Chairman Co. Committee.

AFFRAY AT KERBYVILLE.—We learn from Taylor, Mail Agent, that a difficulty occured at Kerbyville, Josephine County, on Friday last, between Hughs, County Clerk, and ex-Sheriff Chapman. The particulars are about as follows: Chapman, a bedrock Democrat, went to the clerks office, and applied some very abusive language to Hughs, a soft Democrat, and drew a pistol, but did not fire. Hughs drew his pistol and fired one shot, the ball cutting Chapman's coat. Deputy Sheriff Kendall then interposed and hostilities ceased. The affray originated from an old grudge.

EXTRA COLTS.—Mr. Myer the importer of blooded stock for Southern Oregon, weighed his two noted colts Louise and Reliance, on Tuesday of this week. Louise is one year old and weighs 1062 lbs; Reliance is eleven months old and weighs 862 lbs. The colts were broken while quite young, and created quite a sensation at our county fair last fall by being driven before a light skelleton wagon.

A LARGE TUSK.—Mr. Rockfellow, while mining near Ashland in this county a few days since, found what was supposed to be a part of a tusk of some monster animal. The delicate little chap seems to have supported a tooth, a small fraction of which measures six feet in length and nine inches in diameter at the larger, and eight inches at the smaller end, and weighs 137 lbs.

THE Democrats hold their primaries to-day.

Soldiers' Homesteads.

A short time ago, says the Oregonian, the telegraph gave information that Congress had passed a bill to enable discharged soldiers and sailors, or the widows of discharged soldiers and sailors, to acquire homesteads on the public lands. The San Francisco Call furnishes further particulars about its provisions. From that paper we learn that the bill provides that the time of service of any soldier or sailor in the army or navy shall be deducted from the time now required by law to acquire a homestead. Under the present laws, any citizen of twenty-one years of age, or upward, can locate 160 acres of surveyed Government land at $1 25 per acre, or 80 acres of double priced land, at $2 50 per acre, after five years of continuous residence thereon, and cultivation, can obtain a patent from the general Government without payment of any money. The bill lately passed allows the the time served in the army or navy to be deducted from this five years, so that a discharged three years' soldier, or his widow, can acquire a homestead by proving of only two years' residence. The bill goes no further than this—does not provide for any gratuity of land to the soldier or sailor further than is now allowed under the homestead law, but reduces the time in which he acquired title. Those soldiers who served throughout the war need only reside on their land about one year before they are entitled to a patent from the Government, free of all expense, except a small fee to the Recorder or Register.

State Rights.

The Democratic party has been always clamorous about State rights. What are the rights of a State? Do they not consist in receiving what justly belongs to the State from the general Government? How do we ascertain what belongs to a State? We ascertain this by comparing what one State has received with what has been given to another. Our State is yet young, and we comparitively have received but a very small part of what is due us from the general Government. The older States have received their grants and built their roads, and are now rolling in wealth from the aid they have received from the Government. If the Democrats carry out their doctrine of opposition to railroad grants, then our State will be cut short of her just proportion of the public lands. If these grants are now stopped while the State is in its infancy we must necessarily be deprived of rights that justly belong to us. If the Democratic theory, when carried out, deprives this State of her just rights, then the Democracy of Oregon have turned another summer sault, and are not in favor of State rights, but oppose them. The Democrats of Oregon are about as consistent as the school teacher who, upon being examined for a certificate was asked whether he believed the earth was round or flat, replied that to those who believed the earth was round he taught that theory, but to those that believed it to be flat he taught that it was flat so that no one could find fault with his theory of teaching. It is so with the Democracy. They think that they can in this campaign make capital by opposing State rights, so they believe there is no such a thing as State rights, and that Oregon has no right to ask for a foot for Railroad purposes notwithstanding other States have received their millions of acres.

The Dalles Convention.

We take the following from a correspondent of the Portland Bulletin about the Dalles Convention:

Yesterday morning the Convention assembled. Of regular delegates and proxies there were one hundred and eighteen—some counties represented by a single delegate invested with from three to eight proxy votes. The first contest was for Chairman. Much to the chagrin of the Groverites Col. Nesmith was chosen. Mosher of Douglas and Curry of Multnomah and one or two others wanted it. General Miller did som quiet buzzing for it on his own account. The Committe on Resolutions was the next big thing in order. Governor Curry got to be Chairman of that. The Convention got along with the organization with little trouble and waited for the Committee to report. At last a recess until seven o'clock in the evening was taken. At that hour Moody Hall was filled to witness the proceedings. The Committee did not come to time. A half hour of impatient time was lost before the Committee reported. The resolutions were hurriedly read and, on motion of General Miller, as hurriedly declared adopted. Burch of Polk and White of Clackamas tried ineffectually to have them read one by one and passed upon, but Miller choked the suggestion from action, and so the platform was taken at one gulp. One plank was included in the original draft by the Committee, which much affects this whole section of the State—the favoring of railroads by Congressional aid. Miller had that stricken out. He threatened to do terrible things if it was kept in the platform. But he insisted that the State should aid the construction of the Canal and Locks. Jo Teal was sent for. He backed Miller, and swore that "not one G—d d—d cent he would give to the election" if the platform was not made to suit him, and to appease him and Miller the Railroad plank was stricken out and the Canal and Lock plank was put in.

The True Grounds for Confidence.

