MRS. LARAMORE TELLS TROUBLES

Lady in Goodwater Describes Her Distressing Experience and Tells How She Was Finally Relieved.

Goodwater, Mo.—"Ever since I was a little girl," says Mrs. Riley Laramore, "I was a great sufferer from dyspepsia.

I suffered misery after eating, and had terrible heartburn.

I thought I had to suffer this way as long as I lived, but when I began to take Thedford's Black-Draught, in small doses, every night, the heartburn was all gone in a few days, and I could eat without distress.

I took two small packages in all, and although that was some time ago, the dyspepsia has not returned.

I speak a good word for Thedford's Black-Draught whenever I have the opportunity."

If eating causes distress, we urge you to try Thedford's Black-Draught. It cleanses the system, helps the stomach to digest its food, regulates the bowels, and stimulates the liver.

It acts gently and is without bad after-effects. Try it. Price 25c.

FOLLOW A SHADOW.

Follow a shadow, it still flies you;
Seem to fly it, it will pursue.
So court a mistress, she denies you:
Let her alone, she will court you.
Say, are not women truly, then,
Styled but the shadows of us men?

At morn and even shades are longest,
At noon they are short or none.
So men at weakest, they are strongest,
But grant us perfect, they're not known.
Say, are not women truly, then,
Styled but the shadows of us men?

—Ben Jonson.

HERE IS THE CHANCE OF YOUR LIFE

if you want to locate near a town that has a very bright future I have 70 acres of the very choicest land, has a nice slope to the east, a first-class water right; 30 acres in alfalfa, rest has been in grain. Not having it all paid for it leaves me unable to take care of that much land. I will sell anywhere from 5 to 70 acres. My price ranges from $150 per acre up. About half cash; good terms on rest at 8 per cent interest. Land exactly the same adjoining has been selling at $200 to $300 per acre, so here is your chance if you want a good tract of land; 2 miles from Ontario, Ore. near Malheur Junction, where car shops and round house will no doubt be built in the near future.

LITTLE THINGS.

I think it is rather fine, this necessity for the tense bracing of the will before anything worth doing can be done. I rather like it myself. I feel it to be the chief thing that differentiates me from the cat by the fire.—Arnold Bennett.

This is the gospel of labor.
Ring it, ye bells of the kirk.
The Lord of Love came down from above
To live with the men that work.

This is the rose that he planted
Here in the thorn cursed soil.
Heaven is blessed with perfect rest,
But the blessing of earth is toil.

—Henry van Dyke.

HARVEST.

Let songs arise to thee, O God,
From every harvest field
And let the nations praise thy name
For what the earth doth yield.

We to thy holy altar, Lord,
The fairest flowers do bring,
And with the first fruits present
To thee our offering.

For thou hast in thy goodness great
With plenty filled the land;
No sparrow falleth to the ground
Except by thy command.

Oh, give us grace that we may first
The heavenly kingdom seek,
In confidence that thou for us
Dost earthly treasures keep.

Enable us to look beyond
The things of time and see
That greater harvest when we shall
Be gathered unto thee.

Not in a temple made with hands,
But in the mansions high
Prepared for us by thy dear Son,
In heaven above the sky.

—Rev. L. Sinclair.

TRUTH.

Speak freely and shame the devil.—Beaumont.

Truth, like the sun, submits to be obscured, but, like the sun, only for a time.—Boyce.

The deepest truths are best read between the lines and, for the most part, refuse to be written.—Alcott.

No pleasure is comparable to the standing upon the vantage ground of truth.—Bacon.

A man protesting against error is on the way toward uniting himself with all men that believe in truth.—Carlyle.

How sweet the words of truth breathed from the lips of love.—Beattie.

LOVE NOT ME FOR COMELY GRACE.

Love not me for comely grace,
For my pleasing eye or face,
Nor for any outward part,
No, nor for my constant heart;
For these may fail or turn to ill,
So thou and I shall sever.
Keep therefore a true woman's eye
And love me still, but know not why.
So hast thou the same reason still
To dote upon me ever.

—Anonymous.

