"This roadster you say is $800?"
"Yes, $800. It is a 1917 model and sells new for $1650.
"How is it that you can sell this car for so low a figure?"
"The secret of low selling price lies in a low buying cost."
"The car looks to be in excellent shape."
"Yes, we have spent $187 in rebuilding it."
"What have you done to it?"
"We put in a new set of pistons, ground the valves and took up the bearings. Put new bushings in the springs, fixed the upholstery, put on a new top and rebuilt the battery."
"It ought to give me good service now. I believe I will take it if it runs all right. Say do you know they want $1250 for practically the same car down the street?"
