Income Tax Rates Draw Rap From U. S. Chamber

WASHINGTON, July 15.—(AP)—The United States Chamber of Commerce yesterday called individual federal income tax rates "so severe as to be a bar to progress, thrift and prosperity."

Through five witnesses representing its committee on federal finance, the chamber asserted:

"A peacetime system must be installed at the earliest possible moment. It must be a stable, equitable and workable system, permitting replenishment of the well-springs of enterprise."

The chamber's views on tax problems were presented as the House Ways and Means Committee continued hearings on a general revision of federal tax laws to be undertaken next year.

EIGHT DRUNKS JAILED

Eight persons were arrested for drunkenness by city police over the weekend, Chief of Police O. A. Kennerly reported. They included:

Joseph Lizette, Roseburg, on his second offense in three days; Raymond L. Gillis, Jesse James Woodall, Benny L. Swenson, Roy B. Willis, Ivan A. McKnight, Kenny Hughes, E. L. Galberg, and Chester Dean Crabb.

A man booked as "John Doe Cripple," is being held for a mental check up, following his arrest for vagrancy, the chief said.

HOME BOUGHT

Dr. R. E. Williams of Myrtle Creek has purchased the former Coy Morris home as investment property, it was reported today by the Oerding Realty Co. The sale was handled by Frank Burr, Oerding representative at Myrtle Creek.

DAILY DEVOTIONAL

DR. CHARLES A. EDWARDS

"Whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap." We live in a moral universe, created according to God's plan and design. Therefore, we can expect certain things to happen when certain things are done. There are certain consequences that follow certain deeds. Conformity to the laws of nature means health, disobedience means disease. If we sow hatred we reap bitterness; if we sow kindness we reap sympathy and understanding. Two wrongs never make a right. We reap what we sow. Dr. George Carver was the servant of humanity. When he first decided to try to do something with the soil, his friends told him that that type of soil was unproductive. "It is the only soil I have," he replied, "and it is not unproductive; it is just not used." The reason that there is not more truth and beauty and goodness in the world and in our lives, is that we have not sown the right kind of seed. Let us never forget this law in all our considerations about life. "I will reap just what I sow." That will help us guard against indifference for we cannot trifle with the laws of nature and God. "We sow a thought, we reap an act; we sow an act, we reap a habit; we sow a habit, we reap a character; we sow a character, we reap a destiny. Our world is what we make it." Let us make it worthy of our highest and best. Amen.

Airline Service To Link 7 Cities of Western Oregon

Regular airline service connecting seven Western Oregon cities with Portland and communities throughout Western Washington will be inaugurated this week by West Coast Airlines, according to Herbert A. Munter, airline executive vice president.

West Coast 24-passenger DC-3 airliners, flying twice-daily schedules south from Portland and north from Medford, will carry passengers, air mail and air express shipments to McMinnville, Albany-Corvallis, Eugene and North Bend-Coos Bay, Munter said.

The new service will connect at Portland with airline schedules to Western Washington points, including Aberdeen, Hoquiam, Centralia, Chehalis, Olympia, Seattle and Port Angeles.

At the same time, Munter announced that service to the Washington cities of Everett, Anacortes, Mt. Vernon and Bellingham, final phase of the airline's expansion under its certification from the Civil Aeronautics Board, is expected to begin before the end of the summer.

Additional service to Grants Pass and Roseburg, Munter said, is awaiting completion of airport facilities in those cities adequate to handle larger planes.

The airline, which commenced operations last December, completed one million passenger miles last month without accident.

Photographer and Messenger Jobs Opened to Exams

U. S. Civil Service examinations are available for filling messenger and photographer positions in Washington, D. C., and Maryland and Virginia.

Persons appointed from the messenger examination will receive a salary of $1,690 a year. No experience is necessary to qualify, but all competitors must pass a written test. Sample questions are available. Messenger positions are restricted by law to persons entitled to veteran preference so long as such persons are available.

Persons appointed from the new photographer examination will receive salaries ranging from $2,168 to $3,397 a year. No written test is required. In order to qualify, applicants must have had experience, or a combination of experience and training in photographic work. For positions paying $2,644 and above, part of the experience must have been in one of the options of process photography or general photography.

Applications for the messenger examination will be accepted until further notice from persons entitled to veteran preference. July 29, 1947, is the deadline for applications for the photographer exam.

Further information and application forms may be obtained from the commission's local secretary, M. C. Doyle, at the Roseburg Post Office.

Farm Land Sales Begin to Slow Up

Sale trends of farm lands definitely point downward, not only from the standpoint of volume but in price as well, Ralph L. Strickle, secretary-treasurer of the Douglas County National Farm Loan Association office, said this week.

Peak prices of farm lands, as compiled by the Agriculture Department, were reached last year with an increase of 182 per cent since 1942.

"People are becoming more conscious of high farm loans with anticipation of paying for the farms from produce returns," Strickle said. "Agriculture is generally well set for any depression of the future and is recorded as having generally pulled through the last inflation era by produce profits."

The financial people believe a recession is due, Strickle continued, and if this is true, agriculture is expected to emerge rapidly.

Land loans were reported in Douglas County by Strickle as increasing but farm mortgages are low with two times as many loans being issued as two years ago. The increase in land loans, Strickle explained, is due largely to the great influx of population and money being borrowed to make farm improvements, purchase of machinery, and construction which the war stopped.

Municipal Band Dates Concert at Myrtle Creek

First out-of-town concert by Roseburg's Municipal Band will be given Thursday at Myrtle Creek High School at 8 P. M., Lem Bitner, director, said today.

The band tentatively plans to play every other Thursday night at the Roseburg Library Park and on the alternate weeks at outlying towns of Douglas County, through the summer months.

Band members without transportation to Myrtle Creek Thursday are asked to meet at the Elks Lodge at 7:15 o'clock.

COLLEGES HOLD VETS

Oregon veterans stay in college just as well as non-veterans, and when they do drop out it's more often for financial reasons than for lack of interest in their studies.

This is the dominant impression gained from an informal survey by the Veterans Administration among the state's four biggest colleges, the VA regional office in Medford reported this week.

BOOKED AS DRUNKS

John Edgar Crandall, 62, and Gertrude Sutherland, both of Roseburg, were booked at the county jail Sunday on a charge of drunkenness on a public highway. They had been arrested at 2:20 A.M. by state and city police, Sheriff O. T. Carter reported.

Restaurant Employes Union Names Officers

Election of officers, replacing withdrawn officers, were held last week by Roseburg's Local 293, Hotel and Restaurant Employes and Bartenders International union.

Elected were Teresa Lute, vice-president; Josephine Mentzel, recording secretary, and Bersa Rasmussen, secretary-treasurer and business representative.

Guests attending the meeting included Marge Barnes, business representative of Medford's Local 329; Frank Ashland, Roseburg Central Labor Council president, and James Roberts, Roseburg Teamsters business representative.

Provisions were made at the meeting to set up a new book of by-laws, superceding any former by-laws of the local.
