DAILY DEVOTIONAL

DR. CHARLES A. EDWARDS

We often bear with splendid fortitude the crosses that are forced upon us. But the real test of Christian discipleship comes when we face a cross that we may or may not accept as we chose. We are accepting today many things in good spirit for our country's sake. But what will be our attitude when we are allowed to choose whether we will go without many things in order that we may help feed and clothe the needy of Europe? The people are ravished by war. From old English literature comes the story of a Monk named Martyrius, who having been sent on an errand by the Abbot, came upon a leper by the roadside, who begged the Monk to help him to his hut nearby. Forgetful of the Abbot's orders and of his own personal safety, Martyrius took the man on his shoulder and started back to the monastery. When he reached the monastery gates, the leper alighted, and lo, the Christ stood there and blessed the merciful Monk. It is when a man voluntarily assumes another's burden, not counting the cost, that he finds himself in the very presence of God. "Take up your cross and follow me," said Jesus. Amen.

Visiting Here—Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Melcher of Tarrytown, N. Y., are in Roseburg to visit the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Irving. The Irving family met them in Seattle and accompanied them to Anacortes, Wash., to visit another daughter, Mrs. T. H. Hubbard.

Grandmothers, 88 and 84, On Air Trip Over 2 Oceans

Officials of the British overseas airways said they believed Mrs. Clara MacKenzie, 88, and Mrs. Helen Stoddard, 84, would set a record, since although several octogenarians have flown the Atlantic, none has ever crossed both oceans.

With the two grandmothers were Mrs. MacKenzie's son, Maj. John MacKenzie, and Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Hodge, of Glasgow and their son, Robert, 10.
