Harvey, Bachlund, Ulrich Score for Indians at Meet

Competing with 17 other Oregon high schools, Roseburg's Indians compiled 13 1/3 points from nine track and field entries to land sixth place in the annual greater Willamette Valley track meet Friday at Hayward Field in Eugene.

Cottage Grove, winner of the Hayward Relays of two weeks ago, walked off with the meet's championship, tallying 54 points. Eugene's Axemen racked up 45½ points for second place.

Ed Harvey set the scoring pace for Jack Newby's cinder men as he clipped of a 53.8-second, 440-yard dash to capture first place among six opposing speedsters representing Cottage Grove, Salem and University High.

In the 100-yard dash, Harvey was nosed out by an inch to take a second to Powell of Eugene, who broke the tape at 10.4 seconds.

Art Bachlund came up as the Indians' new miler discovery as he sprinted to a second place to Cottage Grove's Hawkins' 4:29.2 time.

In the field events, John Ulrich's 49½ feet shot putt heave netted a fifth spot to a 48 feet toss by Eby of Silverton, and Eugene Carr skimmed 9½ feet for a fith in the pole vault event, which was won by McIntosh of Corvallis at 10 feet.

Next Friday Newby's Indians again journey to Eugene for a Tri-County meet at which University High will be host to squads of Junction City, St. Mary's, Elmira, Lebanon, Sweet Home, Newport, Toledo, Taft, Cottage Grove, Roseburg and University High.

NO SMELT RUN LIKELY

PORTLAND, April 28.—(AP)—The smelt won't be in the Sandy River this year — unless they break precedent.

Fishermen report there have been no runs in the river later than April 9 on record since 1929. The smelt have skipped their return to the river seven of the years since that date.

Before the white man came, there were 60,000,000 buffalo in the United States, it is estimated.

DAILY DEVOTIONAL

DR. CHARLES A. EDWARDS

When Martin Luther was at Wartburg Castle virtually a prisoner he would open his window every morning, look up at the sky and cheerily sing, "God is Our refuge and strength." John Guokin also knew the value of a glad outlook, and he would awaken his guests at Brantwood calling "Are you looking out?" When they looked, a scene of beauty met their eyes. Few things so determine the soul's welfare as does its outlook. If our spiritual frontage is toward the shadow, all things are wrapped in gloom; if toward the sunlight, all things are bright. Hence the primary question is "What is your outlook?" Thomas Carlyle wrote: "From a small window you may see the infinite. "So Daniel believed. The fact that windows of his Soul were open toward the infinite explains his character and his career. If we like Daniel keep the windows of our soul open toward Jerusalem, God has promised to open the windows of heaven, and pour us out a blessing "that there shall not be room enough to receive it." Men live in poverty, largely because of the smallness of their Soul. Look up not down, look out not in. Daniel opened his window toward Jerusalem. Amen.

See Maureen O'Hara in "THE HOMESTRETCH," a 20th Century-Fox Technicolor Production
MAUREEN O'HARA says: "Even when it's iced and spiced
You can't make a bad cup of M·J·B"
Try Maureen's refresher course . . . a frosty coffee party drink

US: Ices, spices—away with such devices. In coffee it's the flavor that entices—and flavor is what M.J.B has most of. We scour the world to find choice-of-the-crop coffees for M.J.B's full, mellow blend. In M.J.B—only the best suffices.
SPICED COFFEE FROSTED
Fill tall glass three-quarters full with cold M.J.B Coffee. Add a generous portion of coffee ice cream and sprinkle one teaspoon finely chopped crystallized ginger over top. Serve at once with long stick of cinnamon for stirring.
MAUREEN: Your advice has both rhyme and reason. It's precisely why I use M.J.B for my Spiced Coffee Frosted. I've found that no matter how you like coffee—strong or weak or iced—that rich, satisfying M.J.B flavor seems to come smilin' through.

US: Glory be, macushla, your Spiced Coffee Frosted is de-lucious. But you'll have to share the credit with M.J.B's "individual roast," the special process that coaxes out all the goodness of each coffee bean, puts more flavor in your cup.

No finer coffee packed . . . we guarantee it
• Only the world's choicest coffee beans go into M.J.B.
• A special roasting process brings out all of M.J.B's flavor.
• M.J.B Coffee is protected by a higher vacuum packing process.
• That's why we say there is no finer coffee on the market.
