantage of the opportunities afforded for acquiring knowledge.

The young child of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wood had the misfortune to fall into a fire Wednesday and was severely burned.

Win Melling and Van Mow left for the Goble railroad Sunday intending, if luck attended them, to hold down a job for the winter.

More cattle buyers are scouring the valley this week, anxious to secure cattle and hogs, as much or more so as they were in the most prosperous times.

We are informed that the catechetical class of this city, which has a membership of twelve, will meet at the church on Saturday, October 23, at 2 p. m. All young folks are cordially invited to come and help the good cause.

We prophesy an overwhelming majority for the republican party next June, as most of our Klondikers from this part of the moral vineyard, are populist, who are as eager to secure all of the despised yellow dirt of a year ago that they can comfortably carry.

Our Clatskanie brother says that the hop-pickers have all returned to his section of the country. Not so here; they come straggling in by twos, threes and wagonloads, among the latter to arrive we notice Albert and John Baker, Ora Lavender and Mrs. McCullough and family.

SCAPPOOSE NEWS.

A feed-grinding mill is needed here.
Rev. Chas. Philbrook preached here Sunday.

E. H. Lynch is building a barn and silo on his place.

W. T. Watts is building a silo in connection with his cow barn.

Wild hayting is about done. The crop was short but quality good.

Mrs. Robert Hartman is spending a month with relatives in Kansas.

Potato digging is now in order. The low price offered does not encourage growers.

Mrs. J. G. Watts attended the Congregational association at Hood River this week.

A. Holaday and H. West gathered over ten tons of prunes from their trees this season.

Cordwood is moving at an advanced price over last year, and the many wood men are jubilant.

Mrs. A. Stump is erecting a commodious dwelling on her property. G. W. Vollans is the builder.

J. C. Johnson is having a large cow barn erected on his farm. Lohkamp & Sons are the contractors.

Rev. Charles Schinck has organized a German Lutheran church in South Scappoose settlement.

Burgdorfer & Johnson are improving the water power of their sawmill, and soon will be able to fill large orders.

F. Payne is putting a large French burr into his paint mill, and the output will be greatly increased thereby.

Hop-pickers have about all returned. Wet weather interfered with profitable picking, but all had an enjoyable time.

Sabbath school will be maintained during the winter, and a general invitation is extended to the public to attend.

Silos are getting to be a necessity among our farmers and all who have them are exceedingly well pleased with ensilage feeding.

The Anderson fruit dryer proved a great boon to local fruit growers, and great quantities, especially dried prunes, will be offered.

Miss Gertrude Vollans, who was successfully graduated from Miss Boyle's school this year, has entered the Portland High school for the winter.

Miss Lulu Mann closed a very successful term of school in district 28, (joint) last Friday, and left immediately for Hillsboro, where she will teach in the city schools.

A jolly crowd of visitors from the Houlton Unity lodge paid the Scappoose lodge a fraternal visit last Saturday evening. After a short programme, light refreshments were served and a general good time was had.

Completed by Christmas.

"Trains will be running between Portland and Astoria before Christmas," said W. C. Cowgill, city editor of the Astorian, when in Portland a few days ago.

"The new steel bridge across John Day's river, five miles east of Astoria, was finished Sunday, and a construction train went over the structure yesterday. Track has been laid through Knappa on to Blind slough, 16 miles east of Astoria. An increased force, now numbering about 1000 men, are pushing things with vigor between Blind slough and Goble, where connection will be made with the Northern Pacific. Gaps in the grade are being rapidly closed, and the hardest of the rock work is nearly finished. The difficult construction through Blind slough will soon be at an end, probably by October 10, if the weather continues favorable, and at all events not later than November 1.

"An immense quantity of ties is now at Rainier, and great piles of steel rails have been provided at the east end of the line. Tracklaying will begin from both ends within two weeks.

"The material for the long steel bridge over Blind slough is now en route from the East, and contractor R. W. Wakefield, of East Portland, will begin work on the structure between October 5 and 10.

"It is understood that trackage arrangements have been made with the Northern Pacific by which trains from Astoria will use the track from Goble into Portland, and that our road will be provided for at the union station."

Karl's Clover Root Tea is a pleasant laxative. Regulates the bowels, purifies the blood. Clears the complexion. Easy to make and pleasant to take. 25 cents. Sold by Dr. Edwin Ross.

VALLEY NEWS ITEMS.

There was quite a heavy frost here last Monday night.

Ignatz Slinka went last week to seek employment on the Astoria railroad.

The largest potato dug yet in this locality this year weighed one pound. John Wilverding raised it.

The hop-pickers from this place have all returned, and are busy on their ranches putting in fall grain.

The hop-pickers from this place all report doing fairly well, considering the disadvantages of wet weather and poor hops.

It has lately been reported here that a railroad may be built through here shortly, and if the report be true, the company that builds it will reap a handsome benefit, as the road would pass through a belt of magnificent timber, and not only that, but there exists plenty of coal and iron, and, perhaps, gold; yes, gold! and if the people of this part of the county sit under their own vine and fig tree a little longer there will be a regular Klondike boom here instead of going away to the frozen regions of Alaska.

Cure that cough with Shiloh's Cure. The best Cough Cure. Relieves croup promptly. One million bottles sold last year. 40 doses for 25 cents. Sold by Dr. Edwin Ross.

The Farmers and the Populists.

The populists in the Farmers' National Congress were badly defeated during its sessions. "Calamity" Weller, of Iowa, introduced a resolution for the restoration of the free coinage of silver. This was reported unfavorably and rejected. Then came a resolution favoring the prohibition of "private monopoly in public necessities," even to the extent of the exercise of the right of eminent domain and the acquirement of such necessities by the state. On a call of states a three to one majority against the resolution was developed. Another financial resolution was similarly disposed of after a short discussion to avoid filibustering, which had been resorted to by the populists. Later in the day the populists were again "turned down" on the final report of the committee on resolutions. Resolutions were adopted commending the secretary of agriculture for his efforts in behalf of the dairy industry; favoring government inspection and grading of butter for export, and the reduction of official salaries; providing for a committee to report a plan for co-operation between the states for the prevention of the spread of contagious diseases among domestic animals. Resolutions introduced by Mr. Loucks favoring the income tax, government control of telegraph and telephone, the prohibition of corporate ownership of land for speculative purposes, and the initiative and referendum had been turned down in committee, and Mr. Loucks had made a minority report in each case. He was allowed to speak in support of each of the resolutions, and then the congress overwhelmingly sustained its committee.—New York World.