APHORISMS.

Bachelor, a passerby; betrothed, a lion; wedded, an ass.—Spanish Proverb.

A wornout sinner is sometimes found to make the best declaimer against sin.—Lamb.

A wise man neither suffers himself to be governed nor attempts to govern others.—La Bruyere.

A wise man should have money in his head, but not in his heart.—Swift.

Every man carries with him a potential madman.—Carlyle.

Every man has a goose that lays golden eggs, if he only knew it.—American Proverb.

A bean is everything of a woman but the sex and nothing of a man beside it.—Fielding.

A dwarf sees farther than the giant when he has the giant's shoulders to mount on.—Coleridge.

BRIEF NEWS OF OREGON

A bounty on flies is going to be offered by the Salem commercial club to the school children in Salem.

Senator Chamberlain has been requested to use his influence to have the Dead Ox project included in the Owyhee project.

Bids will be opened April 1 at St. Helens for the $360,000 bond issue recently voted by Columbia county for permanent highway construction.

Dairy cows in Coos county this year are selling for a much higher price than ever before, due to the increase in the dairy business and the efforts to better the grade of the dairy stock.

The county in which a schoolhouse is located has jurisdiction in trying cases of crime in or near the building, according to an opinion of Attorney-General Crawford.

The Corvallis commercial club has started a campaign to increase its membership to 500 and to become more effective in developing Corvallis and Benton county commercially.

Counties which have collected interest on delinquent taxes without dividing it with its taxpaying districts may be sued by the districts for their share of the money, so Attorney-General Crawford decides.

A false reading of a Babcock butter fat test is a violation of the weights and measures law, according to an opinion written by Attorney-General Crawford for Deputy State Sealer of Weights and Measures Buchtel.

Citizens of Glendale have organized the Glendale-Cow Creek Good Roads association, of which Mayor Coe of Glendale is president. The association starts off with a membership of 35.

The Portland chamber of commerce has filed a protest with the Oregon delegation against the proposed removal from Portland of the pure-food laboratory of the department of agriculture. The delegation will try to have the order of removal rescinded.

That there are thousands of acres of fine land in Oregon from five to 25 miles from railroads that may be purchased for from $20 to $50 an acre, is the assertion of Mark Woodruff, publicity agent of the Portland, Eugene & Eastern railway.

An attendance average of 96.07 per cent, 2877 pupils on record in Polk county, 1855 pupils neither absent nor late, are some of the items in a report issued by H. C. Seymour, county superintendent, for the month of January.

The forest service is spending $2300 for roads during the coming summer in Baker and Grant counties, within the Whitman national forest. The service plans to open a new and shorter road across the mountains between Sumpter and lower John Day valleys, a distance of approximately 60 miles.

Miss Mollie Towne of Phoenix, formerly deputy county clerk, has announced her candidacy for the legislature on the democratic ticket, the first woman in Oregon to seek legislative honors. Miss Towne has studied law and has been admitted to practice.

It is reported that the O-W. R. & N. company will build a cutoff on its Umatilla-Spokane line from Cold Springs siding, on the Columbia river, across the irrigated section, through the town of Hermiston, connecting with the Echo-Coyote cutoff about miles west of Hermiston.

The conference of the United Evangelical churches will be held at Dallas, beginning April 4.

The Anti-Saloon league of America, whose headquarters and general publishing house is in Westerville, Ohio, has determined to throw the whole power of its organization to the assistance of the Anti-Saloon league of Oregon and the other organizations co-operating with it for a dry Oregon this year.

Believing that an eight-hour law having application to farms, dairies and other agricultural pursuits would be an injustice, the Linn county Pomona grange has passed a resolution protesting against such a regulation. It is recited that such a law would be wholly impracticable to the conditions peculiar to farm industries.

To retain the services of L. J. Chapin, the agricultural expert employed during the last two years to give expert assistance to the farmers of Marion county, the promotion department of the Salem commercial club has appropriated funds for the payment of half of his annual salary. In the past this had been paid by the county court, the other half being paid by the government, but this year the county court refused to give any funds for the purpose.
