SENATE REPRESENTATION.

The Oregonian well says:

"It is necessary to remind the East once more that, if we have our Nevada and Idaho, she also has her Deleware and Rhode Island. It is past comprehension that the Eastern newspaper can never upon any occasion remember there are small states in the East, and slim populations represented by two votes in the senate. The sheep ranches of Montana cast 20,000 more votes in 1896 than the gaseous state of Deleware. Maryland will have to combine its vote with New York's to equal that of Illinois and Missouri. Oregon has more voters than any one of the seven Eastern states of Deleware, Florida, Mississippi, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, South Carolina and Vermont. All New England did not cast as many votes, by 2[illegible]0,000, as the two Western states of Michigan and Wisconsin."

The East should also remember that the constitutional convention thoroughly considered the matter of senate representation, and in order to protect the smaller states from being overridden and virtually rendered powerless by the votes of the larger commonwealths, New York for instance, made the state itself the basis for representation in the senate, while the population of the state was made the basis for representation in the house of representatives.

That our fathers acted wisely in thus apportioning representation has been often proven. With equal representation in the senate the great states cannot override the smaller, but must accord them equal rights and privileges. The voice of Oregon is as potential in the senate as that of New York or Pennsylvania, while in the house of representatives she is practically a nonenity, so far as having any appreciable controlling influence is concerned.

PROPER ATHLETIC TRAINING.

The Portland Telegram, commenting on the tendency of our modern educational system to carry athletic exercises beyond a legitimate point, says the chief end of college instructions is not in the the direction of athletic process. No harm can come from moderate gymnastic or field practice under a professor, but matched games, with their enforced preliminary training are a distraction from the pursuit of scholarship. The moment you have rival clubs in different colleges to contend for masterly you have business and not play, and a business wholly antagonistic to college business. These are the views of every person who abor- under the impression that boys are not sent to college to become athletes. If the Stanford-Berkeley games had not been declared "off" by the team managers themselves, it would have been proper for the college authorities to interfere in order that the chief aim of college life might be maintained.

The enrolled copy of the state constitution of Oregon, signed by the members of the constitutional convention, is in the handwriting of Judge W W Page who died the other day at Portland. That instrument was adopted forty years ago, and but few of the members who took part in the work now stand among the living. It was very appropriate that the funeral address over the dead pioneer should have been delivered by Hon L F Grover, ex member state constitutional convention, ex-congressman, ex governor and ex-U S senator.

The Oregon City falls of the Willamette give a water power of 56,000 horse power. This is nearly three times greater than that of Minneapolis; five times that of Lowell, Mass., or Manchester N H But why mention Oregon City particularly, when Oregon has innumerable water horse power going to waste on every hand? Oregon City's advantage lies in her proximity to deep water, and the ease with which the water can be controlled on account of solid rock bottom and banks.

A Portland policeman deserves a medal. He hit the man he shot at instead of an innocent bystander as is usually the result of shooting on the streets.

An exchange says Phil Metschan, the clever state treasurer, is already mentioned as a candidate for the republican gubernatorial nomination. Secretary Kincaid is also mentioned in the same connection. Either would prove formidable before the people.

The mayor of Salem finds solace from the weightier cares of office in considering the dog question. He says the more poverty the more dogs, and seeks to maintain Salem's fair name by waging a relentless war on the surplus canines.

An Indiana man recently got religion and confessed some of his past sins. The result is a suit for divorce by his wife.

Goshen Items

April 21.

Here we are again.

Farmers are nearly done seeding.

Hop growers are busy plowing.

Mr and Mrs Henry Beck were down from Creswell yesterday.

A program appropriate to Easter was rendered in the M E church Sunday.

E W Lavert, who recently got a leg broken by a horse falling with him, is improving as well as could be expected.

Bert Mathews, who has the Keeney hop yard rented, has 9 or 10 men employed pushing the work of cultivation. Mathews Bros are hustlers.

A son of "Wad" Eaton, aged about 14 years who lives with his parents on the Mathews Bros' farm, cut one of his thumb off while engaged in splitting wood Saturday.

Mrs Sam'l Holloway returned to her home in Eug ne Monday after visiting several days with her son-in-low, C W Rychard.

Dr Kuykendall was out Sunday, having been called upon to visit Mrs B F Keeney, who is in delicate health.

The season being favorable to their raising, this section promises an abundant supply of turkeys next fall. J B Keeney and O M Cahow are kept busy hunting nests, gathering eggs and setting broody hens of a flock of about 65. C W Rychard and A H Boyd also have a joint flock of about 40 hens, and just now one man is required to be with them during the day to keep an eye on, for the sly old hens that are ever ready to wander off for a mile or two to secrete her eggs. While these flocks are the largest ones, almost every farmer in the vicinity has from half a dozen to 15 or 20 turkeys. In the aggregate there are great prospects of a large turkey harvest about Goshen when the holidays come.

Some mention was made in the GUARD recently as to a complaint of damaged strawberry plants down the valley. The plants in this section never looked finer. The freeze has not injured them in the least. Fine potatoes are now being dug from the gardens in which they grew last season, without the slightest indication of damage from the "cold snap" of the winter.

We regret to note that our friend J A Finch has sold his newspaper, "The Silver Imprint," published at Albany and will retire from the editorial sanctum. Jim used to make it lively for us when he lived at Creswell and was a "Cyclone." We wish him success in what ever may be his next venture.

Born, Sunday, April 18, 1897, to Mr and Mrs W L Wheeler, a daughter. A peculiar coincidence is the fact that all of Will's old hens became broody on this eventful day and he set out next morning driving like mad toward Irving, where he claimed he was going for "thorough bred eggs," but to those familiar with the facts, it was thought more probable that he wanted to apprise Father Bond and other relatives of the addition to his household

We have been having very nice weather lately, but it looks rather rainy today. Rain would be a fine thing for our grain and gardens.

Mr George Prescott left this place for Lorane Friday. He will go from there to Eugene on business.

M D Johnson, who has been in Coyote precinct returned home yesterday.

A G Post and wife, who have been staying with their son, Frank, who resides at the McKenzie, returned home Friday.

Miss Lottie Bierce and Miss Laura Johnson are the guests of Miss Fannie Layne today.

A few men have been working on the river road down below Lorc, for a day or two. We are in hopes of having a road clear through to the Head of Pide before fall.

Our school opened April 5th, and is now progressing nicely under the management of Miss Jennie Taylor, of Eugene. Miss Taylor gives good satisfaction and our directors have hired her for the fall term of school.

Miss Frances Bierce is talking of carrying the mail for her father as soon as the roads are a little better and the weather is settled.

Miss Ada Pierce of Alma, visited in this vicinity last week.

Rollin Johnson of Coyote, was at this place last week. He did some work on his place up the river from here.

This is a good time of the year to take Simmons Liver Regulator. It is the very best medicine to take in the Spring for the blood and to cleanse the system of all impurity. "I have used Simmons Liver Regulator as a corrector and blood purifier and think it an excellent remedy. I always keep it on hand to take in preference to other medicines."—J M Hysell, Middleport, Ohio.

During the winter of 1895, F M Martin, of Long Beach, West Va., contracted a severe cold which left him with a cough. In speaking of how he cured it he says: "I used several kinds of cough syrup but found no relief until I bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which relieved me almost instantly, and in a short time brought about a complete cure." When troubled with a cough or cold use this remedy and you will not find it necessary to try several kinds before you get relief. It has been in the market for over twenty years and constantly grown in favor and popularity. For sale at 25 and 50 cents per bottle by Osburn & DeLano.
