Howe Taken Back to Madras

Henry Howe, who stabbed Thomas McCormack in the back in a saloon row at Madras, was taken back to Madras yesterday to be tried for simple assault. Howe was lodged in the county jail awaiting the result of McCormack's wounds. They proved to be not of a serious nature and on the recommendation of Justice Jackson of Madras Howe was taken back to stand trial for a minor offense.

Had a Very Rough Trip

H. O'Dell, George Slayton, P. L. Pitner and Columbus Johnson came in Sunday from Portland. Mr. O'Dell was tied up at Fallbridge for a week, owing to the snow blockade. The Oregon Trunk, when it found out that trains could not be got through, offered to transport the passengers free of charge back to Portland or pay hotel expenses at Fallbridge. Mr. O'Dell, who is hard of hearing, did not understand the announcement when made so remained at the Junction where hotel accommodations were severely taxed to take care of the large number of belated travelers.

Gov. West Doesn't Like Morson

J. E. Morson, of the Deschutes Irrigation Company, was scored by Governor West at the Portland Ad Club banquet at the Portland Hotel rathskeller yesterday noon, says the Oregonian. It is this company that has been selling land in the big La Pine project. Governor West declared that while Morson has been giving him the lie, Morson is himself the chief prevaricator. He declared the postal authorities should investigate Morson's methods of advertising through the mails. Many settlers, he said, have been induced to invest where there is no hope of their receiving the worth of their money.

Morson, he said, has sold options on land to the amount of about $700,000 and collected $150,000. But the Desert Land Board, of which Governor West is a member, has no record of the sales, said the governor, so that there is no way for the board to tell whether or not the same land has been sold to more than one person. He told of receiving a letter from a public service corporation a few days ago, asking if Morson had anything that could be attached, as his account was long past due

Will Make Paper From Lodepole Pine

An experiment in the making of paper from black pine pulp is soon to be conducted by the Crown Columbia Paper Company of Camas, Wash., three carloads of the pine having been shipped to the mill by John E. Ryan of Bend, a representative of large timber interests in Central Oregon, says the Portland Journal. Mr. Ryan, who with Mrs. Ryan is registered at the Imperial, is of the opinion that the experiment will prove a success. If so, it is understood that a number of mills will be established in the inland empire.

The United States forest service is much interested, for, within its jurisdiction, are millions of land in Oregon covered by a dense growth of "lodge pole" pine, which heretofore has been regarded as valuable only for fuel or fencing. Experiments on Montana black pine, which is similar to the Oregon pine, are now being conducted at the forest service station at Madison, Wis.

"Central Oregon has much land especially along the Deschutes river which will be valuable for farming or dairying when the lodge pole is removed," said Mr. Ryan. "In some localities there are thousands of acres in a body, near which a paper mill may be established. Contiguous to this land is good water, which is necessary for the successful making of the pulp. It costs a great deal to set up a paper mill and unlike a sawmill it cannot be moved profitably. In central Oregon a mill may be put in the midst of a big lodge pole district having an abundant water supply.

"Whether the lodge pole pulp will be valuable for the high class paper is not known at present, but experiments have been conducted far enough to pretty thoroughly prove that it is suitable for white paper and the rougher product." —Journal.