Whence comes that firm reliance, that absolute, undoubting faith in the efficacy of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as a remedy for indigestion, billious disorders, intermittent and remittent fevers, which notoriously prevail in all parts of the United States? This confidence has been growing for twenty years, and it is still extending. It is not the result of credulity; it has not been engendered by any human device, but is the spontaneous and natural consequence of experience. What people see daily going on under their own eyes they cannot question. When families in unhealthy districts that resort to this wholesome vegetable tonic, as a preventive, escape periodical fevers, and their immediate neighbors, who neglect this precaution, are prostrated by the disease, how is it possible that the phenomenon should be without its lesson? In like manner when it is seen that obstinate cases of dyspepsia, of liver complaint, of constipation, of nervous weakness, and of general debility, yield to the operation of the famous remedy, how can even incredulity itself withhold its endorsement? Eyewitnesses of the salutary effects of the bitters are to be found in every civilized settlement on this continent. The thousands upon thousands who owe their restoration to health and strength, or their preservation from sickness, to its extraordinary medicinal properties, are enthusiastic in its praise. The multitudes who recommend it in a neighborly way to their friend and acquaintance, as well as those who make public their estimate of its virtues, are always ready to state their reasons for the faith that is in them. They have all either felt or witnessed its beneficent operations.

A SCHOLARSHIP in the National Business College, at Portland, can be had on favorable terms by applying at the SENTINEL office.

THE WHITE PRINCE

WILL BE KEPT AT MY FARM NEAR Ashland, Oregon, till the first Tuesday in April; will then be every Tuesday and Wednesday at the Union Livery Stables, Jacksonville, and Friday and Saturday at home till the 10th of July.

NAPOLEON II,

The horse I purchased while in the East the past winter, is now near Red Bluff, Cal., and will be here about the first of May and be kept with White Prince the balance of the season.

He is not quite as heavy as White Prince; rather finer about the head, neck and withers; a beautiful dark dapple gray, with white mane and tail. This horse, and mare "Joan of Arc," which died before shipment, were selected in France, in 1870, by one of her citizens, the best judge of this stock known.

Since the public have seen White Prince at our County Fair, he has matured and spread so his former friends would hardly know him.

While East last winter and conversing with intelligent horse breeders, several of them informed me they had stood aloof from the Percheron or Norman horses, thought them too heavy and not sufficient travel for ordinary use, but after seeing the grade colts and fillies come to maturity, and seeing them in use, say they will breed to them. Wherever they have been introduced they have given universal satisfaction.

I have been at great expense and risk in making the above importations, and have no doubt that if the horse breeders of this and adjoining counties, patronize the above horses and take proper care of their colts, we will show in a few years a class of horses superior to anything in their ring on this coast.

I will give $150 00 for the best horse colt sired by White Prince, at weaning time the coming fall.

Also, premium of set of silver teaspoons to the owner of the 2d best horse colt.

For the best mare colt, set silver teaspoons.

For 2d best mare colt, a heavy silver plated soup ladle.

To be judged by disinterested men at our county fair in 1872.

Also, for the best lot of colts owned and bred by one party from White Prince and Napoleon II, at the county fair of 1873, a set of silver tabe spoons.

TERMS.

$15 due during the Season, and $15 when the mare is known to be with foal, or parted with.

I have made my terms reasonable, that none need complain. I do not think any other person would go to this expense and risk to secure as good imported horses for anything like the same terms.

I will shortly have an Illustrated Descriptive Catalogue and a large engraving of my stock.

My colts, which I had at our county fair last fall, keep the same form and have grown well.

Call and see my stock and be your own judge as to their merits.

I will secure pasture, at fair rates, to accommodate mares from a distance.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping-Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Among the great discoveries of modern science, few are of more real value to mankind than this effectual remedy for all diseases of the Throat and Lungs. A vast trial of its virtues, throughout this and other countries, has shown that it does surely and effectually control them. The testimony of our best citizens, of all classes, establishes the fact, that CHERRY PECTORAL will aid and does relieve and cure the afflicting disorders of the Throat and Lungs beyond any other medicine. The most dangerous affections of the Pulmonary Organs yield to its power; and cases of Consumption, cured by this preparation, are publicly known, so remarkable as hardly to be believed, were they not proven beyond dispute. As a remedy it is adequate, on which the public may rely for full protection. By curing Coughs, the forerunners of more serious disease, it saves unnumbered lives, and an amount of suffering not to be computed. It challenges trial, and convinces the most sceptical. Every family should keep it on hand as a protection against the early and unperceived attack of Pulmonary Affections, which are easily met at first, but which become incurable, and too often fatal, if neglected. Tender lungs need this defence, and it is unwise to be without it. As a safeguard to children, amid the distressing diseases which beset the Throat and Chest of childhood, CHERRY PECTORAL is invaluable; for, by its timely use, multitudes are rescued from premature graves, and saved to the love and affection centred on them. It acts speedily and surely against ordinary colds, securing sound and health-restoring sleep. No one will suffer troublesome Influenza and painful Bronchitis, when they know how easily they can be cured.

Originally the product of long, laborious, and successful chemical investigation, no cost or toil is spared in making every bottle in the utmost possible perfection. It may be confidently relied upon as possessing all the virtues it has ever exhibited, and capable of producing cures as memorable as the greatest it has ever effected.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER.

Every year increases the popularity of this valuable Hair Preparation; which is due to merit alone. We can assure our old patrons that it is kept fully up to its high standard; and it is the only reliable and perfected preparation for restoring GRAY OR FADED HAIR to its youthful color, making it soft, lustrous, and silken. The scalp, by its use, becomes white and clean. It removes all eruptions and dandruff, and, by its tonic properties, prevents the hair from falling out, as it stimulates and nourishes the hair-glands. By its use, the hair grows thicker and stronger. In baldness, it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, and will create a new growth, except in extreme old age. It is the most economical HAIR DRESSING ever used, as it requires fewer applications, and gives the hair a splendid, glossy appearance. A. A. Hayes, M.D., State Assayer of Massachusetts, says, "The constituents are pure, and carefully selected for excellent quality; and I consider it the BEST PREPARATION for its intended purposes."
